Corsets

So far as concerns the corset field the year of 1905 opens without any radical changes—even the best corset shops of a few years ago were content to show three or four different models. Then came the radical change to the extreme straight front. He then gave his review of the history of the water works and what brought about this water board business. Dodge had accused the council of betraying the city's interests in wilfully neglecting to begin proceedings for the acquisition of the water works as authorized in the contract with the city and the water company. Lee corrected this statement and informed the house of the facts, that it was because of an adverse decision of the city attorney that the council and mayor did not pro

"I am sorry this young man has descended to the low level of personal abuse," exclaimed Lee, taking heed of Dodge's false insinuations that because the water works company had offices in The Bee Rosewater was actuated against this bill.

"That charge or insinuation is unfair, ungentlemanly and dishonest," - declared "If there is an unpurchasable man in the state of Nebraska that man is Edward Rosewater.

Turning to Dodge, he declared, with "I challenge you, air, to sustain the ugi charge you have made. Dodge was pale and silent, except to ask if the water company was not paying a certain amount of rent.

"I don't care what amount of rent it pays; it has no contract with Mr. Rose water. He positively refused to make out a lease for the rooms the water company occupies, because he was not anxious about its retaining the quarters. I know that, sir, to be a positive fact."

Riddles Dodge's Argument.

One of the most grotesque features of charges against the water company in politics in the Omaha Daily News of November 3, the organ of the Fontanelle club and the Howell faction. 'I am surprised," said Lee, "that my intelligent young friend would drag into his argument anything which a yellow journal might say. Is that the kind of testimony to submit to this legislature?" You've heard much from Mr. Dedge

"You've heard much from Mr. Dedge about the uprising of the people of Omaha for Mr. Howell," said Lee, "but I want to tell you the people don't need to rise up for that man, for he is always on the go for himself."

Lee gave an interesting explanation, in reply to Dodge, of Howell's bolting the regular republican ticket in the last fall campaign and going over to join hands with the democrats in order to foist himself upon the people.

Lee made a most forceful argument of the shock of the senator and providing that the legislature shall canvass vote on constitutional amend-

Lee made a most forceful argument against the propriety of passing this bill, Impressing upon the house the fact that while Omaha has had a water board for a period of nearly two years, it does not possess a water system of its own and probably will not for a number of years, until the matter can be fought out in the courts. He urged upon the house the plea that the water board now was an expensive sinecure, whih the people do not want to

Barnes effectively met this argument by showing that while in some cases Omaha at the same time Omaha's water came from the muddy Missouri river and consequently the cost of clarification was correclared for municipal ownership of the plant under proper proceedings, but not those provided in the Howell act.

Clarke, though talking but for a brief period, was impressive in defending the bill. It was plain to be seen, though, from Clarke's speech, as well as from those of Dodge and Andersen, that it had been agreed to make the main argument on the false doctrine that "The main question is our water works?" It is more expensive than the precinct or township assessor plan My bill provides for the election of a precinct or township assessor for a term of three years at a salary of $1 per day for the time necessarily employed. It further provides by means of a large number of minor amendments for the eradication of the words, county assessor from the pres ent law and confers the principal duties hitherto performed by the county assesso upon the county clerk. My bill provides a statutory schedule for the listing of property in lieu of one prepared by the tate board. It provides for the assess ment of grain brokers and elevator com panies not only upon the little tangible roperty which they possess, but provides is well for a reasonable tax upon their franchise privileges under the laws of our state. My bill further provides for the consideration of stocks and bonds and all other evidences of ownership or control of ratiroad companies to be used as a basis for assessing the franchise or statutory business privileges of said roads. It requires all persons, corporations, associa tions and partnerships to sign and swear to the same schedules and it further requires corporations and associations to answer under oath all of the interrogatories hitherto submitted to the private citizen when listing his property for taxation There are many other important features of the bill, but I deem these the more im portant. I have been convinced that the present law required careful analytical study and reasonable and conservative amendments. I have therefore had my bill prepared along lines that in my judg-ment will suit the wishes of a vast majority of the private taxpayers of the state workmen who would return to work, however, patrols still encircled the big industrial establishments. Moreover, in order to restore confidence in the situation, by direction of the police, the owners of stores took down the boards which they had nailed over their windows and doors in anticipation of riotous attacks. Governor General Trepoff guaranteeing them against pillage.

The full effect of the Trepoff-Kokosoff proclamation has not yet developed, although early reports indicate that some of the men returned to work this morning. Several of the smaller establishments are reported to have resumed business shorthanded. Knowledge of the existence of the proclamation, however, was not general among the workmen until they read it on the bulletin boards, where many of them angrily turned away, muttering refusals to listen to the government's promises. Others appeared to hesitate regarding what course to pursue.

The workmen appear to lack leadership. If the authorities believe the majority of strike movement will be proken and then can instructors. the only thing feared is a recrudesence of bomb throwing. The government is also encouraged by the comparative quiet at Moscow yesterday and they hope no serious trouble will occur there.

Associated Press correspondent visited the industrial district today and found that no factories were in operation in the whole region south of the river, with the exception of one large establishment, which was amply guarded in order to prevent the intimidation of workmen, but there was no attempt at such intimidation. Although the strike is steadily spreading the movement thus far has not been accompanied by collisions of great gravity. To day's events were restricted to minor skirmishes on the northern and eastern outskirts of the city, in which the troops successfully resisted all efforts of the crowds to break through the cordon. No bloodshed is reported. Both the authorities and the masters have shown admirable coolifess in rendiness to meet the men's demands. In the meantime the workmen and the masters are negotiating for a settlement of differences. Several firms already have offered an advance in wages which would bring up the average carnings of their workmen to $10 per month and lodgings. One firm has offered to knock off one hour from the legal working day of eleven hours, but this is a burning question on which the majority of the masters are un-
