The visitors outweigh the Cornhuskers, but the advantage is deemed so slight that it is practically a toss up as o which will win. Physical Director Huff, who is in charge of the visiting squad, admits that the Illinois are in a fine trim for the fray, while Booth makes the same confession for Nebraska.

The Illinois team is rated by the critics as one of the best in the west, second only to Minnesota and Michigan, and for this reason Booth wishes very much for the victory, as it will demonstrate that foot ball in the Missouri valley is fully on a par with that played by the teams in the Big Nine. Nebraska's game fight four weeks ago with Minnesota contributed greatly toward this conclusion, but if the Cornhuskers can humble the Illinois team tomorrow the equality between the two sections would be still more firmly estab-

Fitzpatrick defended himself momentarily without returning a blow, but finally cut loose and again floored the Cincinnatian.
