Nicoll TAILOR

W. G. JERREMS, Pres. 209-211 S. 15th Street.

MIGHTY strides have been made in the Tailoring Business—and chiefly by ONE house—NICOLL, THE TAILOR—with large and busy tailoring stores in nearly every principal city in America.

We have earned our big business by simply making first class garments to order at a moderate price—and we are still growing. By pleasing our trade—it returns—and multiplies as it ought—but like all successful originators—we have many imitators. We copy after no one; year after year we have raised the standard of tailoring—higher and higher—with lower and lower prices—till we have brought the price for superior made garments—within the reach of all.

Trousers—$5 to $12 Suits—$20 to $50 Let Nicoll take your measure for new garments today. FRED PAFFENRATH, Mgr.

How Much Do You Know About the Price of a Piano?

The real price we mean—the lowest price for which a piano of any certain make can be sold. Do you know within $50.00 of it? If a piano, said to be worth $400.00, was offered to you for $350.00, would you know that the piano was actually worth the $400.00 or really worth but $350.00? Would you be certain that it was even worth more than $300.00, or possibly $275.00? Do you know enough about piano values to feel safe in buying on that sort of a sliding scale plan? If you do, all right—if not, your safety lines in buying your piano of

COUNTY IMPROVING ROADS
Surveyor's Office Busy Inspecting Steel and Wooden Bridges and New Culverts and Grading.

The county surveyor's office is unusually busy at this time with work on the county roads, much of which must be finished before the ground freezes. The largest piece of work being undertaken by the county is a steel truss bridge 200 feet long over the Elkhorn river at Snyder's ferry. An inspection was made Thursday for the preliminary work, but the ground will not be broken for three or four weeks. The work will then be hurried through. The steel bridge on the Dodge street road at Kruse's mill will be finished in about three weeks. The tubular piling has been sunk and is now being filled with concrete. This bridge is 100 feet long.

An unusual number of culverts is being put in to replace decaying wooden bridges. Two culverts on the Center street road, near Lane siding, have just been finished. One is 125 feet long and 5x4 feet in size. The other is of similar capacity, but only eighty-four feet long. These are over tributaries to the west branch of the Papillion. A sixty-four-foot culvert also has been finished at Elkhorn. Two miles south of Millard a three-foot culvert is under construction and two miles east of Bennington a four-foot culvert is being laid. Contracts are to be let for five more permanent waterways, the largest of these, located at Irvington, being 100 feet long. County Surveyor Edquist is also busy inspecting wooden bridges being put in under a standing contract. There are now in hand small bridges aggregating 15,000 lineal feet of construction. A considerable amount of grading is being done.

WOE IN SMITH FAMILIES
Two Couples by that Familiar Old Name Sever the Ties of Matrimony.

The Smiths are unhappily married. Not all the Smiths, but two couples. Clara E. Smith is the latest of that name to enter a petition for divorce from her husband, Ophir T. Smith is the man and description is given as the cause of the action. These particular Smiths were married at Coia, Ia., in February, 1894. Mrs. Smith asks the custody of the one child. Myrtle M. Smith has been given her divorce. William A. Smith was found guilty of non-support by Judge Sutton and the decree given Mrs. Smith for that reason. Mrs. Smith also is given the care of the minor child, Paul D. Smith. This Smith family was assembled in Glenwood during March, 1902.
