One Wholesale House Has Insurance Written in New York and Others Threaten to Follow the Same Course,

Local fire insurance agents, when quesloned, assert that there is no trust or combination among the companies they represent, but nevertheless they cannot make a rate until they have consulted H. Bennett, a gentleman who resides in Cedar Rapids, and fixes the rates for the entire state of Iowa. Mr. Bennett, whose salary is defrayed by the different fire insurance companies doing business in the state of Iowa, bears the title of "Rate adjuster of the

The fact that local agents, before doing business have to submit their applications place all its fire insurance in New York with the result that the local agents are out their commission on policies aggregat ing $80,000.

The wholesale house applied to the local agents for a rate and Mr. Bennett was consulted. Mr. Bennett decided that $1 was the lowest rate that the wholesnie house should be offered. This the wholesale house deemed too high and, with but little trouble, succeeded in securing all the insurance it wanted in New York at 75 cents the total for the three days when the reg- Now, when this became known, Mr. Bennett in haste notified the local agents that he had reconsidered the matter and that they be made this year. Incomplete reports could place the risk here at 75 cents. Word from Rate Adjuster Bennett, however, came too late. The policies had been secured in New York and the local men are now

Another large wholesale house in this city which recently expended upwards of $5,000 in installing a "sprinkling system" in its plant for fire protection, and with a view to materially lessening the cost of its insurance is having considerable trouble with the local agents, owing to the fact that Rate Adjuster Bennett will not give his consent to a rate which the wholesale house considers right. It was stated yesterday that this house would, in the event of Mr. Bennett's refusing to give his consent to a lower figure, do as the other wholesale firm had done and place all of
