County Attorney English appeared for the county board and Smyth & Smith for Sheriff Power. The suit is a friendly one to test the right of the sheriff to employ the number of deputies he considers necessary and to name the rate of pay they

In this connection Sheriff Power has compiled some memorapda to show that during his incumbency of the office he has been compelled to continually borrow money and pay out considerable sums in interest for the same to meet the running expenses of his office. Traveling Salesman's Troubles.

W. A. Campbell of Chicago, salesman for a paint and varnish company of Buffalo, was arrested in Des Moines yesterday at the request of the Omaha police. He is wanted here on a charge of obtaining money under false pretenses. Campbell stopped at the Paxton hotel the last week in December and about the 18th of that month presented a check for 185 to Ralph Kitchen who promptly cashed it. On December 29 Campbell presented another check for 190 and this was also cashed by Mr. Kitchen and Mr. Campbell then left for Des Moines. Monday the check for 125 was returned protested to Mr. Kitchen, stating that Mr. Campbell had no funds in the bank. Mr. Kitchen at once gotified the police and they had Campbell arrested at Des Moines. He did not require requisition papers and he was brought to Omaha last evening by Detective Hedrick of Des Moines. Campbell says that it is all a mistake. He says that he keeps two accounts at the Chicago bank, one a personal account and the other an account as salesman of the company he works for they sending the money every month to this bank, so that he can draw checks while on the road with which to pay his expenses. Now Campbell says that his folks at Chicago can draw on his personal account and because of the holidays have drawn a larger amount than usual and many pensibly have drawn all of his personal money out. But that the checks he presented to Mr. Kitchen were as salesman for his company; that he has money on that account at the bank and that the cierks at the bank have got mixed in his personal and expense account. FINE ACTED IN GOOD FAITH

Shewing Made Before County Board in Scavenger Tax List Case.

Final Testimony and Arguments Taken and Board Promises to Vote on Matter Early

This Morning.

Yesterday afternoon the Board of County commissioners heard the evidence County Treasurer Fink on the claim of The Bee for the printing of the scavenger tax list. Mr. Fink made it quite clear that he had taken pains to ascertain that the oard had not designated any paper in which the publication should be made within the terms of the statute, and that when he had so satisfied himself he awarded the list to The Bee. He contended that the award was made in good faith and in strict compliance with his duty as laid lown by the statute. From this statement the cross-examination of the World-Herald attorney did not move him. Reviewing the testimony later, in reply o the assertions of the attorney for the protestant, Edward Rosewarter said the personal, unofficial action of three members of the board could not be taken as a foundation in an official action. award to The Bee had been made in good aith; it had been accepted and the work performed in the same good faith. World-Herald's Claim Paid. There was simply a lapse on the part f the board in taking the action conemplated by the law. While the contract of the World-Herald with the board inolved payment at only about one-sixth of the amount for which that paper put in its bill for the publication of the tax list in the second instance, it has drawn its pay long ago and through a sense of journalistic courtesy and fair play he had refrained from raising any question over the payment of the World-Herald bill. The protestant's attorney argued against the bill from entirely false premises, and thereore his logic was weak. The Bee has now waited six months for its pay for a big undertaking that had taxed its plant to the utmost in its performance on time, and he believed the board should, in simple fairness allow the bill and order it paid as a fust obligation. The board retired, with County Attorney English as adviser, and after fifteen minites' consideration adjourned until 8 o'clock this morning, when, it was announced, the members will be prepared to vote on the allowance of the bill.
