Picking the winner from this phalanx is a task which even the most self-complacent prophet declines to undertake. To name the men who are sure not to get the nomination is conceded to be much the easier job. Just which one will receive the mora support of Mr. Burkett in the event of his election as senator is not known. In some quarters it is said George Tobey, because of his position as private secretary to Burkett, will receive the latter's support, but, on the without embarrassing the situation do this, particularly in view of the fact that several of the men on whom he must depend read; to work. for his support are members of the legislature and also candidates for congress. Tobey's candidacy, therefore, is regarded as of questionable strength. Burgess' Chances Slim.

H. C. M. Burgess, because of his peculiar course in the late campaign as chairman of the republican state committee, being charged with indifference to the interests of Governor Mickey and the balance of the state ticket, had a very hard time getting re-elected to the house. His friends came very near not being able to pull him through and it is believed the task of nominating Burgess would be a most difficult one. It also is said, now, that even the Union Pacific, which was Burgeas' chief adviser during the campaign, finds other the race for Burkett's position preferable to Burgess. And, last of all, Burgess' vacillating course in the recent speakership fight has cinched his unpopu-tragedy of the air. Then they went back to the sick room to tell of the terrible struggle for life they had just witnessed. It did not occur to them that under their very eyes a more terrible, more pathetic struggle was going on daily.

There can be nothing more pitiful than the struggle the consumptive makes against disease. The greatest help in this struggle is gained by the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. Paul Clark, former speaker of the house, and one of the factotums of the Rouse speakership campaign, is spoken of as one of the strong congressional candidates. It will cause no surprise if Clark, in the event of Burkett's election to the senate, se-

Reports Show that Men Are Working on Short Time and Lower Wages May Be Offered.

INDIANAPOLIS, Jan. 16.-The sixteenth America was opened today by President Mitchell in Tomlinson hall. Nearly 600 delegates were in their seats, representing every one of the twenty-five districts.

The largest delegations were from the central districts. The Illinois delegation was headed by President Perry and Secretary-Treasurer William Ryan. The three anthractic districts were represented by 130 500 pairs $2.50 Embroidered and H. S. delegates. Reports from the districts show delegates. Reports from the districts show a shortage in work compared with previous years. In Indiana the average has been less than three days in the week. President Mitchell made a short address to the miners on their assembling for the labors of another convention.

The credentials committee announced the seating of all delegates except those from Iroquois make, regular price $2.50, in this districts 7 and 23, which had not paid up in full. The credentials committee's representative announced that 1,005 locals are enweight, well finished throughout, Bradford titled to representatives in the convention, with 1,843 votes.

In the afternoon the first order of business was the annual report of President Mitchell, which was given.

Mr. Mitchell began by referring to the compromise between miners and operators a year ago, whereby the 15 per cent reduction that was at first insisted upon by the operators was reduced to 5.55 per cent and accepted on a referendum vote of the miners. Mr. Mitchell said:

The result of the referendum vote stands as a monument to the sagacity of the members of our organization and proves that government, whether of unions or of nations, is safe and secure in the hands of the people. The compromise proposition was accepted by a vote of 101,023 as against 63,654. Continuing, he said:

Mr. Mitchell then submitted a statement showing the operation of the sliding scale

cember 31, 1904, had resulted as follows: In April, 1904, had resulted as follows:

In April, 1903, the average price of coal was $4.45 per ton, and there was no percentage of increase in compensation. In December, 1904, the average price of coal was $4.85 per ton, and there was an increase of 1 per cent in the miners' compensation—this increase was in addition to the horizontal increase of 19 per cent granted by the anthracite commission.

Chosing his reference to the anthracite situation, Mr. Mitchell said. If for the situation, Mr. Mitchell said: "I fear the they take immediate steps to perfect their organization." Mr. Mitchell outlined the negotiations whereby the agreement was made with the coal hoisting engineers, all of whom, by becoming members of the United Mine Workers of America, thus put an end to the jurisdictional controversy which had for sevthere. But he is advised to exercise great | eral years been a constant menace to the advancement of both organizations.

Mr. Mitchell said:

Mr. Mitchell said:

Notwithstanding the efforts of our representatives to promute better feeling and to cement a closer unity, the interests of the Western Federation of Miners and the United Mineworkers of America, the Western Federation, instead of reciprocating these fraternal overtures, amended their come tution in such a manner as to provide for the membership of a coal miner upon their executive board. No other construction can be placed upon this action than that it is an invitation for coal miners to become members of the Western Federation to organize classes of workmen over which we exercise jurisdiction. If the Western Federation to Miners persists in pursuing this hostile policy we shall be justified in extending our jurisdiction and opening our doors to the metalliferous miners.

Continuing, Mr. Mitchell said:

There is one phase of our industrial life upon which we have heretofore made no official comment and which has received at our hands much less consideration than its importance warrants. I refer to the awful importance warrants. I refer to the awful and ever increasing loss of life and limb in coal mines. It is, of course, impossible by legislation or by any other human agency, entirely to prevent fatalities or injuries in coal mines, or, indeed, in any hazardous calling; but it seems to me that the number of persons killed and injured in the coal mines of this country is altogether too disproportionate to the natural mangers, and that these accidents could be materially reduced by the enactment of Continuing, he said:

Except for the year of the anthracite strike this is the first time that I have been unable to report any material growth in the membership of the organization. Our average membership for the year ending December 31, 1894, shows an increase of a little less than 4,000 over the preceding year, while the membership for the month of December, 1994—based upon the tax received for that month—shows a decrease of about 25,000 members.

The heavy failing off in membership for the month of December, 1994, is accounted for by the fact that from 20,000 to 25,000 members were on strike and exonerated from the payment of dues. The greatest loss sustained in the eastern bitumnlous and anthracite fields. At no time since 1897 has work been so irregular and the coal trade so demoralized. I feel confident that our organization has sufficied no permanent loss in strength or influence and that with the revival of business and industrial activity we shall, in the near future, regain this apparent loss and surpass cur former strength.

Mr. Mitchell then submitted a statement as established by the anthracite coal strike commission. He showed that the operation of this scale from April 1, 1903, to I'eyour attention to the fact that one year from next April our joint agreements expire in practically every coal producing district, both bituminous and anthracite, in the United States. Reference to the reports of commercial agencies and trade journals seems to indicate an approaching revival of business and a period of industrial activity. If these predictions are realized we should be able to regain the loss in wages sustained one year ago and to improve conditions of employment in those districts in which no reductions were forced upon us. It is, of course, necessary to say that our ability to make further advancement, or even to retain our present stanment, or even to retain our present stan-dard of living and wages, will depend in no small degree upon the strength and solidarity of our union. Vice President Lewis made his annual report, following President Mitchell. He annual conference of the Mine Workers of gave a brief account of his work during the year, and in summing up said: During the year there has been kept in the field a large force of organizers in addition to the national board members. On account of general strikes in some districts and many local troubles in others the time of the organizers could not be devoted entirely to the work of organization. Numerous difficulties to overcome, the reports of my colleagues will show that numerically the organization has held its own.

money during the last year for the aid of strikers. He said: We have never furnished as much sup-

We have never furnished as much support in proportion to the number of men involved in any of our previous strikes. It would have taken a per capita tax of 37 cents per month per member to have paid the expenditures of the organization during the year. Our present weekly expenditures are much greater than the average weekly expenditures of the year just closed, and if continued will require nearly 50 cents per month per man. We will be able to collect a per capita tax of 50 cents per member per month for the national organization, but the time will come sooner or later when it will be absolutely necessary to do so. In the meantime we must have more money with which to meet the obligations of the order, and I therefore recommend that the national per capita tax be increased to 25 cents a month for each member.

The report showed that at the close of business November 30, 1903, there was in the treasury $1,106,195.68. The income dur ing the year was $851,772.86, making a total of $1,957,971.54. The expenditures for the same period amount to $1,354,019.22, leaving a balance November 30, 1904, of $903,952.32. The expenditures were $502,246.36 in excess of the income, and of the total expenditures $1,067,300.47 went to aid the men on strike. The convention then adjourned until to morrow morning.

DRUGGISTS MUST OBEY LAW No Permits Unless Report of Liquor Sales is Filed with the Board.

At a meeting of the Board of Fire and Police commissioners last evening three more saloon licenses were allowed and three permits were granted to drug stores to sell liquor. It was also decided to no tify all the drug firms in the city that no licenses would be given to a firm until that firm has complied with the law and filed a report with the board of all liquors sold during the six months previous to January . 1905 Two firemen, one accused of not respond ing to an alarm and the other of reporting for duty while in an intoxicated condition, were reprimanded and fined their off times for the next ten days. There also was a communication from Turnkey Glover of the city jail showing that 3,128 meals had been served to prisoners during the month of December. Owing to the Christmas dinner that was given the number of meals was considerably more than in previous months. Chief Donahue stated to the board that a new contract had been made for the feeding of prisoners. Heretofore the caterer has received 914 cents per meal, but now, under the new contract, the meals will be again given to Billy Houston. John Erickson, a fireman who was in jured by being thrown from a wagon at Fourteenth and California on August 13 while going to a fire, and who was severely cut about the head, asked for thirty days leave at half pay. City Physician Ralph recommended that it be granted as Erickson, owing to the injuries received at that time, was not fit for duty. The case was taken under consideration. Gertrude Burmeister notified the board of her intention to be married January 8, 1905, and that her claim for pension would expire at that time. Her husband was one of the men killed in the Allen Brothers fire. Mrs. Burmeister received a pension of $21.25. A communication was sent to the charter revision committee recommending there be a provision put in the new charter for a relief fund in cases of injury, disability or death of members of the fire and police departments. The commissioners recommended that these claims be provided for by means of insurance, the city to pay the premiums on the policies. This plan was recommended as being cheaper, and besides in the past it has been the plan to raise money for the relief fund by means of entertainments, balls, etc., which business men and others are expected to contribute to, thus putting the seller of the tickets under obligations to them. The method proposed will take care of all claims except those of service pensions and the pensions to widows and orphans. CENTRAL PARK ON BOULEVARD Improvement Club Wants a Route Along Forty-second Street and
