WHISKY OUTDOES THE TRAIN

Liquer Kills Man Who is Able to Lose Both Legs and Live.

SUCH IS STATEMENT OF THE SURGEONS

East Few Days of Charles Anderson's Life Filled with Tragic Circumstances-Man Dies at Hospital.

The last few days of the life of Charles Anderson, Thirteenth and Harney streets, were filled with strange tragedy. The man had both legs cut off by a train and lay on the tracks two and a half hours before he was aware of the horrible accident. He had been drunk, so those who examined his case reported, and all he knew when found, limbless, was that he was "sick at the stomach." Then, on top of this strange freak of nature, the man suc. cumbed, not to the accident, according to the statement of the attending physicians, but, strangely enough, to the effects of the drink he had taken and which so terribly atimulated his system as to render him oblivious to killing pain and unconscious to the loss of both legs.

"Delirium tremens" Is the cause of death. This was the surprising declaration of the surgeons who attended Anderson at St. Joseph's hospital, where he died.

"He could have survived the accident," it was said, "but the effects of the liquor, never. He was getting along splendidly, so far as the loss of his legs was concerned."

Lives Four Days. Anderson sustained the loss of both legs on the railroad tracks at Thirteenth and Jones streets last Thursday morning and dled at 6 yesterday morning. He was an employ at the Swift packing plant in South Omaha and it is not known yet what relatives, if any, he had in Omaha.

Anderson was found about 5:30 last Thursday morning by D. W. Clark and Edward Schultz on the tracks, with both lega cut off below the knees and also suffering from the effects of a spree, so it was reported. When the two men approached Anderson he told them he was sick at the stomach, but did not know his legs had been cut off. According to reports of trains passing Anderson laid where he was found at least two and a half hours. Arrangements for Anderson's funeral have not yet been made. Having no known relatives in Omaha, his remains will be taken to Heafey & Heafy's undertaking parlors.

In view of the annual meeting at Salt Lake City today of the Union Pacific directors, that ancient rumor of Governor B. B. Odell's succeeding to the presidency of the Union Pacific once more is revamped. But as usual it receives little credence in the west, and particularly at Union Paclfic headquarters. The rumor traverses much the same ground as in bygone years, saying the governor of New York, who is a close personal friend of President Harriman; will be placed in financial charge as president, with his offices in New York, thus relieving Mr. Harriman of much of the intricate responsibilities resting upon him, who is not physically vigorous. When this rumor was in circulation some two years ago, about the time Governor Odell was making a tour of the Harriman system, both he and Mr. Harriman were given opportunties for confirming it, but they signally failed to do so, both maintaining there was positively no truth to the
