It must be borne in mind that the first alleged Carnegis note, which plays the most important role in this tragedy of finance, is much less than four years old, while it was over three years ago that $2,500,000 were said to have been settled on Dr. Chadwick. Claims to Be Carnegle's Daughter. Secretary Iri Revnolds of the Wade Park bank declared tonight that his implicit belief in the statements made to him by Mrs. Chadwick in which she declared herself to be the daughter of Andrew Carnegle was the impelling cause of his finaucial dealing with her. Mr. Reynolds said: cial dealing with her. Mr. Reynolds said:

She told me that she was the illegitimate daughter of Andrew Carnegie, and I believed her. I never doubted her until on the occasion of my last visit to New York, when Mr. Squire came to me and declared that all the socurities she had given me as the notes of Andrew Carnegie were worthless. It was only then that I doubted her. Before that I had refused to say anything about her or her affairs, because I deemed it my duty to protect her in the story of her birth as she had given it to me. I never once doubted her until I was shown the securities she gave me were worthless. After that, of course, I could not believe her any more. When she told me the story of being the daughter of Andrew Carnegie, her husband, Dr. Chadwick, was present and he believed the story as I did. The stories of her giving large sums of money to her husband are false. He is now in Europe and is penniless.

Just to show the methods of Mrs. Chadwick, I will tell of what she offered to do for me about one year ago. She came to me in my office here and said she was grateful for all that I had done for her and that she wished me to accept a present from her. She then offered me $100,000 in four notes of $25,000 each. The notes were drawn by her and she declared that they were as good as gold. They may have been for I know that her notes for similar amounts had been negotiated in banks of this city and had been taken up at maturity. Of course us an officer of the bank I could not accept such a present of the notes. I declined the notes.

Will Stand by Reynolds. The directors of the Wade Park bank have determined to a man to stand by Secretary Reynolds and insist that he remain with the bank. He has offered to resign repeatedly during the last two weeks, but the directors have refused to accept the resignation and declare that he shall retain his position.

Both the federal and state authorities have united in the determination to keep Mrs. Chadwick behind prison bars until brought before eithe jury or the grand jury of this county to answer to the charges against her. The determination not to release Mrs. Chadwick on ball was reached today after telephone communication between United States District Attorney Sullivan and County Prosecutor Keeler. Following the conference Mr. Sullivan wired the New York officials suggesting that if bondsmen appeared for Mrs. Chadwick tomorrow that the amount of bond which she is now held be increased to $25,000 and $50,000 if necessary to keep her in jail. It is explained that the authorities have power either to increase or decrease the amount of bond as they see fit. In addition to the suggestion on a bond increase and the kind of bond other steps have been taken calculated absolutely to prevent Mrs. Chadwick from securing her freedom before she has been brought to trial

A county grand jury might find an indictment against Mrs. Chadwick and then the matter of extradition would come up in a different light from any yet suggested.

I am of the opinion that Mrs. Chadwick will remain quietly in the Tombs for the present. Her examination is set for next Saturday before United States Commissioner Shields. If further continuances should not be asked by counsel on either side the commissioner would listen to the evidence with a view to determining whether or not Mrs. Chadwick should be held for the federal grand jury.

It is not believed that a decision will be reached that day. Indeed, it is very possible that it will be some time before the matter is definitely disposed of. IMMENSE DITCHING MACHINE

Forty-Eight Oxen Pull a Huge Ploy Through Nemaha Bottoms. AUBURN, Neb., Dec. 11 - (Special.)-The ditching outfit that has been working along partly forming a new channel for the old river is now at work on the Bath and Stocker properties east of town. The ditching outfit is a crude looking affair, but despite its clumsy appearance it does exceptionally quick and smooth work, turning one continual stream of dirt from the plows. The power is furnished by oxen, fortyeight in number, yoked together in teams, making twenty-four teams in all. They are driven by four men-so-called bullwhackers. They have a name for every animal and they call each one by name when directing them and quickly get an intelligent response. The animals are all in a fine physical condition. They consume daily twenty bushels of corn and one ton of hay, deep and two feet wide and is used altogether for drainage of fields. This machine, under favorable circumstances, will cut a ditch from 106 to 150 rods each day. The larger machine, or ditcher, is a tuge affair. This machine cuts a ditch two feet deep and six feet wide. The amount of cable carried with this mahine is enormous and no doubt represents a small fortune in the way of an investment. The cable is fastened to a stake set firmly in the ground and runs through an immense pulley to the plow and from thence to the crab, as it is called, to this all of the oxen are yoked. This crab is mounted on heavy iron wheels. The doubletree used is an immense thing weighing 700 pounds. It is of oak, sheathed telephone system in the university or the with steel and is fourteen feet in length. This machine is doing a great deal of effective work along the Nemaha bottom in the way of straightening the curves in the river and thereby stopping the over tom and destroys thousands of dollars worth of property every year.

This ditching outfit was brought here as a result of a movement on the part of the owners of the bottom land on the Little Nemaha river. While the lands in the Little Nemaha valley are very rich and productive, no crops have been raised thereon for several years on account of the overflow. The course of this stream is extremely tortuous, and since the surrounding hill lands have been broken the dirt and soil has been gradually washed down and collected in the stream until it is nearly filled up with mud. As a consequence every large rain causes an overflow. The straightening of the stream has to Minnesota the latter part of January. A been under discussion by the land owners for several years, but as there was so much diversity of opinion among them every attempt until recently has proven abortive. However, during the month of September of this year a meeting of the land owners was had and definite ar rangements were made to do something and a committee appointed with power to act. This committee secured the ditching outfit and put it to work. It is not likely that the work will be completed this fall as the frost in the ground is already interfering with the work, but the work

AS TO COMMERCE AND LABOR

Secretary Metcalf Makes Annual Report of New Department.

OFFICIALS ARE CRAMPED FOR FUNDS

Work Which Should Be Done is Defnyed Until Congress Provides the Necessary Cash.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 11.-In his report to the president, Victor H. Metcalf, secretary of commerce and labor, refers to the fact that the work of the bureau for the fiscal year was completed before he assumed the nen to South Sloux City, where the aban- duties of the office. The report says, in

The present organization of the

The present organization of the department is practically as presented in the first annual report of the secretary. The burcau of manuactures, authorized under the organic act, was not organized during the past year because of the insufficiency of the appropriation. The complete organization of the secretary's office was postponed for a similar reason.

Recommendation is made that, as far as practicable, the disbursing offices authorized by law and now existing in some of the subordinate bureaus be consolidated with the disbursing office of the Department of Commerce and Labor. Such a consolidation will result in a saving of both time and expense in the examination of accounts and the payment of vouchers. The bookkeeping of the department will be simplified and the exact status of accounts and balances of appropriations, including the balances of advances on requisitions, can be ascertained with a difficulty as the laborates. advances on requsitions, can be ascertaine without difficulty, as the ledgers of the department will show the disbursements from

Needs a Special Fund.

In the estimates I have included a provis-ion for an appropriation to be expended un-der the immediate direction of the secre-tary for the investigation of trade conditions at home and aproad, with the object of promoting the domestic and foreign c.m. merce of the United States, and for other purposes. A similar request, made in the first annual report, was dealed by congress, but the result of the years work conclusively demonstrates that the main investigation contemplated will be of great value to the commercial interests of the country. The growth of our foreign trade can be materially and immediately helped by sending skilled and trained men to study and report upon special conditions in the great world markets.

In addition to the main purpose the ap-great world markets.

In addition to the main purpose the appropriation is needed also "for other purposes." It is of the utmost importance that a fund be available for expenditure under the immediate direction of the secretary for the employment of special agents for the inspection and examination of the services of the department, On account of the limitations which the law very properly imposes with reference to the expenditure of funds, it is impossible, without such a fund, to prompty meet such emergencies as frequently arise.

Bureau of Corporations. The work of the Bureau of Corporation has proceeded along the lines indicated in the first annual report or the depart amination of judicial decisions for the purpose of ascertaining fully those constitutional powers and restrictions of which present conditions are based, and also those which must be necessarily involved in any future legislation for the improvement of present legal corporate conditions.

For the purpose of ascertifications conditions.

For the purpose of ascertaining and presenting in available form the legal conditions under which corporate business is being carried on in the various states material obtained from thirty states has been compiled and tabulated. In each of these states, with regard to all the more important corporations organized in the state and engaged in interstate or foreign commerce, typical either of the state's industries or of its laws, every paper or document filed or recorded concerning each corporation was examined separately, and document filed or recorded concerning each corporation was examined separately, and all information relating to each corporation disclosed by the official records has been collected and compiled. There have been thus far examined and abstracted the records of over 1,500 corporations, which include the larger part of the more important industrial and commercial opporations, joint stock companies and corporate combinations in the United States.

Bureau of Labor, In the organic act establishing this bureau it is stated that its general design and duties "shall be to acquire and diffuse among the people of the United States useful information on subjects connected with labor, in the most general and comprehensive sense of that word, and especially upon its relation to capital, the hours of labor, the earnings of laboring men and women, and the means of promoting their material, social, intellectual and moral prosperity."

In addition to the preparation of the nineteenth annual report the bureau has been engaged in the collection of material with reference to convict labor, which will form the basis of its twentieth annual report (the report for 1965). The collection of data for this report has been almost completed, and it is expected that the report itself will be submitted early in the coming year. This report will relate specially to the economic features of convict labor as employed in the penitentiaries, prisons and jails of the United States.

Work will shortly be begun on the col-

Work will shortly be begun on the col-lection of data relative to strikes and lockouts in the United States, which will form the basis of the annual report for form the basis of the annual report for 1906. The sixteenth annual report, published in 1901, brought the facts relating to strikes and lockouts down to and including the year 1900. It is expected that the report for 1906 will cover the period from 1901 to 1905.

Wireless Telegraphy. The Inter-departmental board appointed by the president to consider the question of wireless telegraphy in the service of the by the president to consider the question of wireless telegraphy in the service of the national government has recommended that the Department of Commerce and Labor should have the duty of issuing licenses for wireless telegraphic marine stations in special cases, under such regulations as will prevent interference (with stations necessary to the national defense. It has also recommended that all private stations in the interior of the country should be under the supervision of the Department of Commerce and Labor. To prevent the control of wireless telegraphy by monopolies and trusts, the board deems it essential that any legislation on this subject should place the supervision of it in the Department of Commerce and Labor. The proposed federal control of wireless telegraph stations using wireless apparatus must, of course, be within constitutional limits. The recommendations of the Inter-departmental board, in so far as they concern this department, have been referred to a board of the deartment's officers. Should that board submit a legislative project on the subject which meets the approval of the department it will be transmitted to congress.

The government seems unable to comprehend the real state of popular feeling, the importance of decisive action and the disastrous consequences of procrastmation. The people of this province are in a state of great excitement. Large meetings have taken place in many towns and many specific resolutions have been adopted, but the bad feature of the situation is the attitude of the workingman. Excited by the underground press of Geneva and Paris, who declare themselves in complete antagonism to the moderate demands of the zemstvo, they proclaim a definite socialist program, declaring they want not political, but social freedom. It will, therefore, be the policy of the government, if it decides to concede nothing to us, to foster such dissensions between the zemstvos and the, labor party. The government, confident of its ability to resouthern Russia, in which the writer says press revolutionary attacks by force of arms, and apprehending no real danger from the workingmen, can use their antagonism to us as an expediency against granting the reforms demanded by the moderates, on the grounds that they are not in real sympathy with the wishes of the people.

Proclamation talling Meeting Following is the text of the proclamation of the social democratic inher party calling today's demonstration: We have raised our voices calling for bet-We have raised our voices calling for better things, but the government has turned a deaf ear to our erg. We from day to day draw out a laborious existence a condition worse than convicts, while they convert millions into smoke and sacrifice thousands of workmen's lives, under incompeten; generals. We are shedding our blood for our torturers, while they are entering into a shameless bargain with wealthy and lords and semstyoists. Enough! We cannot endure it longer. We must arise and bodly proclaim that we want an end of war and a government by representatives of the peaple.

Long live the social democracy! Down with the war! Down with autocracy! All who are ready to fight for our demands assemble in front of the Kazan cathedral at 1 c'clock.

An official statement issued tonight, with reference to the rioting today, says: During the confusion and jostling the demonstrators freely used cudgels and the police were compelled to beat back the rioters with the flat of their swords. The riotens naturally was not suppressed without casualties, but none was serious.

The police have forbidden the assemblage of crowds on Tuesday, when another demonstration is threatened on the occasion of the opening of the trial of Sasoneff for the murder of Minister of the Interior von

Despite These Surprising Statistics Records Show Business of This

LINCOLN, Dec. II.-(Special.)-A revelaion was received at the office of Insurance Deputy Pierce yesterday in the way of insurance statistics. The statistics were prepared for the Journal of Insurance Economics and show that forty-one of the biggest fire insurance companies now doing business made altogether during the last five years only $122,000. Out of the total of forty-one companies, twenty-three of them come out loser at the end of the five years, leaving only eighteen that made a profit during that length of time. Two companies made enormous profits during the five years. The Aetna cleared $1,573,000 and the Continental cleared $1,174,000. The Hartford was the greatest loser, coming out behind for the five years' busin; so a to a of $685,000. But for all this, the statistics show the nsurance business has come up wonderfully during the last two years, and for 1902 and 1903 the profits were enormous, making it seem unnecessary for an increase in rates at this time. Last year these same companies cleared a total of $12.794,000

Newton checks which were returned marked "Without funds" knows nothing of the law. Had the doctor bought a cat and given a worthless check he could have been held for obtaining money under false pretences, but in this case there was no value received. He is said to have given two checks aggregating $50,000 as a part payment of his wife a indebtedness. The checks were valueless, but no crime was committed, for Dr. Chadwick received nothing. Mr. Newton received nothing. In other words, there was no value received and therefore no crime committed.

It has been said that Mrs. Chadwick settled $2,500,000 of the money she borrowed on her husband three years ago. That will be a difficult thing to prove. It must first be shown that she borrowed fraudulently. It would seem reasonable that if the woman could borrow such a large sum of money she must have had some excellent securities. It must be borne in mind that the first alleged Carnegie note, which plays the most important role in this trasedy of finance. Any person who says that Dr. Chadwick
