

MESSAGE OF THE PRESIDENT

Congress Listens to Communication from the Nation's Executive.

PROSPEROUS CONDITION OF OUR COUNTRY

Peace at Home and Abroad the Result of the Policy Adopted by the Leaders of the Great Republican Party.

(Continued from Page One.)

law should be amended and strengthened. Wherever the national government has power there should be a stringent employer's liability law, which should apply to the government itself where the government is a matter of government.

Medals of Honor. The government has recognized heroism upon the water, and bestows medals of honor upon those persons who by extreme and heroic valor have saved the lives of others.

More Important Than Laws. Yet we must never forget the determining factor in every kind of work, of head or hand, must be the man's own good sense, courage and initiative.

Prevention of Railroad Accidents. The ever-increasing casualty list upon our railroads is a matter of grave concern, and urgently calls for action by the government.

The safety appliance law, as amended by the act of March 2, 1908, has proved beneficial to railway employees and in order that its provisions may be more effectively enforced.

Government Employees and Unions. There is no objection to employees of the government forming or belonging to unions; but the government can neither discriminate for nor discriminate against men who are in its employment.

Bureau of Labor. Much can be done by the government in labor matters simply by giving publicity to certain conditions. The Bureau of Labor has done excellent work of this kind in many directions.

Bureau of Corporations. The Bureau of Corporations has made careful preliminary investigation of many of the important trusts and has made a special report on the beef industry.

Insurance. The Bureau of Insurance vitally affects the great mass of the people of the United States and is national and not local in its application.

FOR INFANTS AND INVALIDS. Tired babies become rested babies when fed on Mellin's Food.

of labor, because great corporations can resist any rebuke by engaging in interstate commerce and interstate commerce is peculiarly the field of the general government.

It is an absurdity to expect to eliminate the abuses of great corporations by state action. It is difficult to be patient with an argument that such matters should be left to the states, because more than one state pursues the policy of creating on easy terms corporations which are never operated within that state at all, but in other states whose laws they ignore.

The national government alone can deal adequately with these great corporations. To try to deal with them in an impetuous, impulsive or demagogic spirit would, in all probability, mean that nothing whatever would be accomplished, and, with absolute certainty, that if anything were accomplished it would be of a harmful nature.

Yet we must never forget the determining factor in every kind of work, of head or hand, must be the man's own good sense, courage and initiative.

Washington as a Model City. Responsibility for its maintenance rests on the Congress. In pursuing the set plan to make the city of Washington an example to other American municipalities several points should be kept in mind.

Scope of the Department in the Growth of the Department in the United States. The Department of Agriculture has grown into an educational institution with a faculty of 2,000 specialists making research for the benefit of the farmer.

Value and Importance of Crops. We sell $250,000,000 worth of animals and animal products to foreign countries every year. Much of this is exported to Europe.

Better Control Demanded. We have repeatedly called attention to the condition which exists in government forest matters because the work is scattered among three independent organizations.

Triumph over Nature. The crop report of the country getting attention from the farmer's standpoint, and interesting results are following. We have duplicates of the soils that grow the wheat in the United States.

Caring for the Children. In the vital matter of taking care of children, much advantage can be gained by a careful study of what has been accomplished in such cities as Illinois.

Insurance. The Bureau of Insurance vitally affects the great mass of the people of the United States and is national and not local in its application.

FOR INFANTS AND INVALIDS. Tired babies become rested babies when fed on Mellin's Food.

tion to offer, grant, give, solicit, accept or receive any rebuke by engaging in interstate commerce and interstate commerce is peculiarly the field of the general government.

It is an absurdity to expect to eliminate the abuses of great corporations by state action. It is difficult to be patient with an argument that such matters should be left to the states, because more than one state pursues the policy of creating on easy terms corporations which are never operated within that state at all, but in other states whose laws they ignore.

The national government alone can deal adequately with these great corporations. To try to deal with them in an impetuous, impulsive or demagogic spirit would, in all probability, mean that nothing whatever would be accomplished, and, with absolute certainty, that if anything were accomplished it would be of a harmful nature.

Yet we must never forget the determining factor in every kind of work, of head or hand, must be the man's own good sense, courage and initiative.

Washington as a Model City. Responsibility for its maintenance rests on the Congress. In pursuing the set plan to make the city of Washington an example to other American municipalities several points should be kept in mind.

Scope of the Department in the Growth of the Department in the United States. The Department of Agriculture has grown into an educational institution with a faculty of 2,000 specialists making research for the benefit of the farmer.

Value and Importance of Crops. We sell $250,000,000 worth of animals and animal products to foreign countries every year. Much of this is exported to Europe.

Better Control Demanded. We have repeatedly called attention to the condition which exists in government forest matters because the work is scattered among three independent organizations.

Triumph over Nature. The crop report of the country getting attention from the farmer's standpoint, and interesting results are following. We have duplicates of the soils that grow the wheat in the United States.

Caring for the Children. In the vital matter of taking care of children, much advantage can be gained by a careful study of what has been accomplished in such cities as Illinois.

Insurance. The Bureau of Insurance vitally affects the great mass of the people of the United States and is national and not local in its application.

FOR INFANTS AND INVALIDS. Tired babies become rested babies when fed on Mellin's Food.

of labor, because great corporations can resist any rebuke by engaging in interstate commerce and interstate commerce is peculiarly the field of the general government.

It is an absurdity to expect to eliminate the abuses of great corporations by state action. It is difficult to be patient with an argument that such matters should be left to the states, because more than one state pursues the policy of creating on easy terms corporations which are never operated within that state at all, but in other states whose laws they ignore.

The national government alone can deal adequately with these great corporations. To try to deal with them in an impetuous, impulsive or demagogic spirit would, in all probability, mean that nothing whatever would be accomplished, and, with absolute certainty, that if anything were accomplished it would be of a harmful nature.

Yet we must never forget the determining factor in every kind of work, of head or hand, must be the man's own good sense, courage and initiative.

Washington as a Model City. Responsibility for its maintenance rests on the Congress. In pursuing the set plan to make the city of Washington an example to other American municipalities several points should be kept in mind.

Scope of the Department in the Growth of the Department in the United States. The Department of Agriculture has grown into an educational institution with a faculty of 2,000 specialists making research for the benefit of the farmer.

Value and Importance of Crops. We sell $250,000,000 worth of animals and animal products to foreign countries every year. Much of this is exported to Europe.

Better Control Demanded. We have repeatedly called attention to the condition which exists in government forest matters because the work is scattered among three independent organizations.

Triumph over Nature. The crop report of the country getting attention from the farmer's standpoint, and interesting results are following. We have duplicates of the soils that grow the wheat in the United States.

Caring for the Children. In the vital matter of taking care of children, much advantage can be gained by a careful study of what has been accomplished in such cities as Illinois.

Insurance. The Bureau of Insurance vitally affects the great mass of the people of the United States and is national and not local in its application.

FOR INFANTS AND INVALIDS. Tired babies become rested babies when fed on Mellin's Food.

of labor, because great corporations can resist any rebuke by engaging in interstate commerce and interstate commerce is peculiarly the field of the general government.

It is an absurdity to expect to eliminate the abuses of great corporations by state action. It is difficult to be patient with an argument that such matters should be left to the states, because more than one state pursues the policy of creating on easy terms corporations which are never operated within that state at all, but in other states whose laws they ignore.

The national government alone can deal adequately with these great corporations. To try to deal with them in an impetuous, impulsive or demagogic spirit would, in all probability, mean that nothing whatever would be accomplished, and, with absolute certainty, that if anything were accomplished it would be of a harmful nature.

Yet we must never forget the determining factor in every kind of work, of head or hand, must be the man's own good sense, courage and initiative.

Washington as a Model City. Responsibility for its maintenance rests on the Congress. In pursuing the set plan to make the city of Washington an example to other American municipalities several points should be kept in mind.

Scope of the Department in the Growth of the Department in the United States. The Department of Agriculture has grown into an educational institution with a faculty of 2,000 specialists making research for the benefit of the farmer.

Value and Importance of Crops. We sell $250,000,000 worth of animals and animal products to foreign countries every year. Much of this is exported to Europe.

Better Control Demanded. We have repeatedly called attention to the condition which exists in government forest matters because the work is scattered among three independent organizations.

Triumph over Nature. The crop report of the country getting attention from the farmer's standpoint, and interesting results are following. We have duplicates of the soils that grow the wheat in the United States.

Caring for the Children. In the vital matter of taking care of children, much advantage can be gained by a careful study of what has been accomplished in such cities as Illinois.

Insurance. The Bureau of Insurance vitally affects the great mass of the people of the United States and is national and not local in its application.

FOR INFANTS AND INVALIDS. Tired babies become rested babies when fed on Mellin's Food.

of labor, because great corporations can resist any rebuke by engaging in interstate commerce and interstate commerce is peculiarly the field of the general government.

It is an absurdity to expect to eliminate the abuses of great corporations by state action. It is difficult to be patient with an argument that such matters should be left to the states, because more than one state pursues the policy of creating on easy terms corporations which are never operated within that state at all, but in other states whose laws they ignore.

The national government alone can deal adequately with these great corporations. To try to deal with them in an impetuous, impulsive or demagogic spirit would, in all probability, mean that nothing whatever would be accomplished, and, with absolute certainty, that if anything were accomplished it would be of a harmful nature.

Yet we must never forget the determining factor in every kind of work, of head or hand, must be the man's own good sense, courage and initiative.

Washington as a Model City. Responsibility for its maintenance rests on the Congress. In pursuing the set plan to make the city of Washington an example to other American municipalities several points should be kept in mind.

Scope of the Department in the Growth of the Department in the United States. The Department of Agriculture has grown into an educational institution with a faculty of 2,000 specialists making research for the benefit of the farmer.

Value and Importance of Crops. We sell $250,000,000 worth of animals and animal products to foreign countries every year. Much of this is exported to Europe.

Better Control Demanded. We have repeatedly called attention to the condition which exists in government forest matters because the work is scattered among three independent organizations.

Triumph over Nature. The crop report of the country getting attention from the farmer's standpoint, and interesting results are following. We have duplicates of the soils that grow the wheat in the United States.

Caring for the Children. In the vital matter of taking care of children, much advantage can be gained by a careful study of what has been accomplished in such cities as Illinois.

Insurance. The Bureau of Insurance vitally affects the great mass of the people of the United States and is national and not local in its application.

FOR INFANTS AND INVALIDS. Tired babies become rested babies when fed on Mellin's Food.

of labor, because great corporations can resist any rebuke by engaging in interstate commerce and interstate commerce is peculiarly the field of the general government.

It is an absurdity to expect to eliminate the abuses of great corporations by state action. It is difficult to be patient with an argument that such matters should be left to the states, because more than one state pursues the policy of creating on easy terms corporations which are never operated within that state at all, but in other states whose laws they ignore.

The national government alone can deal adequately with these great corporations. To try to deal with them in an impetuous, impulsive or demagogic spirit would, in all probability, mean that nothing whatever would be accomplished, and, with absolute certainty, that if anything were accomplished it would be of a harmful nature.

Yet we must never forget the determining factor in every kind of work, of head or hand, must be the man's own good sense, courage and initiative.

Washington as a Model City. Responsibility for its maintenance rests on the Congress. In pursuing the set plan to make the city of Washington an example to other American municipalities several points should be kept in mind.

Scope of the Department in the Growth of the Department in the United States. The Department of Agriculture has grown into an educational institution with a faculty of 2,000 specialists making research for the benefit of the farmer.

Value and Importance of Crops. We sell $250,000,000 worth of animals and animal products to foreign countries every year. Much of this is exported to Europe.

Better Control Demanded. We have repeatedly called attention to the condition which exists in government forest matters because the work is scattered among three independent organizations.

Triumph over Nature. The crop report of the country getting attention from the farmer's standpoint, and interesting results are following. We have duplicates of the soils that grow the wheat in the United States.

Caring for the Children. In the vital matter of taking care of children, much advantage can be gained by a careful study of what has been accomplished in such cities as Illinois.

Insurance. The Bureau of Insurance vitally affects the great mass of the people of the United States and is national and not local in its application.

FOR INFANTS AND INVALIDS. Tired babies become rested babies when fed on Mellin's Food.

INDIGESTION Leads to Chronic Dyspepsia and Catarrh of the Stomach. HOW IS YOUR DIGESTION? Kodol Dyspepsia Cure Digests What You Eat, Sweetens the Stomach and Enables the Digestive Organs to Feed the Body.

What! Another dizzy spell? "Vertigo" the doctors call it. You naturally fear it is brain trouble, nervously prostration heart disease. But your doctor will tell you it is your liver. A sluggish liver means a poor circulation, a congested brain, a disordered stomach, constipated bowels. Ayer's Pills are liver pills. They act directly on the liver. You will need only one each night for a few nights. Your indigestion and biliousness will quickly disappear.