CREIGHTON TEAM IN GOOD FORM

Local Men Hope to Give Cornhuskers Hard Run.

Creighton football fans and their scores of friends are determined to give the giants from the University of Nebraska a mighty good time Saturday, and if the Lincoln fellows win, the local crowd says it must be done by hard work. It is evident from the practice games that Creighton is doing that team is in good trim and ought to be able to put up strong football, even against formidable opponents. Aside from the determination of the players, the rooters are filled with enthusiasm over the company conflict which takes place Saturday afternoon at Vinton street park. It is believed the largest crowd that has attended a football game in Omaha for many a day will be at the one. Plans are on foot for parties to go out and root for the Omaha team. Several talky parties are being organized and that element of society that enjoys the sports promises to be well represented on this occasion. At any rate, the big game will not go by for lonesome while the thing is in progress if the local crowd can avoid it. Pa Rourke is promised a regular eleven-inning game crowd for his park.
