AFFAIRS AT SOUTH OMAHA

hn Kalagarda is Man Found Dead in Highland Park.

IDENTITY. ESTABLISHED BY FRIENDS

Cause of Death Not Fully Understood, Some People Offering Theory of Suicide and Others Accident.

The identity of the man found dead in Highland park at an early hour Sunday morning was established yesterday. John Kalagarda is the name of the young man, and he has a brother residing at Thirtythird and J streets. Identification was brought about by the brother calling at Brewer's morgue and identifying the remaths. Polish families living in the neighborhood of the Kalagarda dwelling also called at the morgue and identified the body. While no information was to be obtained from the brother, as he does not speak English, neighbors say the young man was 21 years old, had been in this country about a year and had recently been employed as a laborer at the Cudahy

A number of people living in the Parks flats, facing Highland park, told Undertaker Brewer yesterday they were sitting on their porches late, when Kalagarda was seen to approach the electric light located in the south portion of the park. After looking at the light for some little time he was seen going to the pole which controls the guy wires which lower and raise the light and to lower the light almost to the ground. Nothing was thought of this, as the inference was the man was an electric light inspector. The man was seen to go to the light after it had been lowered and touch the wires. He fell over instantly. When those who had witnessed the perfound to be dead and a policeman was of the dead man failed to show any burns which might have been caused by coming in contact with live wires. There is no evidence now that the man had taken posion, as an autopsy has not been held and the chances are that none will be. There was not a scrap of paper or a mark of any kind on the clothing to identify Kalagarda, and his identity was only estab-

While they admit he had no money, he had secured employment and was in fairly good health. me of the Polish neighbors say young Kalagarda was greatly interested in the workings of the telephone and the electric lights, and they think he went to this light in the park to make an investigation.

The brother of the deceased did not express any regret at the death and stated to Mr. Brewer, through an interpreter, that the city would have to care for the remains, as he had no money. Bids Open Tonight.

This evening promises to be a very busy one for the mayor and members of the city council. Bids for the $22,300 refunding bonds and for the sale of bonds for two improvement districts are to be opened. This will take some time, as the expectaion is that there will be plenty of bond ouvers on hand. So many inquiries from buyers have been received that the officials look for some close bidding. Forty electric lights are to be located, but the majority of this work has been done in the committee, so that when the council convenes a report locating the lights at certain intersections will be read and adopted. Then will come the selection of members of the board of registration. Thirty-six members of the board are to be chosen, three for each voting precinct. Each councilman will choose six men for the two precincts in his ward and in this way there will hardly be any hitch. Aside from the featthes mentioned will come the routine busiand the passing of the September pay and the usual run of bills and claims.

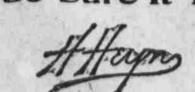

High School Sidewalk Bids. Tonight the Board of Education is to hold a meeting, when bids are to be opened for the laying of permanent sidewalks about the new high school building. These bids were to have been opened a week ago, but owing to the absence of two members the matter was deferred. Tonight all members are expected to be present Monthly reports will be received and the usual routine business transacted. All of the furniture for the new high school building has been received and is being stored until it is needed. The board bought this furniture last March and from present indications it looks as if the building would not be ready for occupancy much before the coming March.

Two Plank Walks. There seems to be considerable comment about the action of city officials in compelling persons living in the outskirts or where permanent sidewalks were ordered, no attention has been paid to the notices sent out. This is especially true of prop. erty owned by non-residents. Sidewalk contractors are laying walks where they get their money at once and are letting go the work where the cost will have to be charged up to the property owners and claims are being filed frequently now for personal injuries alleged to have been caused by defective walks. More of these claims will certainly follow unless the duriell complets the laying of walks in the permanent sidewalk district before

WHEAT ALL COMES AT ONCE Reason Given by Rock Island Official Why Grain Cars Are

Lacking

Regarding the story from Des Moines that the Rock Island is short on cars for the shipment of grain, one of the local officials of the Rock Island said it is undoubt edly true, so far as it implies that there is a shortage of cars used for hauling grain. Regarding the statement that the Rock Island has been crippled by reducing its working force, the official said he was not in a position to speak on the subject, although for obvious reasons he questioned the accuracy of the statement. He said it was not the policy of the road to adopt any course which might have a tendency to impair the operation of its formance reached the light the man was lines and interfere with the handling of its business. The official said: "The Rock Island is just now confronted by a condition similar to that which overuntil yesterday. An inspection of the hands took the western lines when they were congested by the unusual heavy shipments of sheep. The wheat shipments from Oregon are the largest in years, and the company was not prepared for the emergency. We expect to carry this grain as in former Instead of this it is all being shipped east at the same time. We have been inundated with wheat which was delivered to us all at once, and it did not give us chance to get our cars repaired. "The condition are not the same as they were some years ago, and we cannot use the cars we could then. The cars must be in good condition and not loaded beyond their capacity. We have a contract with the Union Pacific to deliver them 360 cars, and this has shortened our supply. Eastern canning goods are delivered at the lakes at the rate of 150 carloads per day. The shipping has been delayed by the pilots' strike, and it closes on the lat of November, so we are rushed for cars at the other end. All these things conspire to reduce the supply of cars and retard the wheat shipments."

HITCHCOCK MAKES DEFENSE

Reply to Charges that Land Swindlers Are Not Being Prosecuted.

THEY HAVE NO FOUNDATION IN FACT

Special Officers Are Pushing the Cases Vigorously, but Meet Obstneles that Require Time to Overcome.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2-Secretary of the Interior Hitchcock tonight gave out the following statement in answer to certain charges regarding the method of conducting the investigation into land frauds on the Pacific const and regarding the steps taken by him to bringing the guilty parties to justice:

taken by him to bringing the guilty parties to justice:

Charges are being made and freely circulated by the opponents of the administration to the effect that the investigation of the land frauds by the Interior department is not being seriously and diligently conducted; that criminal prosecutions connected with the investigation are not being pressed with such vigor as to manifest a determination to bring the guilty parties to speedy justice, and that an air of secrecy pervades the department, making it difficult to obtain information as to the progress and present status of the work.

These charges are utterly without foundation in fact. The leading spirits in the fraudulent transactions brought to light are mostly men who have occupied positions of influence and high standing, both socially and politically, and many of them are men of large wealth. They have thrown many obstacles in the way, which have required time, patience, constant effort, determination and courage on the part of those having charge of the investigation to overcome. They have diligently sought, in season and out of season, to thwart the purpose of this investigation and control its results favorably to themselves.

These difficulties have been successfully met and overcome and the tactics resorted to by the parties criminally involved, and by their friends, have been circumvented and defeated at all points.

While only, about, selections and monthly about, selection to control to the second of the selection of the second of the points.

Men Under Indictment.

While only about eighteen months have elassed since the investigation was commenced the practical results thus far attained are both gratifying and encouraging. They may be summed up as follows:

The indictment in February, 1903, in the District of Columbia of Frederick A. Hyde, John A. Benson and Henry P. Dimond of Sah Francisco, Cal., and Joost Schmeider of Tucson, Ariz, under section 5.440 of the revised statutes for conspiracy to defraud the United States of large quantities of its public lands and the indictments in December, 1803, in the District of Columbia of John N. Benson for bribers of, public officials in connection with such conspiracy.

The leading spirits in this conspiracy are Hyde and Benson, and their scheme to defraud the government was of gignatic proportions. It involved an attempt to secure files to hundreds of thousands of acres of the public lands states and in the territories of Arisona and New Mexico and under the provisions of the acre of congress approved June 4, 1897, in exchange for state school lands states forest reserves established in the states of Callfornia and Oregon. The Illus to these school lands were acquired by sind on behalf of Hyde and Benson in violation of the, laws of said states relating to the disposal of school lands, and in a grossly liegal and fraudulent manner.

The act referred to provides, among other things, that the owner of the lands within a forest reserve may relinquish the same to the United States and select other lands in lieu thereof outside of forest reserves, in exchange for false, Men Under Indictment.

Swindlers Secure Little Land. While hundreds of thousands of acres of public lands were involved in the scheme, only a small portion thereof—less than 40,000 acres, had been patented at the time of the discovery of the fraud by the sepretary of the interior.

The statement then refers to indictments found in the state of Oregon against Horace G. McKinley, Stephen A. D. Puter, Marie L. Ware, Emma L. Watson, Guy Huff, Maude Witt, H. Walgamot, Harry Asa Rayburn, Dallas O'Hara Glen H. Saling, Shelley Jones, Mark Shackleford, Kate James and Henry Meldrum. Continuing, the statement says:

drum. Continuing, the statement says:

In these prosecutions Charles Cunningham, Asa A. Rayburn, Dallas O'Hara, Glen H. Saling and Shelley Jones have pleaded guilty and sentence has been imposed upon all except O'Hara.

The other cases were set for trial at the May term (1994) of the federal court at Portland, Ore., but owing to the fact that one of the principal witnesses for the government had absconded, the cases had to be continued and are now set for trial at the November (1994) term of the court. The absconding witness has been arrested and is now under ball for his appearance at the November term. An able attorney, skilled in the conduct of criminal prosecutions, has been appointed by the government to assist the United States attorney in the trial of these cases and convictions in all of them are confidently expected.

That the charges referred to are in every

That the charges referred to are in every respect without justification in fact or reason can easily be ascertained by anyone who cares to know the truth. The results accomplished are largely shown by the public records of the courts and of the land department and insofar as not thus shown; namely, as to the absolute de-struction of the Hyde-Benson conspiracy and the general breaking up of the fraudulent practices in other sections as herein indicated, the honest seeker for information can have no difficulty in obtaining it by simple inquiry of the officials of the land department or of the indicted parties themselves ..

The show is closed by a Boyd Sunday afternoon and evening in thirty-minute farce by Alice Hutchings, "Bird Center." After making a great hit Harry Watson and Ed Edwards. Parts of in Chicago this fall and coming direct to it are good, but there is a superfluity of only fair-size audiences, principally because Manager Burgess' clientage has not yet appreciated the fact that the new policy of the house is to offer meritorius attractions or none on Sunday. Nevertheless "Bird Center" made a bit. It is unfortunate that the work of John T. McCutcheon is not better known in these parts, for such knowledge helps a great deal in understanding how to accept the broad humor and clever satire of the comedy, which is based on & recent series of pictures. The studies in ambitious but untutored village life in the of many of the lines and situations, too middle west are quite closely followed with particularly delectable staging. The source can be traced back to the McCutcheon nen point. The cast is entirely good and the production is presented with great tention to detail. Once a person gets in sympathy with the semi-satirical vein of fun, it is pretty nearly all laughter. A surpassably mean banker and a proposition of the heart work out a few sober and melodramatic minutes and supply a "Bird Center" is located in western Illi nois and is a small place. "Don't you think you will ever leave Bird Center alive," shouts Riley Peters, the village frolicker, to Gus Figgey of Chicago, while inspired by rage and brandy, because Figgey hat won the girls. "I don't expect to," rejoins the city man. "It was dead when I came, In the first act they have a picnic, with china and foodware strewn about on the stage and how none is broken is a wonder. Mrs. J. Milton Brown, Bird Center's oracle on art, "handpaints" landscapes. Many of the McCutcheon caricatures are immediately recognizable. Act two finds the elite of the village in the throes of a "night in Bohemia," in the photograph studio of J. Milton Brown, Miss Blanche Chapman, as Mrs. Brown appears as Trilby and sings an illustrated song. No more effective blow at the sentimental ballads with the colored pictures on the screen was ever devised. In the last act a great deal of honest fun is supplied through the tipsiness of Mrs. Brown, Mrs. Alonso Withersby, the em press of local society, and Mrs. Smiles Greene, wife of the undertaker. The good women do not know of what they are partaking. Misses Chapman Cooke and Rose are exceptionally clever in this scene. No feature that would incite fastidiousness repels and the women work out the thing excruciatingly well. Why some of the Bird Center girls should be models in stylish dressing, while others are broad exaggerations of the would-like to-be-but-can't, is a problem not solved by the author. Neither is there any excuse for the undertaker wearing black gloves, and there are a few other places where the paint has been thrown on too thick. Honors in funmaking are well distributed. Of the men, Eugene O'Rourke and Edward J. Connelly are about the best. The women without exception interpret all the humor there is in the comedy in the funniest pos-
