Investigating Kuhn's Death. Chief of Police Briggs and Detective Elsfelder are making a thorough investigaion into the shooting of Arthur Kuhn, which occurred Tuesday afternoon near Vista Springs. The police have talked with Clancy Mullen and Roy Belding, both of Albright, who were present when the shooting occurred. In the opinion of the chief and the detective, the shooting was the result of carelessness on the part of George Beckner. Coroner Brailey was in the city yesterday making an investigation and an inquest will be held at I o'clock this afternoon. The witnesses called so far are Roy Belding, Clancy Mullen and George and James Beckner.

Mullen has told the chief that Beckner had just shot at a crow and that he put the gun to his shoulder in a bantering way and said, "Shall I shoot?"

Young Kuhn cried, "No, don't do it." Just then the gun was discharged and the result was the killing of Kuhn. Beckner still sticks to his original story and declares that the affair was purely accidental. It is expected that all of the facts will be brought out at the inquest to be held this afternoon.

The remains of Arthur Kuhn were conveyed to Omaha yesterday afternoon and the funeral will be held this afternoon. interment being at Forest Lawn cemetery.
