West Enders Not Satisfied. The city council will meet this after noon as a committee of the whole to con-Co. Tel. 230; night, F667. sider the bids for 1,000 feet of fire hose for Special at Leffert's the new engine house in the southern part of the city.

The committee is also expected to take up the matter of paving West Broadway. Residents of the western part of the city are opposed to the proposition to pave only undruple plate, new an strip thirty-six feet in width. The width at $5.00. Sterling silve of lower Broadway is fifty-two feet and weight and beautifu to pave only thirty-six feet would leave a strip eight feet each side between the paving and the present parking. The city officials are of the opinion that the abutling property cannot stand more than the mying of thirty-six feet, but what the West Inders object to is the fact that the city delegate, Mrs. P. C. Stire. ouncil does not contemplate making any povision for adding the eight-foot strips the parking.

According to the present plans of the city uncil the street on each side of the paving is to be left in its present condition, to which the west enders object. They plaim that it will leave an unsightly strip on each side of the paving which in wet weather will become nothing more or less han mud holes, and that wagons will bellc mable to drive up in front of business places without driving off the paving and nto the mud. Backed up by the West End Improvement club residents of that section of the city insist that the street be aved its entire width or else the portion iot improved be added to the parking.

Remedy for Roaches.

Brian G. Hughes, the New York practical joker, began his career in that capacity by 'putting up a job" on a number of unsusecting friends some time ago. He went to the trouble to box up a harmless little powder, which was labeled "Poison to Roaches," and this he distributed widely among his friends. Each package contained a slip announcing that the second box of the preparation would be infallible. A number of people were induced to ask for this box. The second box contained the following directions: "First catch the roach, then today and everyday, all you want at 10c hold it firmly and tickle it with a feather till it laughs, then drop some of the powder down its throat and choke it."

Last Word of the Jokesmith.

The humorist lay a-dying. "I haven't much to leave," he gasped, ooking around at the bare room. "But I want my family to have everything. My wife must have the furniture. I give my clothes to my prother. To my mother-inhing company appointed to select a site law I leave the batch of unusued joken you will find in my desk-she will be glad as she reads them to know I have remembered her. My watch"-- the words came slowly now-"I have already given-to-my We bent nearer to catch the last words.
