REVENUE LAW WORK IN OTOE

Railroads Are Boosted, While the Farmer Gets Off Easy.

HARRY CULVER TALKS ON PHILIPPINES

Greatest Need of the Islands at Present is Railroads to Allow Development of Their Resources

(From a Staff Correspondent.) LINCOLN, Oct. 28 .- (Special.)-It has been suggested by a prominent republican here that the fusion combination go out into Gioe county and deliver a few spasms on that "iniquitous," "infamous," "railroad," "robber" revenue law. In Otoe county the "iniquitous" combination certainly has a kick on the "iniquitous" revenue law. On the farmer's 16) acres it has only increased the state taxes about 7 per cent, while on the unprotected he'pless railroads that "iniquitous" revenue law has increased taxes for state pur-

Under the old revenue law the railroads in Otoe county only had to pay $4,189.23 in state taxes for last year. The republican legisfature of 1903 enacted an "iniquitous," "in-"robber" revenue measure, which for this fear has increased the taxes paid by these same railroads on the same prop- jured internally and had one of his legs erty to $5,282.08, or made these helpless broken. corporations pay just $1,092.85 more than

Last year the farmer who owned 160 acres of land of average value in Otoe county had to pay taxes to the amount of $10.76. Now under this "iniquitous" revenue law the same farmer this year paid on the same property, state taxes to the amount of $11.76 or all of 74 cents more than he paid last year,

Another helpless class of people that this "iniquitous" republican revenue law touched pretty hard was that class of people who had money stored away and notes and mortgages and such little things. That "iniquitous" revenue law was the means whereby $352,606 more of this class of property was brought under the lime light of the assessor's office than last year, or an increase of just 196 per cent.

Where Baldwin Fell Down. "It is no wonder that Mr. Baldwin and Mr. Berge can get together on a platform pledged to repeal this 'iniquitous revenue " said a prominent republican. "That iniquitous' revenue law hits the railroads and it hits the man with money. Mr. Baldwin represents the railroads and probably Mr. Berge has many clients with considerable money. It is easy for the two to get "The fact of the matter is Mr. Baldwin would not want that 'iniquitous' revenue law repealed had he been able to control the State Board of Equalization that interpreted it. Mr. Baldwin would not want that law repealed now were he sure he could control the next State Board of Equalization. The fact of the matter is that Mr. Baldwin had considerable to do with shaping that law. He furnished the special committee that framed it many suggestions It was Baldwin that scattered the Kansas revenue law among the members of that committee. Under the 'iniquitous' revenue law it would have been possible for the railroads to have paid about as much taxes as they did last year. But a railroad interpretation was not put upon that law.

"It wasn't supposed by Mr. Baldwin that Governor Mickey and his associates would go out of their way and dig up the value of the stocks and bonds of his railroad and consider these in making up the valuation, He did not consider that when outside speakers came before the board with facts braskans who go to El Paso to attend the and figures that these arguments would outweigh those advanced by the railroads, But they did. The members of the State following additional delegates to the con-Board of Equalization, of which Governor Mickey is the chairman, believed that law was enacted to make every dollar's worth of B. F. Krier, M. E. House, H. C. McKibbin, property pay its just share of the burdens John Alexander, F. B. Quinby, Fred Knapof the state, and consequently the railroads ple, J. S. Thomas, A. C. Banks, T. H. got the lion's share of the boost. It is Boyles, Frank Olive, all of Lexington; O. right that they should and it is perfectly W. Bickett, P. Maginnis, James Kinney, natural that Baldwin should now oppose all of Kimbell; T. L. Doherty of Loomis

Philippines Want Railroads.

Harry H. Culver, special agent of the Philippine customs service, accompanied by Mrs. Culver, after spending three years in the Orient, has returned to Nebraska and is now visiting with the family of his father, Adjutant General J. H. Culver, in this city. Mr. Culver's connection with the Manila Times prior to entering the government service in Manila has given him a wide acquaintance with Philippine affairs and a thorough knowledge of the conditions as they actually exist in our new possessions. In an interview before he left for the east last night, Mr. Culver gave an interesting outline of Manila affairs in general and laid particular stress upon what seems to be the popular sentiment prevailing in the islands today, and that is 'the Filipinos do not want independence, for the simple and plain reason," said Mr. Culver, "they can't use it."

"It is my opinion," said Mr. Culver, "that a generation will pass before the Filipinos will have become strong enough to be able to accept independence. When that time comes it is probable they will have become enlightened enough to see the greater advantages in annexation with Uncle Samfection for his new possessions. I cannot fall the inhabitants of the islands in placing them at the mercy of the radical and awless element than to give them independence at this time. "The great cry in the islands today i give us railroads.' This is not confined to the business circles alone, but to the pubic and the administration as well. There are vast regions in the islands where wealth enough could be produced to give the Islands prosperity, but there is only one method of transporting the produce of the soil to the const, and that is by the antiquated carabao carts. Large sections of northern Luzon are covered with noble forests, virgin of any steel, save the ineffective bolo of the native. There are fortunes in these forests, but the trees die and fall without an attempt to save them. In like fashion the hemp and sugar interests of the archipelago are stunted for lack of transportation.

Fatally Hurt in Rusaway. Peter Roman, aged 65, a cripple and an invalid, was thrown from a buggy near his home, west of Agnew, yesterday, and may die as a result of injuries received. Mr. and Mrs. Agnew had returned from a funeral and on arriving at their house Mrs. Agnew got out of the buggy and started to assist her husband to get out. The team became frightened and ran away before Mr. Agnew got out of the buggy. He was thrown to the ground and dragged for a considerable distance. He was badly in-

Commercial Club Not Moving. The discussion of new quarters for the Commercial club came to an end today when the club voted to remain where i is now. The consensus of opinion among the directors is that the club ought to have its own building, and on motion a committee consisting of F. W. Brown, J. C. Harpham, E. C. Strode, W. E. Hardy and Morris Friend was appointed to formulate plans for building one and present it to the board of directors at their next meeting. The popular plan appears to be to form a building company to erect the structure and turn it over to the club on favorable terms. President Miller announced the appoint ment of the following standing committees of the club:

The governor will speak at several other places in the county next week. The high regard in which he is held in this county on account of his well known opposition to railroad rule is bringing him larger and more enthusiastic audiences than any other campaign speaker.
