the county assessments by the state board. It follows, therefore, that the county board is confronted with the probability of making its levies upon an assessment foll quite different from that which is finally certified to it by the state board, and of providing taxes in excess of or insufficient, to the acutal needs of the county, depending upon the action of the state board in raising or lowering the assessment of said county at a time some weeks subsequent to the making of the county levies. There seems to be no legal redress for this inconsistency. I recommend that section 126, article i, chapter Ixxvii, completed statutes of less, to see amended that county boards shall make their levies after the certificate of county equalization shall have been received from

Also, that section 150 of the same article and chapter be amended so as to provide for the transmission, by the state board, of the certificate of county equalization to the county clerk at the earliest date consistent with the general tenor of the section, and that the said tenor of the section, and that the said tenor of the section. tenor of the section, and that the said county clerk be instructed to call the eounty board together within seven days after the receipt of said certificate for the purpose of making the necessary levies for the ensuing year. For the same reasons the law fixing the time for making school district and municipal levies should be ended in harmony with the above sug

Robinson of Bartington and Mr. E. A. Lundberg of Wayns. These gentiemen met with the representatives of South Dakota in due time and after repeated conferences and personal inspection of that portion of the boundary in dispute, namely, the portion affected by the uncertain meanderings of the Mosouri river, a report embodying the unanimous agreement of the joint convention was alled with me March 4, 1964. The Battleship Nebraska,

The Batileship Nebraska.

On October 7, 1804, the battleship Nebraska was successfully launched at the yards of the builders, the Moran Bross' company. Seattle, Wash. The impressive ceremonial was participated in by a number of the executive officers of this state. The Nebraska is one of the latest and most efficient types of battleships and our state is highly honored by the national government in being permitted to stand sponsor for it. The remaining work of construction and equipment will occupy about one year and it will then be ready for commission. At that time it will be highly proper for our state, through its legislature or unofficially through its citizens, to present to the officers of the Nebraska, for the use of the ship, some practical gift as a token of our interest in the fighting craft which bears our state name and as a further indication that we are not insensible to the distinction which has been conferred upon us by the general government. It has been suggested that a citiver service or a library would constitute a a most suitable gift though possibly something else would be better. I now bring the matter to you and recommend that you either make an appropriation for the pur-

The State's Finances.
On November 20, 1904, the floating interest bearing indebtedness of the state, as represented by outstanding general fund warrants, amounted to $1,253,358-40, an increase during the blennium of $254,057.77. This condition was made possible and practically unavoidable by the operation of the old revinue law, which as a revenue producer commensurate with the needs of the state was a failure. Each succeeding legislature was a failure. Each succeeding legislature had found it necessary to make appropriations in excess of the revenue which could possibly be derived from the assessment roll and the result was a gradual piling up of the floating indebtedness. As a remedial and corrective measure the last legislature passed the new revenue law which is now in effect.

While the new law was passed in 1903, it did not become operative until 1904, and

The Lobby.

The bane of every legislative body is the subsidized lobby. Vicious legislation is not the result of ignorance, but is rather the result of prejudicial influences which ought not to exist and which certainly ought not to be tolerated within the halls, cloak rooms or offices of any deliberative body which has power over the destinies of a people. Nebraska is not different from other states in that it has suffered in years past from the attacks of a conscienceless horde of paid retainers whose sole mission was to debauch the membership of the legislature in the interests of questionable enactments, directed against the public treasury or conferring special privileges upon certain beneficiaries. Such influences ought to be banished from legislative environment. I recommend that such action be taken as will protect your membership from the onslaught of private and corporation lobbvists who seek to accomplish permetous ends by the exercise of undue influence, being careful to draw the line of demarcation between the corruptionist on the one side and the honest and untrammeled adviser and counsellor on the other.

Louisiana Purchase Exposition.

Louisiana Purchase Exposition.

During the last year the greatest exposition the world has ever seen, commemorating the Louisiana purchase, has been held in the city of St. Louis. The legislature of two years ago appropriated $35,0000 for a Nebraska exhibit and haid upon the chief executive the duty of appointing a nonpartisan commission of three members upon which should devolve all responsibility, pertaining thereto. In project of the commences of pressing business engagements Mr. Morrill resigned in September of that year and I appointed Peter Jansen to fill the vacancy thus created. The commission solicited additional funds from the citizens and corporations of the state, believing the appropriation in sufficient, and as a result secured donations to the amount of $25,000, as follows:

Union Pacific Railroad company ......$2,000

Inion Pacific Railroad company....... $9.000 Surlington & Missouri River Railroad hicago & Northwestern Railroad . 7,000

An exhibit was installed in due course of time which, so far as I have been able to observe, met the full expectations of every Nebraskan who visited the exposition and which received much favorable comment from all quarters. No similar appropriation was ever better expended and our people have reason to take great pride in the showing made. Our individual exhibitors were exceptionally successful in the matter of winning honors and in this particular Nebraska again demonstrated its superiority. The exposition has but recently closed and the commission has found it impossible to make its final report prior to the meeting of the legislature. I am informed, however, that after paying all obligations there will remain unexpended about $16,000 of the original appropriation. This is certainly a most gratifying condition, one which speaks eloquently of the wisdem and discretion which the commission exercised in the discharge of its duties. The complete report will be filed during the month. $25,000

Lewis and Clark Exposition.

Lewis and Clark Exposition.

The people of the Pacific coast in particular and those of other sections of the country in general are now prepared for the Lewis and Clark Centennial exposition, an event which will commemorate the trials and triumphs of the exploring expedition sent out by President Jefferson during the year following the purchase of Louisiana, and which succeeded in penetrating to the mouth of the Columbia river, in 1805. The exposition will be held at Portland, Ore., J. Ine 1 to October 15 of next year.

The Pacific coast has been remote from the great expositions held in this country, and because of distance its citizenship has been denied the privileges attendant upon such exploitations to a great degree. It seems fitting that the great northwest should now have its opportunity. There are many ties which bind Nebraska to that section of our common country, a present matter of deep interest being the construction of the battleship Nebraska on the shores of Puget sound. I recommend that a reasonable appropriation be made for participation of our state in this exposition. Much of the material used at St. Louis could be again utilized at Portland.

The preceding legislature raised the in-The preceding legislature raised the inflammability test of illuminating oils from 100 degrees to 112 degrees Fahrenheit, thus affording additional security to life and property. Since the law was made operative it has been rigidly enforced, not a single case having been reported where oil below the test has been placed on the market. During the blennium the inspections have amounted to 389,544 barrels and the corresponding receipts to $38,554.40. Of this amount $22,967.57 paid the salary and expense accounts of the chief oil inspector and his assistants, $16,550.18 was deposited in the state treasury to the credit of the

The administration of the affairs of this department for the past two years has been very satisfactory. Economy has been observed, a broader field of instruction has been attained. The responsibility and labor of the adjutant general have been largely increased and he should receive compensation commensurate with his duties.

For reasons arising prior to the present administration I deemed it expedient to make investigation of the financial accounts of the adjutant general's office, and employed an expert accountant for that purpose. The reports of the accountant, giving complete details of the investigation, are in my office and are subject to your inspection. It will be necessary for you to make an appropriation to meet the expense involved.

Education.

The state views with ever increasing pride the progress of its great educational centers, the university and the Peru normal, and is looking forward to the time when the Kearney normal will take its place with the others and will become an important factor in our public school system. The people are willing to make any reasonable sacrifice for the causa of higher education and for the proper training of teachers, asking only that appropriations and expenditures be made with due regard to the needs of these institutions.

Relief of Famine Sufferers.

The preceding legislature, under the terms of H. R. No. 417, appropriated $2,000 for "the relief and benefit of the people suffering from famine in northern Sweden, Norway and Finland." The disposition of this relief was left to the chief executive. On April 21, 1903, I drew the entire appropriation from the treasury and remitted $1,500 to Hon. A. Grip, minister of Sweden and Norway, Washington. D. C., for the relief of the famine sufferers in the countries which he represented, and $500 to Count Cassini, ambassador of Russia, Washington, D. C., for the benefit of the sufferers in Finland. On April 27, 1903, I received an acknowledgment from Hon. A. Grip, in which he testified his appreciation and expressed the gratitude of May 12, 1903, I received the gratitude of May 12, 1903, I received from Count Cassini the following explanatory note, the formal address being omitted:

"Sir: I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of April 21, in which your excellency had transmitted to me a check for $500 appropriated by the Nebraska legislature for the relief of the famine sufferers of Finland. In reply I beg to inform you that as the relief fund organized by the Russian government for the needs of the poop last year. Is amply sufficient, the imperial government does not feel it possible to accept this generous donation of the people of Nebraska, as it could be employed in some other quarter where the help is more needed. I avail myself of this opportunity to express to your excellency and ask you to transmit to the Nebraska legislature the feelings of my profound gratitude for this act of the people of Nebraska, which I consider to be a new proof of the traditional friendly relations existing between our two countries. The check is herewith returned. Accept the assurances of my lighest consideration.

"Signed" "COUNT CASSINI, "Ambassador of Russia." The $500 so returned was redeposited in the public treasury, May 16, 1902.

Insurance on Pulic Buildings.

It is provided in Relief of Famine Sufferers.

It is provided in section 6, article 1, chapter ixxxiii. Compiled Statutes of 1962, "that the governor be and is hereby authorized and empowered to insure the public buildings and other property belonging to the state liable to destruction or injury by fire, with some good and responsible insurance company or companies, for the benefit of and in the name of the state." The state has been carrying its own insurance since 1889, the last appropriation for the payment of premiums (134,000) having been made in 1872. It is estimated that the cost of carrying reasonable insurance on present state property will amount to $20,000 per blemnium. The chief executive cannot carry out the provisions of the section quoted unless an appropriation is made for the payment of premiums. In the absence of such appropriation I shall assume that the state desires to continue the policy of carrying its own fire risks.

Under a recent decision of the supreme court it is held that the statute is invalid which authorizes the execution and approval of official bonds with guaranty comproval of official bonds with guaranty companies as surelies. The defect is technical and can be remedied.

There is no question but that guaranty bonds furnish adequate protection and relieve officeholders and their friends from the unpleasant features attendant upon the securing of a personal bond. A past legislature has endorsed the system and it is a technical error only which has defeated the statute. In view of the importance of the subject I recommend that at the earliest date consistent with the amount of work involved you pass a law which will legalize the execution and approval of either personal or guaranty bonds.

State Accountant.

State Accountant.

The experience gained in the past two years serves to confirm my judgment as expressed in my previous inaugural adexpressed in my previous inaugural address, recommending the creation of the position of state accountant. It should be the duty of such officer to "scrutinize and verify the accounts of the various state officers and state institutions," and he should "have authority ever the books and records of said institutions," with a view to securing uniformity. Such accountant should also be delegated to examine into the various accounts of delinquent taxes due the state from the several counties, to the end that this mass of delinquent assets may be realized on as much as possible, and the portion that is worthless may be stricken off the books in accordance with the provisions of section 165, article 1, chapter laxvil, compiled statues of 1903. I believe that such an official would prove of great value to the state and hence I report the recommendation.

the further fact that the school has three departments, namely, common and high school work, running through the twelfth grade, music and industrial training. I have every reason to believe that the school has been economically and discreetly managed. The attendance is not nearly so large as it should be.

I recommend that the purchasing of all supplies for both the Institute for the Blind and the Institute for the Deaf and Dumb be placed in the hands of the Board of Purchase and Supplies, this being the board which does the buying for all the other institutions. It is a noticeable fact that the two institutions named pay more for the same class of goods than do the other institutions, the reason being that for the same class of goods that do the other institutions, the reason being that the hoard, doing a much larger volume of business, can buy cheaper than can the trustees having the care of the two institutions under discussion.

The Institute for the Feeble Minded is

The Institute for the Feeble Minded is in a very crowded condition. About thirty applications are now on file from those seeking admission and who are properly entitled to the care of the state, but who are denied entrance on account of the lack of room. This matter has received my careful attention and I recommend an appropriation of $20,000 for the purpose of erecting a cottage for girls as an adjunct of this institution. By so doing the question of aditional room will be solved for many years to come.

Norfolk Asylumn Nears Completion The Norfolk asylum, for the rebuilding of which an appropriation was made by the last legislature is nearing completion, but probably will not be ready for the recepprobably will not be ready for the reception of inmates until about the first of May. The west wing of the old building can, at comparatively slight expense, be made as serviceable as any other part of the equipment, and I recommend that an appropriation of this wing. The reception of inmates at Norfolk will releve the congested condition now existing at the Nebraska Hespital for the Insane and will add greatly to the efficiency of the service to this class of unfortunates. When the last legislature made provision for the rebuilding of the Norfolk asylum it was believed that the institution would be completed and would be in condition to care for patients during at least ten months of the present blennium. Appropriations amounting to $54.850 were accordingly made for officers' salaries, employes' wages and amounting to $54.850 were accordingly made for officers' salaries, employes' wages and general expense of maintenance. As the building has been delayed, no part of these appropriations has been used. The burden of caring for the inmates which it was intended should be cared for at Norfolk during ten months of the biennium has failen upon the Nebraska Hospital for the Insane, with the result that a number of its funds show deficiencies. I recommend that $18,000 of the maintenance fund appropriated for the Norfolk asylum be transferred to the account of the Nebraska Hospital for the Insane, for the purpose of pital for the Iname, for the purpose of meeting its deficiencies so incurred, similar to the action taken by the Twenty-eighth legislature and for the same reason. This is a matter which should receive your early attention carly attention.

These are the more important topics to which I wish to direct your attention. As the session progresses new questions may arise concerning which I may wish to address you by special message. Permit me to express the hope that your duties will prove pleasant and that the result of your labor will promote the welfare of our beloved state.

The message concludes with a statement of moneys passing through the governor's office and a list of pardons and paroles
