Clerk of the Court. County Recorder and One Member Board of Supervisors.

After a careful and thorough canvass of the county, I see no reason why Potta-wattamie county should not give President Roosevelt a plurality of from 1.500 to 1.800. Candidates on the county theket will all be elected by pluralities ranging from 600 to 1.200. While the campaign has been a quiet one, good strong work has been done by the republican candidates and nothing now remains but to count the votes and estimate the pluralities. B WRIGHT. Chairman Republican County Central Com-mittee.

With the close of one of the quietest campaigns in the history of Pottawattamle ounty there seems no doubt but that the ntire republican county ticket will be elected by good safe majoritles. Indications are that Roosevelt will have anywhere from 1,000 to 1,500 plurality in the county although Chairman Wright is optimistic enough to place it at possibly 1,500. National Committeeman Ernest E. Hart, who has made a careful canvass of the situation in this county, places Roosevelt's plurality at well over 1,000 and is confident of the election of the entire republican county

Argument Ends in a Fight.

T. Heddleston was arrested at W. o'clock Sunday morning on a warrant issued from Justice Carson's court. He is charged with assaulting A. Horton, a farmer living on the outskirts of the city; The assault is alleged to have been committed Saturday evening and, according to Horton's story, he essayed the role of peacemaker between Heddleston and a friend who were fighting, when Heddleston turned on him and gave him a sound drubbing. This Heddleston denies and he claims that he and a friend were engaged in an argument, when Horton interfered and started to pull off his cont, offering to do whatever fighting, was needed. When Horton started to take off his cost Heddieston said he thought it was time for him to show Horton that he was somewhat of a fighter himself and Horton's appearance when he called at police headquarters demonstrated that Heddleston had made good his assortion.

When Heddleston was taken into cus tody, this little son accompanied him to the city jall and cried bitterly when he was not permitted to be locked up with his father. The little fellow, however, hustled out and in a short while had secured a bondsman for his father and had the satisfaction of accompanying him home. Judge Scott will arbitrate the case in police court this morning.

For hair-raising rides it certainly will be by the friends of the governor in beat anything I had ever experienced up to the district. While republicans are very that time.

"But on the return trip we had one even It is believed here the district will be more thrilling. There were seven on the close stage and all were drunk except another man and myself. The keeper of a saloon at one of the stations started out after us in a light rig and succeeded in passing the stage. This feat hurt the professional pride of our driver and he watched for a chance to get ahead again. "He saw it when we came to a place where the road had been built around a deep canyon. The saloon keeper kept on the road and the stage driver cut across the canyon at breakneck speed. When the saloon keeper saw what was going on he whipped his own horses in a run. It was plain that when at the point of the moun tain either the stage must go fato the river or the saloon man's rig must go up the mountainside. "As the stage had the better of the argument in weight and strength the other team took to the mountainside. The saloon keeper's buggy was smashed to pleces and he and his companion were thrown out on the jagged rocks.
