

GRAIN AND PRODUCE MARKET

Covering of Shorts Brings Sharp Advances in Wheat Futures.

GENERAL INFLUENCES OF BEARISH TENOR

Corn Also Higher, Cash Market Steady—Future Trading—Gossip of the Pitts and Iron of the Wall Street.

With the opening of the speculative markets there was a decided change of front.

Due to any change in conditions, but to the natural reaction after the weakness of yesterday, when Armour & Co. feeding the Chicago market with all the December and May wheat at any old price.

The situation is admittedly not so bright as it was a few days ago, but the pit and a long line of shorts were put out.

The corn market sympathized with wheat and was bought on a scale of 100,000 bushels, advancing to 49 1/2c for December, reacting to 49c bid. May sold to 50c, an advance of 1/2c and closed steady.

The oats market was rather quiet and firm and about 1/2c advance. The price of provisions was strong and higher all around.
