SHEET-There were a few cars of sheep reported this morning, but the bulk of them were feeders, which sold at fully seasy pries. There were three cars of lambs included in the receipts, but they were late in arriving, and ewing to its being Saturday packers were not very auxlous for them, as there were not enough killers in a ght to pay packers to handle them today.

For the week receipts have been very light, there being a decrease as cumpared with hist week of about 2.00 head and as compared with hist week of about 2.00 head and as compared with the same week of last year the decrease is about 2.00 head. In other words, the receipts this week have been less than half as harge as they were a words, the receipts this week have been less than half as have as they were a year ago.

In view of the light receipts and liberal demand the market has ruled active and strong all the week and closing prices are about legisler higher on all destrable grades of both fat sheep and lambs. Quite a large proportion of the receipts have been on feed for a short time, but unless they are choice they command just about the same prices as choice western rangers.

The demand for feeders has been active all the week and, in fact, in excess of the supply and prices on anything at all desirable are surfely logic higher.

THE CONTRIBUTORS No more distinguished company of Contributors has ever appeared in a Christmas magazine than those in the DECEMBER METROPOLITAN

W. A. Fraser contributes a | Richard Le Gallienne story so strong, and so remarkable for its originality and interest, that it was voted the $500 prize in a story-contest open to all writers.

Joel Chandler Harris has an Uncle Remusstory, as good as any he has ever written.

E. S. Martin treats sympathetically and happily of "Children and the Christmas time."

Alfred Henry Lewis sums up, and comments upon, the events of world-interest during the past few weeks. This is done in an illustrated review.

Thomas Nelson Page contributes a charming article in which he shows us a quaint old neighborhood in Virginia.

writes a Christmas story which he calls, in memory of youthful days, "Once upon a Time."

20 pages of the issue are devoted to The Stage at Holiday Time. Fully illustrated with over fifty pictures of stage celebrities of the day.

The authors of "The Lightning Conductor" continue their mile a minute story,- The Princess Passes."

Jules Guérin, the wellknown illustrator, has provided some marvelous colored pictures, illustrating John Corbin's
"A Boy's-Eye View of the Circus." Something of the fun that we have all had at the circus, in younger days, will return to us on reading this article.

Other short stories and special articles are by Carolyn Wells, Oliver Herford, Broughton Brandenburg, Charles G. D. Roberts, Theodosia Garrison and Clinton Scollard. These articles complete a magazine brimming with interest and Christmas cheer
