WANTED-MALE HELP

Practical Practice

The way to learn to do a thing is to do it. The way to learn to conduct a business is to conduct one.

Practice makes perfect-and also makes theory look like coin of very small denomination

The Business Course at Boyles College begins in actual practice-continues in actual practice-ends in actual practice. We spent over $15,000 equipping our college with splendidly equipped separate offices applying to Transportation, Retail, Wholesale, Commission and Banking. Each office is supplied with the books, including all necessary appurtenances for ordinary ledger work, loose-leaf ledger system, card ledger system, and all the other modern office time-saving devices (including saventy standard make typewriters) that are used in similar offices in the business world. Those books must be kent, the transactions pertaining to the business of each office nade and the entire business of each office onducted by the Boyles College student The student knows what he is doing, why he is doing it and what would happen if he made a mistake while doing it. He must figure out things for himself. He is in susiness for himself. If he runs across a 'snag', he won't find "the answer in the back of the book". He is taught to rely on himself. This shows self-confidence and self-confidence blossoms out in success

Gregg Shorthand

When court reporters who have been writing an "old time" system for years change to Gregg, it certainly argues the superiority of this system. It requires but little more than half the time to learn it. Our students hold positions where as many as four writing other systems have failed. Business men express themselves as surprised at the proficiency of our graduates. FOR VERY GOOD REASONS the N. B. C. is the only school in Omaha that is making a specialty of this system.

Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. Membership Free.

Every student who takes out a full term scholarship is given a year's membership in one of the above associations without extra charge. No such proposition was ever made before by any institution. The value of this membership to a student can scarcely be computed. To be a member of the Y. M. C. A. or Y. W. C. A. means character, culture and refinement.

Positions for Our Graduates We do not place more students in posi-tions "than ALL other Omaha schools," but those we do place are qualified to HOLD their jobs. Our records show that over 95 per cent are assisted to positions. We had four calls in one day alone last
