SIXTEENTH STREET PAVING Another Effort to Get the Work Under Way

May Fail.

DEFECT IN THE ORDINANCE IS FATAL

City Attorney Has Plan to Cure Defect but Neither Mayor Nor Clerk is Inclined to Fall In with Him.

After trying all afternoon to hold a special meeting six fembers of the city ocil were rounded up at 8 o'clock last night by City Clerk Elbourn with the ansistance of two stalwart policemen. The meeting was for starting the straightening out of technical kinks in the Sixteenth street repaying proceedings, which have become equalderably muddled by the fallthe street improved, and giving the property owners thirty days in which to designate material. The spirit and letter of nance had not been enacted. As a result | walt and Joseph Barker. the contract and bond for the repaving though the cold days that are not good for asphalt laying are coming on, and the gas company has made numerous fresh is left of the old street mooring.

What Wright Thinks. City Attorney Wright on his return from New York figured out that the ordinance designating material could be repealed, the missing ordinance introduced, the petition declaring for asphalt withdrawn, the repeated ordinance repassed and CEMETERY MAY SELL ITS LOTS everything gotten in shape for action by the end of the week, provided the council worked hard and did not stint itself on special meetings. A resolution authorising the cierk to deliver the petition to the property owners to enable them to refile it, was adopted at the special meeting, and a beginning made on the ordinance manipulation.

The scheme struck a snag in City Clerk Elbourn that had not altogether been removed last night. Mr. Elbourn politely firmly insisted that no petition of the character can be withdrawn after once having been filed with him. He upheld this view strenuously, despite declarations from Assistant City Attorney Herdman that the mayor and council are masters of the city records and can burn them if please. Mr. Wright said the withdrawal would be perfectly proper, inas-much as the law applied only to individuals and not to the council and means only such petitions upon which the council

I am as anxious as anyone in Omaha o have the awful condition of this street replaced by new paving," says the mayor. But I must insist that every part of the proceeding be gilt-edged and beyond the attacks of the tax lawyers, who are constantly on the alert for irregularities that will enable property owners to escape paying the levies for special improvements. If an error has been made that cannot be legally made good in time for paving this year, the work must go over, no matter how bad the street is. The charter appears to be squarely against the with-drawal of the petition, and I think I shall

The first night after I washed my face with Cuticura Soap and used Cuticura Ontment and Cuticura Resolvent it changed wonderfully, and continuing the treatment it removed all scales and scabs. From that day I was able to go out, and in a month my face was as clean as ever." THOMAS J. SOTH, 317 Stagg St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

The above letter was received in 1898 and he again writes us Feb. 19, 1903, "I have not been troubled with eczema since."

The agonizing itching and burning of the skin as to ecaema; the frightful scaling, as in paorishis, the loss of hair and crasting of scalp, as in scalied head; the facial disfigurement, as in pimples and ring worm; the awful soffering of infants, and anxiety of wormout parents, as in milk crust, tetter and salt rheum—all demand a runedy of almost superhuman virtues to successfully cope with them. That Inticura Soap, Ointment and Resolvens are such stands proven beyond all doubt. No statement is made regarding them that is not justified by the strongest evidence. The purity and aweetness, the power to afford immediate relief, the certainty of speedy and permanent cure, the absolute safety and great economy have made them the standard skin curse of the civilized world.

YATES RETURNS FROM BOSTON First of Nebranka Delegates to the Episcopal Conference to Come Home.

H. W. Yates, the first of the Nebraska delegates to the triennial general meeting of the Protestant Episcopal church of the world, now in session in Boston, has returned to Omaha, his alternate, P. H. Updike of Harvard, taking his place in the house of deputies.

Mr. Yates is enthusiastic on the importance of this meeting in the government of the great body of the church and its effect on the world in general. There are delegates from all over the world in session. Omaha is represented by Rev. John Williams and Rev. F S. White of St. Andrew's. It may be news to some of ure to pass an ordinance formally ordering Mr. White's friends to know that he has accepted a call from a church in Atchison, leaving another vacant pulpit in Omaha. # Judge Sears Dissolves Restraining Order Which Has Held Prospect Hill. The prospect Hill Cemetery association has finally been empowered by Judge Sears to sell lots in the portions of its tract from which it was enjoined several years ago by Jesse Lowe and other property owners. Judge Sears modified the order some days ago so far as the strip along Parker street was concerned, and today the order dissolving the restraining order for the entire cemetery was filed. The judge takes this action because the city council has recognized certain tracts as belonging to the ceemtery which were in dispute at the first injunction was issued. Also he found no property owners would be injured.

The tariffs on sugar have been disturbed for several months; but the fight reached done and can be done again. I am here a climax two weeks ago, when the Mallory to lay the matter before your city officials steamship lines began to slash the rates, and sincerely hope to interest them in The southern lines between St. Louis and the matter, as I am certain the effort the gulf were forced to follow suit and put in a 20-cent rate to protect themselves ing results."

and the affected jobbers began to look for ome means of relief. Jobbing houses which were caught with a supply of sugar on hand were forced to sell at a loss amounting to $75 per car. This was the situation when word was received that the rate was to be restored. Now there is a prospect that the rate will go still lower, and the western sugar market r uncertain for this reason. The meeting at Chicago means a settlement of the disturbed rates until next season or an in-

In a metaphorical sense there is th street new photos. Don't mistake the place-two- plenty of smoke, but no blaze. The Great Western still has a banner hanging across the sidewalk announcing a rate of $6 for the round trip. The local representatives declare that they are ready to meet any rate made by the other companies, but that the company as yet has no official notice that the rival lines have reduced the rate to $3. All parties to the controversy are resting on their oars and waiting for

The trouble dates back to an invitation received from the mayor of Minneapolis inviting the Ak-Sar-Ben to visit the city. Vhen the Minneapolis Shriners were in the city recently they were entertained by the Ak-Sar-Ben and initiated into the mysteries of the order. The Minneapolis people cared away good impressions of Omaha, and the mayor, who is a Shriner, issued the invitation to have the subjects of Quivers risit his city. A railroad man said:

"The Great Western immediately ounced a rate of $8 and invited the Ak-Sar-Ben to make its line the official road pon the occasion of the visit. The invitaon was viewed with favor at a meeting of he Board of Governors. The Illinois Central has a line running to Minneapolis. The Northwestern has a direct line to Minne apolis. They immediately announced their intention of making a rate of $3. It is not game of freezeout. It is a straight business proposition. Each road is determined to have the business. Each road will make a fight for it and will try to get the business if it has to carry people there and

A representative of the Great Western said:

"A meeting of the Ak-Sar-Ben committee was held at noon and the situation remains unchanged. We have received no official notification that the other lines have reduced the rate to $3, but we are in this thing to stay and we shall meet any rate that the other roads may make."

It was expected that something would result before Wednesday to give definite hape to the situation. It was said this orning by one of the railroad representatives interested in the controversy: "Some understanding may be reached by which the rate will remain at $6. At the present time the rate is for members of he Ak-Sar-Ben only."

It has been reported that a dapper young man giving the name of Joe King made his entre on the local business stage a few days ago and disappeared with quick curtain, red fire and shiver music, leaving a long train of mourners behind him. King, who claimed to be from Denver, represented himself as interested in the promotion of a paper to be published in the interests of Creighton university, so he is said to have told one husiness man. To another he said his father was United States consul at Salvador and that his worthy sire intended to make a priest out of him. King was as versatile as the day is long and is said to have realized on his get-rich-schemes with neatness and dispatch. Joe King Works Well.
