ADJOURNMENT IN TURNER CASE

State Witnesses Not on Hand When Wanted to Testify.

An early adjournment was taken yesterday in the trial of Robert Turner, the negro charged with the murder of George Chilson, white, owing to the state running out of witnesses. It is expected that the state will complete the introduction of its direct evidence this morning. The crossexamination of L. Buchanan, the conductor of the car on which the shooting took place, and who was on the stand when court adjourned Thursday evening, was completed at the morning session and following him six other witnesses were examined by the state.

The principal witness of the day was Dr. D. Macrae, sr., who operated on Chilson at the Woman's Christian Association hospital immediately following the shoot ing. His testimony was to the effect that the shot must have been fired at very close range, as the wound was not only badly burned by the powder to a considerable depth, but was of a torn character such as is caused by the explosion of the powder and not such as would have been the result had the bullet been fired from a few feet distance. Dr. Macrae's evidence was in corroboration of the witnesses who testified that Turner fired the shot while on the car and only about two feet from Chilson, instead of from the ground and short distance from the car, as testified

Gordon Sanders, a passenger on the car and eye-witness of the shooting, testified that when Turner fired the shot he was standing on the car and close up to Chilson. Thomas Richardson, who was then serving as a special policeman at Cut-Off and who was standing on the rear platform of the car, testified that he did not see the in front of him, but to the best of his belief Turner was standing on the ground when he fired. As to this, however, he was not positive. Richardson told of starting in pursuit of the negroes after the Turner returned his fire and he then relinquished the chase. Charles Danewood, conductor of a west- stray dog supposed to be mad.

Grocers Come in May. R. H. Huntington and R. E. Daniels, who represented the Council Bluffs Retail Grocers' and Butchers' association at the meeting in Des Moines Thursday of the executive committee of the State Re all Grocers' association and who secured for this city the annual meeting of the organization in 1935, arrived home yesterday afternoon in addition to securing the meeting of the state association the Councii Eluff's representatives succeeded in nducing the executive committee to change the date of the meeting from February to May. The meeting will be held May 9, 10 and 11 and this will give the local association a much better chance of entertaining the visitors, as the weather in May will be more favorable for such a purpos. In May it is expected that the weather will be favorable enough to permit of the visitors being driven around the city and to the parks and other points of interest, as well as enjoying a trip to Lake Manawa.

The meeting was not secured for Council Bluffs without a strong fight, as other cities were in the field for it. Cedar Rapids made a strong pull and was represented by a strong delegation in Des Moines. When, however, the committee decided on Council Bluffs the representatives from Cedar Rapids were among the first to congratulate Messrs. Huntington and Daniels and car full of delegates to the mee.ing.

DES MOINES, Nov. 11 .- (Special.)-Final nofficial figures were obtained today on the vote for president in Iowa, every county having been heard from on the republican two to one for Judge Parker. The total vote for Roosevelt was 231,570 and that for Parker 165,559, which gave Roosevelt a plufor Watson 1.701, but these figures will be increased by the full reports on these portions of the ticket. The returns on the head of the two leading tickets will be changed but very little. The total vote of the state is therefore a little more than it was four years ago.

Estimate of Corn Crop.

While final returns have not yet been received from the crops of Iowa the estimate of Director Sage of the Iowa weather and crop bureau to the effect that the 9,000,000 acres of lowa corn will produce about 200,-000,000 bushels, worth $120,000,000, will not be changed until the crop is gathered, if at all. There has been great exaggeration about the corn yield in Iowa," said Mr. Sage. "The tendency is always to exaggerate. The fact is that the crop is large and yet many individual farmers are dissatisfied with their own fields. They expect too much when they figure on a big crop. The average yield of corn is smaller than they count upon. But this year many fields go above the average. I think that Pottawattamie county will be the banner county this year, from all the reports I have obtained, and that it will show a total crop of over $,000,000 bushels in that one county alone. But there are many other places in the state where the reports show exceptionally well."

The final figures are not given until in December. The farmers of Iowa have been slow to get into their fields because the weather has been warm and because the corn was slow in maturing. In some places there is fear that the corn will be soft and the farmers will not put it in the cribs unti the cold weather arrives.

Lake Bed Hearings in Iowa.

The board obtained a record of 3,300 cases reported as having been treated in Iowa last year by 1,000 physicians. Of Charities these it was found that there were about 500 more females than males, that twothirds of the cases were of persons with indoor occupations, and nearly one-third were among foreign-born persons. The board estimates the total number of cases in Iowa at 7,500. The facts are being gathered preliminary to a report to the legislature on the advisability of a state

Cabinet Retirement Rumors. Much credence is placed here in reports emanating from the east that one or both of the Iowa members of the cabinet of President Roosevelt may retire at the close of the present term. In the case of Secretary Wilson it has been felt for some time that, while the department has been admirably managed, the president would prefer a younger man in the cabinet at that place; while in the case of Secretary Shaw it has been a matter of common rumor for some time that the president and his secretary of the treasury have not been in full accord as to policies for some time. However, nothing definite is known, and it is regarded as certain that Iowa will have at least one member in the next cabinet.
