ARSENIC MINING IN VIRGINIA American No Longer Dependent on Foreign Sources of Supply.

A Virginia farmer, up among the foothills of the Blue Ridge mountains, cleared a new field and pastured his cows there. Before long the animals sickened and one Thinking that perhaps the spring which bubbled from the rocks in apparent purity might be the cause, the farmer caused its waters to be analyzed. It was found that they contained arsenic in such quantities as to render them dangerous to man and beast. This discovery led to an industry, unique, not only in the United States, but in the western hemisphere; that , the mining of arsenic ores and the manufacture of white arsenic, for the supply of which America has hitherto depended entirely upon foreign markets.

Arsenic is mined in Japan, Italy, Portugal, Spain, Germany and England. Its uses are many. As a poison it has been known from very early times. The peasant women of Austria consume large quan-

Lively Day in New York Stocks.

The weakness developed in the wheat pit yesterday was continued again today. There was nothing in the situation other than the certainty of a peaceful solution of the troubles between Russia and England that would break prices. Liverpool considered this sufficient for another deciline. The trend of advices is that a large percentage of the wheat crop has been marketed. It is asserted that Nebraska has already sent forward 50 per cent of its wheat and Minnesota 60 per cent of its wheat and Minnesota 60 per cent of its wheat and winnesota 60 per cent. The demand for cash wheat has subsided considerably in the last few days for the reason that the trend toward lower prices has encouraged would-be buyers to hold back in anticipation of alding the deciline. Quite a large amount of long wheat acquired somewhat above these figures has been coming out for three days, and the fact that the weight of this does not cause more serious declines is a tribute to the strength of its position. In Omaha a sale of No. 2 northern spring wheat was made at $1.10 a bushel, a better price than could have been obtained in almost any other market. No. 3 winter, with a test of 57½ lbs., sold at $1.66. There was not much of a demand for the cash grain and sellers were willing to grant slight concessions in order to induce sales. Omaha needs a few more good buyers as well as elevators, mills, etc.

Prices in the speculative center average 1671½ to lower than the final figures of yesterday. December opened with a loss of ½c, and to this was added another point from $1.12½, yesterday's close, to $1.11. There were few changes from the low point and the closing was weak, with a slight increase in the demand.

Corn prices were about %c lower on good weather and the weakness in wheat.

Arsenic is a useful mineral. It is used in the manufacture of glass, white metal, paris green and a great variety of paints; in printing calico, in making toilet soaps, accommettes and complexion powders; in the manufacture of fireworks and as a constituent for the manufacture of fireworks and as a constituent for the manufacture of fireworks and as a constituent for many alloys. For these and similar purposes between 5,000 and 6,000 tons are input of many alloys. For these and similar purposes between 5,000 and 6,000 tons are imported into the United States every year.

The average value of white arsenic may how be placed at about 485 a ton.

It was only about a year ago that the arsenic ore was discovered in Virginia; then the mountain top round the present mining town of Brinton was an almost unbroken wilderness. The story of its transformation into a busy industrial community is a good illustration of the pluck and industrial supremacy. The mine is located at the summit of a mountain, $2,00 feet above the sea level. The physical difficulties that had to be overcome were enormal pure arsenic. It is found in fissure veins, is cropping out at the surface and extending into the earth for an unknown distance. Twenty distinct veins have been discovered, so that the deposits are extensive enough to the supply the world's demands for an indefinite period.

From the time when the ore enters the

It is carried along from point to point by automatic arrangements through each process of manufacture. The impalpable dust and poisonous gases generated are as o dangerous that the atmosphere of the plant has to be kept pure by artificial means. As a further precaution the works are provided with hot and cold baths, of which the men are required to make use as soon as their daily task is completed.

At the present time the output is three tons of pure white arsenic a day. When one stops to think of them, these figures contain some startling possibilities. The output for four days would furnish a fatal

In the wheat pit here the speech of the British premier regarding Anglo-Russian affairs seemed to effectually dispel all apprehension of hostilities between Great Britain and Russia.
