

WRIT OF REPLEVIN FOR CAT

Legal Document Procured for Recovery of an Educated Felina.

OWNERSHIP DISPUTED BY MAN AND WOMAN

Constables Proceed to the Place, but See Every Other Cat in the Neighborhood Save the Right One.

For the first time within the memory of some of Omaha's oldest lawyers a writ of replevin has been obtained in a local justice court for a cat.

The case is known as Robert O. Knox of 304 Georgia avenue, against Mrs. George L. Dennis of 2963 Woolworth avenue, and the hearing has been set for next Tuesday in Justice of the Peace Bachman's court.

The case first broke into the local arena Thursday, when Mr. Knox called at the police station and reported that a neighbor, Mrs. Dennis, had possession of one cat, with white spots and a gray tail, said cat being the property of Mr. Knox.

Knox then filed an action in the justice court and Constables McGinnis and King went to the Dennis home for the cat.

The writ of replevin called for "one cat with a gray tail." King approached the Dennis house from the front, while McGinnis came in from the rear, each with hands ready to pounce on the first cat that came along.

One large black cat jumped out of the cellar and King thought there yet was hope. Another cat explored the writ and made a dive for the alley and into a neighboring yard, with McGinnis in hot pursuit.

A large bull dog took up the cat's cause and McGinnis returned and the constables searched the Dennis house from garret to cellar, but were unable to find the cat.

Mr. Knox says the cat has been educated to perform many tricks and was valued highly. Buster Brown in next Sunday's Bee.
