Window Starts Fire.

The mystery of the origin of the fire that did slight damage to the residence of Charles L. Jones has been cleared up. Next to the Jones residence is a cathedral with large glass in the windows, which acted as a lens, concentrating the sun's rays on the windows of the Jones residence, setting fire to the curtain.

Federal Court Proceedings.

Before Judge Munger and a jury, in federal court today, was tried the 20,000 damage suit of Farmer Josef Schumer of Gage county against the Rock Island. The case was once before up in the court, but resulted in a mistrial.

Schumer was badly injured on May 22, 1903, while attempting to cross, in the vilinge of Ellis, the tracks of the Rock Island at the exact moment one of its fast passenger trains sought to occupy the same place.

Schumer emerged from the encounter with a fractured skull, a broken shoulderblade, several cracked ribs, besides a number of cuts and bruises upon his person. He says, too, that his vital organs have been so injured that life has lost much of its charm for him, that his span of existence has been materially shortened and his ability to labor practically extinguished.

No Notice From Sloan.

Weaver of the Presbyterian church officiating. Mrs. Porterfield was Si years of age and for over thirty years was a resident of this city. She was a life-long member of the Presbyterian church and well known for her activity in all branches of the church work. She leaves three some, Jerome of this city. Churles of Seattle, Wash, and Robert of Chicago. Rev. Mr. Henry of this city is a grandson. Her husband, who was prominent in the eariy years ago.

William Schroeder, who left Beatrice and the Japanese intention, so consequently went to Alaska eight years ago, has ar- they could not be accused of wilful neglect rived in the city to visit with his brother- to take necessary precautions to protect the Russian craft from seizure. A question also will be raised as to whether the Russian crew on the Rycshitelni had themselves observed neutrality by completely disarming the vessel. There is a further question as to ability of the Chinese admiral to have prevented the Japanese seizure, even if so disposed, because of lack of physical force.

Touching the charge that many Chinese, are serving in the Japanese army for pay it is believed that the Chinese government, after questioning the truth of the allegation and pointing to the fallure of the Russians to find Chinese among the Japenese the men of whom he had berrowed the killed in battle, will raise the point that even if such Chinese did serve as Japanese soldiers, such fact does not of itself constitute a violation of international law respecting neutrality. A neutral nation may be properly required to prevent the organization within its territory of hostile expeditions directed against a belligerent, but it cannot prevent its citizens individually from casting their lot with either one of the combatants. The other charge in the Russian complaint, namely, the employment of Japanese officers to drill Chinese troops in modern tactics will, it is believed, also be declared to be within the rights of any power and not a violation of the rules of neutrality.

The government has been informed of the Russian complaint and it is stated here that it is preparing a complete and categorical dental of the Russian charges. Beside this denial it is understood the note will make sharp comment upon alleged vio lations of neutrality by some of the powers in favor of Russia, notably in connection with the extension to Russian vessels which were being hotly pursued by the Japanese of rights of asylum in neutral ports to a degree never contemplated by the older authorities on international law.

Secretary Hay has addressed a note to the Russian ambassador here acknowledging the receipt of the Russian complaint or violation of neutrality by China. The secretary called the attention of the Russian government to certain cardinal principles of international law relative to neutrality which seemed to apply to the present case. It is believed that he particularly directed attention to the formidable difficulties sure to be encountered by a neutral power near the theater of war in efforts to
