He is the party who has been under suspicion from the start. Miss Flood, who was in the bank at the time of the holdup, stating to the officers that she recognized his voice.

It was learned yesterday that the buggy and team driven by the robber was hired from the Nevins' livery barn in this city Thursday morning by a heavy set woman, supposedly a German. The woman left the barn about noon with the rig. At 1 o'clock the same rig with a man driving it was seen to pass the Child's place about five miles east of the city. This would have given the man ample time to reach Treyner by 2:30 o'clock at which time the robbery was committed, and not at 2:30 o'clock as first reported,

Word was received by Sheriff Canning early yesterday morning that a buggy and

CO-OPERATES WITH NATIONAL BUREAU

Examining Commission Reports Favorably on Application of a Large Number for Privilege to Practice Law in State.

(From a Staff Correspondent,) DES MOINES, Oct. 7 .- (Special.)-The state executive council today practically ompleted the preparation of the schedules for the taking of the Iowa consus in Junuary next. The council was clothed with authority to prepare these schedules and to arrange for the taking of the census, which, under the constitution, must be taken every ten years by the state and be compiled much the same as the national census. The council completed arrangements for what is believed to be the most complete schedules ever arranged, not Buckley Wunder only in reference to agriculture and kindred Rink industries, but in regard to banking and manufactures and commercial pursuits. Buckley Arrangements were made for the c tion of the state labor bureau with the National Bureau of Statistics to secure a Chamberlain Hazi complete census of manufactures. Special agents will go into every county of the state and make personal investigation and secure the information sought and this will be used jointly by the state and the United States. These agents will be under the supervision of the state labor commissioner except in seven counties of the state, where more important work will be done. In regard to banks and banking an effort will be made to get more information than ever before compiled in a state census. This work of making the collection of statistics will be done through the regular assessors so far as possible and at the time of taking the annual assessment of property.

The new state warehouse is now for the first time made use of and there is some effort at systematizing the handling of state documents.

Instructs the Depuites.

The report of H. M. Pickel, chief off inspector for Iowa, on the duties of the deputy oil inspectors and helpers throughout the sinte was adopted by the state officials today, and the deputies now enter upon the work. In addition to the fifteen district inspectors there are about thirty of the counties located at towns where it is inconvenient for the regular inspectors to reach or too expensive by reason of ong distances. The salaries of the various inspectors and helpers was fixed and arrangements made for putting into force for the first time the new law regulating these officials.

Y/E have made this a special Thanksgiving Number on our own account -a sort of housewarming to be shared by all the members of The Delineator Family in celebration of our being at last comfortably settled in our new building-the biggest one in the world occupied exclusively by any publishing house and its interests.

We have described and pictured some of its unique features, and have told how the Butterick business came to be so great, and how fashions become fashionable, and how the magazine is made.

This is all very interesting.

The Winter fashions find their fullest expression this month. Scores of them are shown in colors and in half-tone-an array to tempt and fascinate every woman who cares for her attire. The Winter hats are here, too, both for those who buy and for those who trim their own.

In the personal beauty paper this month Dr. Murray considers the subject of dress in connection with "Her" beauty, and the question is treated as thoroughly and practically as are all in this notable series.

W. Jay Mills contributes a notable article on New York Society fifty years ago, illustrated by photographs, hitherto unpublished, of people who have made and are still making the history of our greatest city.

The household departments continue, as usual, to make the month's cares lighter in the million homes of The Delineator Family.
