HOWELL ONLY BY PETITION

Reputed Candidate Cannot Get on Ticket as Republican.

DECISION OF DISTRICT JUDGE DAY

Act of Last Legislature Authorized by Waterlogged Statesman Gets Benefit of the Australian Ballot System.

For Members of the Water Board--Vote for two.

C. P. Weller, Republican
A. H. Hipple, Democrat
R. B. Howell, By petition

This is the form of the official and sample ballots relating to the nominees for water commissioner, as fixed by the decision of Judge Day of the district court, which sustains the decision of City Clerk Elbourn and overrules the attempt of R. B. Howell to foist himself on the ticket as a republican. Judge Day gave the ruling yesterday. The decision does away with the printed instruction on the ballot to vote for one democrat and one republican.

In giving his decision Judge Day reviewed the form of the proceeding, saying the relation held it unfair to have the ballot arranged as City Clerk Elbourn had arranged it, which gave the direction "Vote for one republican and one democrat," and under it the name of Weller, republican; Hipple, democrat, and Howell, by petition. The judge said the opposition had said under the law Howell could have no place on the ballot. He took up this question first, as on it rested the other question.

The legislature of 1903 had created an act forming a water board, which, it was urged, gave a right to only the republican and democratic parties to have a candidate on the ballot. It had been urged further this candidate must be the regular nominee of the party. The judge held this was too narrow a construction of the law. He said the water board act must be construed in relation to the general provision of the Australian ballot law.

By cutting off of the ballot the words "one republican and one democrat," leaving the direction, "vote for two," Howell's chances are admitted to be even more remote than before he pressed his case to a decision, and Howell himself is said to have taken this view of it.

CITY IMPROVEMENTS ASKED

Grading and Street Opening Burden of Plea from New Club on Outskirts.

Residents of Newport and Belvidere additions, lying northwest of old Fort Omaha, have formed an improvement club and asked the city council for improvements in the way of opening and grading streets. The club, in a communication, declares that north of Curtis avenue, between Thirtieth and Thirty-sixth streets, not a thoroughfare is possible, leaving many homes isolated and inaccessible, and necessitating the payment of extra charges for the delivery of fuel and merchandise. It is declared also that property has depreciated in value by the condition, that the residents have paid much money into the city treasury without receiving any benefit, and a demand is made for immediate results. Among other things wanted is the opening and grading of Ida street from Thirtieth to Thirty-ninth, and the grading of Curtis avenue from Thirtieth street to the Jewish cemetery. The community is just inside the city limits. The petition has been referred to the city engineer for a report.

JOHN JOHNSONS EVERYWHERE

Forty Men of that Name Ready to Claim Heirship of Dead "Brother."

There is "too much Johnson" in Omaha for Officer Devereese of the police station. Officer Devereese was given a letter by Chief of Police Donahue and told to find John Johnson, referred to in the epistle written by the chief of police at Seattle. Mr. Devereese did not think there were as many people in the city as the number of John Johnsons he has already met since he started on his quest. With large patches of gloom on his face and the assistance of the daily newspapers in finding the right John Johnson.

The letter contains the information that Albert Johnson died at Seattle October 4, leaving an estate valued at $1,500. The next of kin is believed to be a brother, John Johnson, who is said to have lived in Omaha six years ago and thought to be here now. The Omaha Johnson held some public office or was a policeman, the letter states.

Officer Devereese called on about forty John Johnsons in all and was surprised to learn of the number of Albert Johnsons in the world and how many had resided in Seattle. While some called on were not sure they had brothers by the name of Albert, yet they remembered, after some cogitating, that their mother had told them of "Uncle Albert" or "Cousin Albert," or other Alberts in the family. So the longer Devereese traveled the grayer became his hair until by the time he returned to the station he was quite an old man.

At one house John Johnson was going to set the dog on Devereese, who was in citizen's clothes, but when the officer explained his mission the rude canine was told to lay down and the policeman asked in to have some lunch.

The police records do not show a John Johnson having been on the force in recent years and no public official of that name could be recalled.

URCHINS THROW AT PEDDLERS

Boys Misconduct Attracts Attention of Police Who Will Take Hand in Affairs.

In view of the many complaints received in the last few days from peddlers, who say they are being stoned and molested by boys throughout the city, Chief of Police Donahue has issued special instructions to the patrolmen to maintain a vigilance and arrest all such offenders.

"The complaints," says the chief, "have come from all parts of the city and give the impression that the boys have started a crusade against the peddlers. One peddler was struck on the face and injured."

GOSSIP OF THE POLITICIANS

One Republican West of McCook Opposing Governor Mickey.

STATE COMMITTEE CLOSING CLEAN FIGHT

World-Herald Fakes and Roorbacks Nailed Fast as Ground Out, but Bakery Still Continues to Grind.

At republican state headquarters the final letters to committeemen and the rank and file are being sent out; the large force of young women which has been at work during the campaign has been greatly reduced, and a general feeling that success will grace the republican cause all the way down the ticket obtains.

A. C. Wright, one of Chairman Burgess' assistants, is just back from a trip through the southwest part of the state. He says he found but one republican working against Governor Mickey west of McCook. "The main cry of the opposition in this campaign has been the alleged unpopularity of Governor Mickey," said one of the men at state headquarters. "It is easy to understand how such an abstract proposition can be enlarged upon and exaggerated. The woes of disappointed office seekers were seized with avidity and every art of malicious slander resorted to in order to defeat the governor. But his honest, business-like administration has been good enough to stand out sturdily against the malignancy of his traducers. Our information shows the voting public has been disgusted with the attacks made upon Governor Mickey because he is a Christian and not afraid to confess it and has refused to believe the cry of 'hypocrite' and 'money shark' raised against him by irresponsible persons and papers. The cartoons vilifying the governor by representing him with a halo of piety have made many votes, as our letters attest. As is usual in such cases of malicious personal attacks, they have worn themselves out and eaten out their own false stings."

In one of the last letters being sent out the republican state committee says: Remember the Nebraska republican who trades a vote for governor, or any other office, for a vote for Roosevelt simply gives something for nothing. Roosevelt already has many thousands more votes than he will need in this state. If you really wish to keep Bryan out of the senate vote for your legislative candidate. That is the way to support Roosevelt. Get the vote out.

In another circular the committee says: In Nebraska a campaign cannot be won by practicing falsehood and deceit. The opposition may be able to make a great noise that way and may cheer each other with thrilling prevarications about the conditions in their respective localities, but that will not elect one of their candidates.

The republican campaign managers have no occasion to descend to the level of their opponents. The plain truth about conditions in this state and nation is the only basis for a successful campaign. The facts and figures constitute a mighty weapon in favor of republican success. We have contented ourselves with refuting the charges of our opponents by the facts and figures in the rudiments of revenue legislation, leaving slander and calumny to be the work of those who will not do better.

The result now depends upon the rank and file. In the vulgar parlance, "it is up to you." Keep on the alert, nail the campaign. Let us see you, assist your county chairman in every possible way and devote all of your spare time to persuasion work from now until the polls are closed. Get every republican vote in your precinct into the box.

"Look out for the annual crop of falsehoods and roorbacks in the World-Herald now. Less than a week remains until election now and you may expect them to fall thick and fast," exclaimed an experienced republican politician. "The story about slanders of money being 'on tap' at republican headquarters is just a fake to send the leg-pullers around and cover up the tracks of the democratic bootlickers. The fakes slipped a cog when he described Mr. Roosevelt as handing out the dough on Monday, because, to my knowledge, Mr. Roosevelt left for Chicago Sunday night and did not get back until Tuesday, and must have been at least 500 miles away from the alleged scene of action.

"If the water works is putting up any money to help out the city, it is to be discovered. It put up nothing to beat the legislature two years ago, or to fight his water purchase bill, nor did it turn a hand to keep him off the water board when the vacancy occurred. The money that is being put up to influence the water board election is coming from President Nash's electric lighting company, which is depending upon Howell to beat municipal light bonds for them.

"The story about the attempted registration by republicans at South Omaha of strike breakers who have been in the state long enough to vote is another piece of raising dust. The chances are, if past experience is to be reckoned with, that the democrats have come up to poll a lot of illegal strike breakers' votes for the democratic candidates and are accusing the republicans of what they intend to do themselves just to distract attention. As I said before, look out for yelps about colonizers, repeaters, barrels of money and all sorts of hogies in the democratic organ from now on.

There will be a meeting of the Fifth Ward Republican club at Irving hall, 2512 Corby street, Friday at 8 p. m. Governor Mickey, John L. Kennedy, John P. Breen and other speakers will address the audience.

Charley Sloan, vice-chairman of the state republican committee, stopped off in Omaha between trains.

"I have been making a thorough canvass of certain sections of the state," said Mr. Sloan, "and find the most encouraging conditions for the entire republican ticket. Governor Mickey has gained remarkably, especially during the last week and he will continue to gain until election day when he will be re-elected by a large margin. The republicans over the state have awakened to the importance of hustling for the governor and all have their coats off now. The one noticeable feature everywhere is the perfect unanimity of sentiment for Governor Mickey and the rest of the ticket."

A rally of colored republicans will be held at Peterson hall, Twenty-fourth and Burdette streets this evening, November 3. The speakers will be John L. Kennedy, H. V. Plummer, ex-commander of the Ninth United States cavalry, Rev. Messrs. Bingham and Pope. Several others of the republican candidates also will speak. Women are asked to be present at the meeting. Music by the colored Knights of Pythias band.

NONE OF YOUR GAS FOR KEELY

No Such Paves as That Overcomes Soon Companion of John Barleycorn.

"There is a man dying up here from inhaling gas," were the words passed over the wire to Desk Sergeant Hovey at the police station at noon.

"Where is the man?" asked the sergeant.

"At Fifteenth and Cass streets."

"What is the matter with him?"

"He inhaled some of the gas where they are fixing the street here."

The police ambulance responded in a hurry and on arriving at the scene Sergeant Sigwart found "Shorty" Kelly on the faded awning of Jefferson square suffering from alcoholic asphyxia. Kelly promptly repudiated the rumor that he had been near any gas and told what he would do to the police department for disturbing his repose on the public square.
