comprehend the failure of the Russians to die hard and to inflict all possible damage on the Japanese fleet, even at the cost of weakening the effective garrison.

Now that the Port Arthur fleet has been disabled it is deemed impossible for the Russians to overcome the inferiority of the second Pacific squadron to Togo's fleet, unless, at present unascertained, the Black sea fleet should pass the Dardanelles.

Report of Japanese casualties. TOKIO, Dec. 9.—(10-30 a. m.)—Imperial army headquarters has published a list of thirty-six officers killed and fifty-eight wounded. No mention is made as to where these casualties occurred, but it was presumably at Port Arthur.

Eight shells struck the protected cruiser Palada today and set it on fire. Simultaneously it began to list, port, lowering stern. It is deemed unfit for navigation.

During the action we discovered the gunboat Glikak to the landward north of the battleship Terzaki. Her guns were ineffective. This vessel is also deemed to be disabled.

A total of twenty-two hits were made by our naval and siege guns today. The armored cruiser Hyuga caught fire at 11:30 this morning. The fire was not extinguished at 4:15 in the afternoon. Evidently the cruiser is seriously damaged.

The results of our bombardment of the battleship Sevastopol, the mine ship transport Amir and the transports are not yet known.

The above mentioned hits were made with shells from the heavy guns. Those made by the small shells are not mentioned in the report.

Another report from the same commander dated 3 o'clock this (Friday) morning, is as follows: As the result of our naval gun bombardment yesterday (Thursday) the Hyuga was hit six times and the Amir fourteen times. The Amir is sinking astern.

Our bombardment continued against the storeships and arsenals at the northeast base of Palau mountain resulted in thirty-six hits, causing great damage.

Fortifying Formosa. Griescom, the American minister at Tokio, has cabled the State department that Mr. Fisher, the American vice consul at Nagasaki, reports that all shipping has been warned to keep twenty miles away from Pescadore, an island off the west coast of Formosa, and that it is said fortifications are being constructed at Seoul.

RUSSIA SECURED NO WARSHIPS Admiral Rojestvensky is Not Counting on Help from Port Arthur. ST. PETERSBURG, Dec. 9.—The Associated Press is officially authorized to make the following statement: The reports spread abroad that Russia would purchase a number of Russian ships, which the admiralty has called outwards, are equally confident that the ships will not fall into the hands of the Japanese.

The associated press is also authorized to state that even if every ship of the Port Arthur squadron is destroyed it will have no effect on Rojestvensky's plans, which never contemplated assistance from the Port Arthur squadron. The reports of the sinking of a number of Russian ships, of which the admiralty has called outwards, however, causes a feeling of extreme sadness in high naval circles, where the plans of Rear Admiral Wren, the commander of the Port Arthur squadron, were known.

It seems incredible that when it became known that the admiralty has called outwards a number of ships under fire of the Japanese fleet, that they were not taken out and sunk in deep water where they would be beyond the possibility of salvage. The only way in which the officials here can account for the failure to do so is that Admiral Wren was confronted by conditions of which the admiralty is in ignorance.

Captain Clado's campaign in the Novoe Vremya against the admiralty and in favor of sending out the Black sea fleet irrespective of treaty considerations, promises to have a sensational sequel. The captain has gone to the length of not only criticizing the admiralty, but the Grand Duke Alexis, the high admiral. It is announced at the admiralty that Captain Clado's action is intolerable and that he will be arrested for infraction of discipline. The captain is one of the witnesses detached from Vice Admiral Rojestvensky's squadron to appear at Paris before the international commission, which is to inquire into the North sea incident, but his punishment will only involve confinement in a guardhouse for two weeks and therefore will not interfere with his attendance at Paris.

BERLIN, Dec. 9.—Chancellor von Buelow, at the opening of the Reichstag today, said: The allied governments intend to lay before you after discussion of the draft reading of the budget a revised commercial treaty with Russia, Roumania, Belgium, Italy, Switzerland, Austria-Hungary, as you are aware, reached a dead point and because of insuperable differences of opinion. The treaty was broken off. However, in consequence of a commercial treaty which Austria-Hungary has just made there is a prospect of reaching the understanding we have desired with this neighbor. The government will not close a treaty without sufficient guarantee for the protection of German cities from disease. Although the publication of the six treaties already mentioned is somewhat what our negotiators at Vienna-Hungary, yet to give full time for their discussion the Reichstag will adjourn tomorrow. These treaties immediately after the Christmas holidays.

Von Hollnar Leads Opposition.

Herr von Hollnar, socialist, followed Herr Bebel, the socialist leader, today in the assault upon the government. At the conclusion of a long speech sharply arraiging Chancellor von Buelow for his alleged overfriendly attitude toward Russia, Herr von Hollnar took up Emperor William's telegram referring specifically to the one sent to President Roosevelt. He said: In coolness of telegram style we could learn something from the Americans. This exchange of dispatches is in one respect not without advantage. It is to be regretted that the emperor's head in a telegram to President Roosevelt does not address him personally, but expresses his admiration for the United States.

MRS. CHADWICK MAY GO BACK

advice of her counsel. This fact was plainly stated today by Edmund W. Powers, one of her attorneys, after a conference between Mrs. Chadwick, her son and Lawyers Carpenter and Powers. Mr. Powers believes that as a result of the interview Mrs. Chadwick will at least reconsider her decision to leave for Cleveland today.

A report was current about the Tombs that a request for the appointment of a commission to examine Mrs. Chadwick as to her sanity will be made.

This afternoon Marshal Henkel announced that Mrs. Chadwick had delivered an ultimatum to her attorneys to the effect that if bail was not furnished before 3 o'clock this afternoon she would make preparations for her immediate return to Cleveland. It was her intention, the marshal said, to go before United States Commissioner Shields, waive examination and start for Cleveland on the 8:30 train tonight.

When Mr. Carpenter was asked as to the probability of securing bail he said: "These matters are exactly the same as last night. Men are willing to give the bail, but, as in the Patterson case, they fear the notoriety."

Iri Reynolds Returns. CLEVELAND, O., Dec. 9.—Iri Reynolds, secretary and treasurer of the Wade Park Banking company, who according to reports held a long time in New York, returned from New York to Cleveland today. Mr. Reynolds refused to discuss the Chadwick case.

The grand jury began taking testimony in connection with the Chadwick case here today. The first witness called here was the attorney Arthur A. Stearns, the latter being the attorney for Banker Herbert Newton of Brookline, Mass., whose suit against Mrs. Chadwick led to all the subsequent disclosures. Reynolds showed the two attorneys a number of papers, Mr. Stearns in an interview was quoted as saying that Mrs. Newton's chances of recovering the money loaned to Mrs. Chadwick seemed very slight.

Referring today to reports that President Beckwith's written statement showed that Mrs. Chadwick's paper was held by many banks in Ohio, District Attorney Sullivan said today: "I want to have it understood at once and for all that there is absolutely not one word of truth in the statement that Mrs. Chadwick has not already been mentioned in the newspapers."

The statement is not sensational in any degree. It is merely some technical information desired regarding these various transactions.

Securities Have No Value. According to a story published here today the package of securities belonging to Mrs. Chadwick and in the care of Iri Reynolds, supposed to contain $5,000,000 worth of collateral, was opened today. It is declared that while the face value of the securities is $5,000,000, the actual value is not one cent.

It is also stated that this package was in a safe deposit vault in Jersey City until yesterday, when it was taken out and brought to this city by Iri Reynolds. Mr. Reynolds refuses to either deny or confirm this report.

Newton is Losing Hope. BOSTON, Dec. 9.—Concerning the credit of Mr. Newton with hoping for a settlement through John D. Rockefeller on the assumption that he would not wish to have the name of his pastor, Rev. Charles A. Eaton of Cleveland, dragged into the affair, Mr. Newton said: "There is no truth in that report. I have had hopes of a settlement, but not through Mr. Rockefeller. Mrs. Chadwick represented to me that she had been secured in the care of Iri Reynolds and I was shown an affidavit signed by him stating that he had in his possession stocks and bonds belonging to her valued at $5,000,000 and upwards. I don't understand that there is any question concerning the genuineness of this affidavit and on that I rest my case."

"I did not see the securities. I did not think it necessary, considering the name signed to the notes and Mr. Reynolds' name as a voucher for her ownership of the $5,000,000 in securities."

"I took the trouble to visit Cleveland. I did not see Mr. Reynolds, but I was assured by one who must have known that the securities were in Reynolds' care."

"A list of the securities was furnished me, and this list was accompanied by a sworn statement that Mrs. Chadwick's semi-annual income from the securities was $12,000. The face value of the securities was much more than $5,000,000. That sum was named as a conservative estimate of their actual value. The most of them were dividend-bearing stocks. ALLEGED SISTER STILL TALKING Mrs. York of San Francisco Tells of Past of Mrs. Chadwick. SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 9.—Mrs. Alice M. York of this city has reiterated her statement that she is the sister of Mrs. Chadwick, despite the latter's repudiation of relationship. She said: "My sister, Elizabeth Bigley, now Mrs. Chadwick, was born near London, Canada, about forty-two years ago. Her girlhood days were spent at Eastwood and Woodstock, which was the home of our family. She was not a great reader, and as far as having read books on mesmerism and the like what she read was always extravagant. When I was married and went to live in Cleveland she came to live with me. That was in 1881. She had nothing peculiar about her as a girl, save that she was a deep thinker. She always seemed absorbed in thought and would sit in silence by the hour. She seemed in a trance and never would pay attention to anyone. She would come out of these thinking spells as if bewildered. She would never discuss her strange actions nor the many escapes in which she got into. She never, by word or act, indicated that she was possessed of any psychic power. At the time in Toledo when she was convicted of forgery, under the name of Mrs. Devereux, she said she hypnotized a man named Joseph Lamb, an express agent, who was arrested with her. The man was a very tall, thin man, and all the talk was hypnotism. The hypnotism talk, I repeat, was nonsense."

It seems to me that my sister had a mania for doing just such things that have never involved her in this trouble. She did not need money, as she had plenty of it. In speech she talks slow and lips slightly. Her fingers were full of it at the time and all the talk was hypnotism. The hypnotism talk, I repeat, was nonsense."
