OMAHA INDIAN WAREHOUSE

Public Service Would Suffer Were the Plant Here Abandoned.

MERCENARY FIGHT OF EASTERN JOBBERS

Efforts to Discontinue the Depot Made in New York and Chicago Despite Saving Accomplished Under the Present System.

Efforts of Chlesgo and New York Jobbers to wipe out the Indian supply depots at Omaha and St. Louis in the interests of wholesalers at the larger points have again been defeated in congress. An attempt to eripple the service by reducing the appropriation available for the support of the depots has apparently succeeded. The importance of the local depot to the service has already been demonstrated, and the growth of the business done at this point indicates the wisdom of maintaining the plant here. R. C. Jordan, superintendent of the ware house in this city, is unwilling to give an interview on the topic, but said:

"I have no hesitation, however, in saying that we will handle this year about $150,000 worth of supplies more than was done last year by this warehouse. We supply everything that is needed at the Indian schools and the Indian agencies and these things are bought in the local markets. The supplies include provisions, hardware, saddlery, plumbers' supplies, crockery and other commodities."

Opposition is Mercenary. One of the strongest agencies represented in the fight at Washington was the Commercial club. One of the members said:

"Chicago and New York wanted to have the Omaha depot closed up for mercenary reasons. This is the proper location for such a warehouse and they are afraid of us. By closing up the warehouse here and the one at St. Louis it would have forced to these cities a large amount of business which now comes here. The warehouse ought to stay here. It is directly to the interest of the government to have it located here. Omaha is 500 miles nearer to every point of destination for Indian supplies west of the Mississippi than is Chicago and 1,500 miles nearer than There is no room for aris New York. gument on this point. The situation speaks for itself.

"In advertising for supplies to be delivered at Omaha the government obtains the benefit of competition for the contracts on the part of all the dealers in the Omaha market. Should the Omaha warehouse be discontinued, not one of these dealers could afford to bid for delivery to Wednesday matinee at the Boyd. the Chicago warehouse, whereas every Chicago and New York dealer can afford to bid for delivery at Omaha. As a result of this competition the first cost of the supplies delivered at Omaha is very much shipped from the Omaha warehouse is transported 500 miles less than if it had been shipped from Chicago. Necessarily, therefore, the freight charges are less from here than they would be if they were shipped from Chicago. "Another advantage favorable to Omaha as against Chicago is the fact that all business handled through Chicago is subject to delays, risks and the additional cost entailed by these items. This is due to the fact that the growth of business in Chicago has outstripped the facilities of all the public servants, such as railroads, express companies and dray lines. In Omaha the same business can be handled ing the six months ending June 30, 1904, the Omaha warehouse handled 1,079,724 pounds supplies at an expense of $6,895.99. For the six months ending December 31 the number of pounds handled had increased to 3,301,243 at a cost of $3,452.44. The value of the supplies handled for the year was $60,023.96.

National Importance. RECENT CONGRESS A MOVE TO SUCCESS

Captain Seth Bullock Talks About the Gathering at Washington and the Good it Will Accomplish.

Captain Seth Bullock of South Dakota, supervisor of the Black Hills forest reserves, was visiting around among Omaha acquaintances yesterday. He had just returned from an engagement with the things the east has on tap for the edification of tenderfeet from the west, but had escaped damage from lobsters, terrapin, champagne and politicians, and was looking as fresh and vigorous, as level-minded and serene in temper and thought as a real pioneer always ought to look. No man of similar wide experience and of equal years crowded full of virile life and altruistic ndeavor can hold a candie to Captain Bullock when it comes to looks and to indulging in ceaseless activity. Like a breeze that has come far over the great plains and the eternal hills, he is odorous of Nature's big wide world and the things of life that never were trammeled with the leading strings of convention.

Of the doings of the American Forestry congress, to which he was a delegate, and of the things it promises to accomplish in the future, the South Dakota veteran spoke with an enthusiasm born of a faith long $80,000, and incurred a debt of $30,000. The held and now about to be rewarded.

Whole Country Represented. "Nearly every state in the union was represented," said Captain Bullock, "and the men who made up the congress were children. their absence in the past. Change Control of Reserves.

"One of the first and most necessary steps, the convention agreed, is to place the forest reserves under the control of the Agricultural department instead of the Interior department, where control is at present vested. This will be at once beneficial, because of the trained men who Columbus many people could not obtain will then have the care of these reserves. Trained foresters, working with the slow thoroughness of the German system, will come later, but at present the principal thought is to safeguard what we have and encourage new growth in every way pos-

"Young Weyerhauser, son of the lumber king of the country, read a paper at the congress which showed that he grasps the significance and the wisdom of this movement. He proved himself a man of good ideas and of forceful ability. It means much to the cause when men of his class get properly interested and take hold in earnest to help by their influence and example. His father came to this country with only his hands and brain for capital, achieved a great success in the business world, and today his son follows the president of the United States on the program of a great congress. No other country can offer such a spectacle as that "

Good Work in Black Hills In the South Dakota forest reserve Captain Bullock has under his immediate control 1.125,000 acres, and with the assist ance of fifteen to twenty rangers he has succeeded to a high degree in preventing waste and in preserving the forest growth which for years had suffered at the hands of unbeeding destroyers. In that country the mines depend on the forests for their timber and water-both interdependent in nature's economy-and Captain Bullock now has the active co-operation of many men who at first were either actively or covertly hostile to the movement for forest

There is a fair current movement of hoss, but not equal to the corresponding week last year. Total western packing was 575,000, compared with 450,000 the preceding week and 640,000 last year. Since November 1 the total is 5,030,000, against 5,445,000 a year ago. Thousands Die From Tobacco Heart
Every Year.

A simple sure test will tell you if you have tobacco heart; count your pulse in the morning before you have used tobacco in any form; then take a chew or light a cigar; chew vigorously or smoke the cigar steadily for 10 minutes; count the pulse again. The pulse will be 10 or 15 beats more per minute if you have tobacco heart. This test is unfailing.

Tobacco injures the heart, numbs the nerves and brain, stagnates the blood, dims the eyes, destroys the complexion, ulcerates the stomach and weakens the kidneys, causing in many cases fluttering, palpitation, shortness of breath, numbness in or pain in the left side, in the arm or under the shoulder blade, fainting spells, digainess, hungry or weak spells, spots before the eyes, sudden starting in sleep, choking sensation in throat, oppressed feeling in chest, cold hands and feet, pain when lying on left side, dropsy, swelling of the feet and ankles.

THE VALUE OF CHARCOAL

Few People Know How Useful it is in Preserving Health and Beauty, Nearly everybody knows that charcoal is the safest and most efficient disinfectant and purifier in nature, but few realize its value when taken into the human system for the same cleansing purpose. Charcoal is a remedy that the more you take of it the better; it is not a grug at all, but simply absorbs the goses and impurities always present in the stomach and intestines and carries them out of the Charcoal sweetens the breath after smoking, drinking or after eating onions and other odorous vegetables.

Charcoal effectually clears and improves the complexion, it whitens the teeth and further acts as a natural and eminently safe cathartic. It absorbs the injurious gases which col lect in the stomach and bowels; it disinfects the mouth and throat from the poison or rather in the form of large, pleasant of catarrh.

All druggists sell charcoal in one form or another, but probably the best chargoni and the most for the money is in Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges; they are composed of the finest powdered Willow charcoal, and other harmless antiseptics in tablet form, tasting lozenges, the charcoal being mixed with honey.

The daily use of these lozenges will soon tell in a much improved condition of the general health, better complexion, sweeter breath and purer blood, and the beauty of it is, that no possible harm can result from their continued use, but on the contrary, great benefit.

A Buffalo physician in speaking of the benefits of charcoal, says: "I advise Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges to all patients suffering from gas in stomach and bowels, and to clear she complexion and purify the breath, mouth and throat; I also believe the liver is greatly benefited by the daily use of them; they cost but twenty-five cents a box at drug stores, and although in some sense a patent preparation, yet I believe I get more and better charcoal in Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges than in any of the ordinary charcoal tablots.'

MASS OF SORES

Ears Looked as if They Would Drop Off - Body Entirely Covered with Humor - Three Doctors Could Not Cure - Child Grew Worse.

CURED BY CUTICURA IN TWO WEEKS

Mrs. George J. Steese, of 701 Coburn St., Akron Ohio, tells in the following letter of another of those remarkable cures of torturing, disfiguring skin humors daily made by Cuticura Soap, assisted by Cuticura Ointment, after physicians, and all else had failed: "I feel it my duty to parents of other poor suffering babies to tell you what Cuticura has done for my little daughter. She broke out all over her body with a humor, and we used everything recommended, but without results. I called in three doc-tors, they all claimed they could help her, but she continued to grow worse. Her body was a mass of sores, and her little face was eaten away, her ears looked as if they would drop off. Neighbors advised me to get Cuticura Soap and Ointment, and before I had used half of the cake of soap and box of ointment the sores had all healed, and my little one's face and body was as clear as a new-born babe's. I would not be without it again if it cost five dollars, instead of seventy-five cents, which is all it cost us to cure our baby, after spending many dollars on doctors and medicines without any benefit whatever."
