Peri Porter left Fairfax at midnight Thursday, estensibly for Wayne, Neb., to which point he bought a ticket. Before leaving he secured a draft of his brother, Carl, who is cashier of a bank at Fairfax. The draft was made payable to the assistant postmaster and is said to have been to settle the postoffice accounts for the quarter, the amount being $242. Orrin Porter believes the draft was mailed to the postoffice. Perl Porter is known to have had $75 with him when he left his home. But a small amount of money was left when he killed himself, it is stated. The ticket bought to Wayne was only used as far as Norfolk, the remaining portion being found in the dead man's pockets. A friend of Perl Porter is authority for the statement that the man had a sweetheart, who has been living at Wayne.

least 200 baskets will be distributed averaging five dinners to the basket. The officers of the army are now busy in getting the addresses of the needy and sending them word of the donation. They gain from postal cards the number of people in each family and make up the baskets in accordance with the information. These baskets are to be distributed in the afternoon of the day before Christmas. A vacant store will be rented in the central part of the city and to that place the hungry will come for their baskets. At the Army Rescue home a private dinner

Y. M. C. A. Notes. Plans are being laid for the New Year's eception to be held January 2.

The Hanscom Park Brotherhood luncheon Tuesday evening of this week was one of the most delightful social affairs ever held in the Hanscom Park church. Invitations had been sent out to 160 men and although this is the busitst season of the year nearly 100 men were present. President Berry-man of the brotherhood presided and in. man of the brotherhood presided and introduced the speakers of the evening. Dr. Clark brought "Greetings" from the var-talk. Among the visitors during the week were: George B. Hodge of New York City, C. S. Ward of Chicago, Anson Wager of Wa-verly, N. Y., R. T. Nightengdale of Spo-kane, Wash., Mr. Davies and Mr. McIvar of Denver, Colo. The series of meetings conducted Sunday afternoons by Dr. E. Combie Smith closes next Sunday, at which meeting Dr. Laird plays a cornet solo. Mr. Stephenson a vio-lin solo, Mr. Bovelle sings a baritene solo and Mr. Ames a tenor solo. At this overstock reduction sale every plano in our building has suffered price reduction in accordance with our determination to reduce our immense piano stock at any cost. This sale has not lagged an instant-intense enthusiasm has been manifested from the very beginning, for never before were Omaha buyers able to get planos of the highest quality for the price and terms we offer now.

New Uprights, dependable pianos, with splendid tone, double repeating action and hardwood cases, built up with cross-banded layers of wood, impossible to split or warp, lvory keys; in fact, the kind usually priced $350 in any store, are now reduced to $193.

New Uprights of the highest class, in fancy, beautiful case designs, shown only at our store-planos that sell everywhere for $450 to $500are now offered for the first time in Omaha for $268, $285 and $315. These include a choice from the leading factories.

New Uprights for $128, $135, $148-walnut, oak or mahogany casesby far the best in town for the money.

FIFTY BARGAINS IN USED PIANOS

Steger, Knabe, Chickering, Vose, Malcom Love, Kranich & Bach, etc., and a large list that draw lightly on the purse.

During this sale we accept terms of $10.00 cash and $5.00 monthly until paid. We take old instruments in exchange at their full market value. Out-of-town buyers should visit our store at once or write for catalogues, prices and full information. This is your best opportunity.

Colony Composed of Owls.

On the banks of the Santa Ana river, in Southern California, is a queer colony. It is situated in the cliffs which rise above the surface of the river and has a muititude of inhabitants. In passing along the river by daylight one would not imagine that the cliffs were inhabited, for the members of the colony are fast asleep in the chambers of the cliffs.

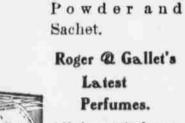

But at dusk there is a change. At every one of the openings with which the cliffs are perforated appears a countenance so humanlike in its expression that the beolder is apt to imagine that these must be the faces of the pixies and elves of whom he delighted to hear in his childhood days.

The tiny faces belong to a family having a name nearly as large as the individuals are small. It is the family of strix pratincola, or monkey-faced owl. So much do their faces resemble those of human feaures that they are often called the humanfaced owl. In the holes of the cliffs they pass their days and rear their young. At sight they emerge in flocks and search the fields for mice, gophers and insects, upon which they live. This owl does not hoot, as do most owls, but utters a low, chuck-
