whether accidental or intentional, are causing much apprehension and that it will be necessary for the Russian government to give full and prompt explanation, or otherwise popular sentiment in the United Kingdom might create a serious situation. It is pointed out that while the injured pro-consul is merely an interpreter and native clerk in the consulate, that fact made no difference and that it would be necessary to prove that the affair was not the result of the publication of the objectionable notices concerning which Ambassador Hardinge already has protested officially.

Rioting at Warsaw.

LONDON, Jan. 31.—The correspondent at Warsaw of the Daily Mail telegraphs as follows:

The street railway service here has been partly resumed, with soldiers riding before and behind most of the cars. Few cabs are running. Street fighting continues and the mob is growing in dangerous fashion. There have been frequent collisions between the people and soldiers. Revolutionists attacked the troops with revolvers and knives. The principal disturbances today occurred in Noviswiat street, a leading business thoroughfare.

At 11 o'clock Sunday night a regiment of infantry marched to this thoroughfare from Smolna street, when somebody fired on them, whereupon the troops were ordered to form a square and fire from four sides.

There have been many sad cases of wholly innocent people shot accidentally as they turned street corners. There are rumors that hundreds have been killed in fighting in the suburbs, but I have personally investigated every such report and learn that there has been a comparatively small death roll.

Fighting was renewed this morning, people firing from their houses on the troops in Noviswiat street.

For that Cough take Piso's Cure for Consumption. It will cure at once.

BUSY GRINDING OUT LAWS

Number of Measures Get Through Both Branches of South Dakota Legislature.

PIERRE, S. D., Jan. 30.—(Special Telegram.)—The house judiciary committee today reported favorably the bill to define swindlers and confidence men and providing a penalty for their operations.

The principal new house bills presented were by Anderson, to strike out the 8 mill limitation of the levy placed on counties; by Madison, making county financial statements a part of the state auditor's annual report and requiring county officials to furnish the required statements; by Blain, to amend the medical law to allow magnetic healers to operate in the state.

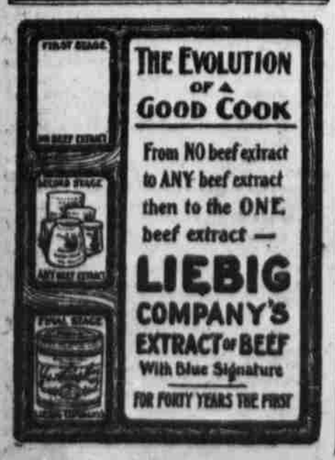
The house passed the house bill to amend the law in regard to the examination required for state certificates, to provide for interchange of certificates between states.

The house made laws by passing senate bills to appropriate $3,500 emergency deficiency fund for the Spearfish Normal, which was required to keep that institution in operation after this week; the bill legalizing liquor licenses granted the past two years in towns and cities where license elections had not been held; and making it the duty of school district officials to plant and protect trees and shrubs on the school grounds. Bowell moved to indefinitely postpone the last one, which brought to its defense Kribs, Jackson and Carroll, the bill passing by a vote of 59 to 22.

The senate today passed the house bill appropriating $8,853 deficiency at the Soldiers' home, and the house resolution memorializing congress for protection to the banks of the Missouri river.

The senate cleared its calendar of a number of senate bills, passing those providing for expenses of Lieutenant Governor Snow for opening the session of the senate; appropriating the proceeds of the North Carolina bonds to the State university; providing for the converting of the proceeds of any gifts or donations to the state into the state treasury; providing for the division of wards into voting precincts; appropriating $500 for land office filing fees for endowment lands; making abandonment of family a misdemeanor; fixing the liability of banks for forged paper at six months after return of check to customer.

The only new senate bill was by Lightner, authorizing officers to use force of arms if necessary to stop convicts in any attempt at escape or violence to keepers.



VOTE ON STATEHOOD BILL

Senate Agrees to Take Final Action on the Measure Next Tuesday.

HOUSE DISCUSSES THE POSTOFFICE BILL

Representative Hitchcock Speaks in Support of His Proposed Act to Establish Postal Savings Banks.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30.—The senate today agreed to vote on the joint statehood bill before adjourning on Tuesday, February 7, the amendments to be considered on that date under the ten minutes rule. Mr. Teller spoke during the day in opposition to the bill and several minor bills were passed.

In the senate today a bill extending to the Philippines the provisions of the revised statutes concerning the extradition of fugitives from justice was passed.

Mr. Gibson (Mont.) presented the certificate of election of Thomas H. Carter, who succeeds him in the senate.

A bill was passed to provide for the extension of time within which homestead settlers may establish their residence upon certain lands formerly part of the Rosebud Indian reservation, in Gregory county, South Dakota.

At 2 p. m. the statehood bill was taken up when Senator Teller (Colo.) addressed the senate.

When Mr. Teller concluded Mr. Beveridge obtained unanimous consent to vote on the statehood bill on Tuesday, February 7. The agreement provides that general debate shall close on Monday, that immediately after the reading of the journal Tuesday the senate shall proceed to consideration of amendments to the bill under the ten minute rule and that the bill and the agreements shall be voted on before adjournment. Under the agreement the proceeding is subject to interruption only by the Swayne impeachment case.

The senate then at 3:40 p. m. went into executive session and five minutes later adjourned.

It is by no means certain how many new states will be admitted to the union under the agreement reported today to vote on the joint statehood bill and its numerous amendments on February 7. There are prospects, however, that Oklahoma and Indian Territory will come in as one state and that New Mexico will come in as another, leaving Arizona as a territory.

Senator Beveridge, chairman of the committee on territories, who has charge of the bill, concedes that in its present form there is no hope for its passage. He says that his desire now is to give statehood to the million and a half people of Oklahoma and Indian Territory at this time and that later Arizona and New Mexico will be admitted as one state.

PROCEEDINGS OF THE HOUSE.

Extended Discussion of the Postal Appropriation Bill.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30.—After a protracted debate the house today adopted the conference report on the legislative, executive and judicial appropriation bill. As agreed to the bill carries $29,132,242.

The postoffice appropriation bill was taken up and its consideration had not been concluded when the house adjourned until tomorrow.

The house today agreed to conduct memorial services in respect to the late Senator Hoar on Sunday, February 12 at noon. The conference report on the legislative, executive and judicial appropriation bill was called up by Mr. Littauer (N. Y.). After a long debate the report finally was adopted on a yea and nay vote, 121 to 112.

Mr. Cooper (Wis.) presented the conference report on the Philippine government bill.

The house then, in committee of the whole, took up the postoffice appropriation bill, Mr. Lawrence (Mass.) in the chair.

Mr. Overstreet (Ind.) explained its features and expressed his gratification at the prospect of a decrease in the postal deficit.

Mr. Moon (Tenn.) expressed his disapproval of the subsidies to transportation companies for carrying the mails, but made a plea for more money for rural free delivery.

Mr. Hitchcock (Neb.) spoke at length in favor of his bill to create postal savings banks, after which the bill was laid aside.

Bills were passed permitting the legislative assembly of Oklahoma to make appropriations for the erection of buildings for the agricultural and mechanical college of that territory; to divide the state of Washington into two judicial districts, the eastern and western.

The house at 5:50 p. m. adjourned until tomorrow.

DROPPERS QUITS THE UNIVERSITY

Steps Out of Presidency With End of School Year.

VERMILION, S. D., Jan. 30.—(Special Telegram.)—Garrett A. Droppers today announced to his faculty that his duties as president of the State University of South Dakota would cease next June. It is stated in some quarters that his resignation is requested by the regents.

President Droppers refuses to make a statement. He has been at the head of the university six years.

YOUR VOWS MADE WITH GOD

Rev. Robert Yost Calls Attention to Their Making and Keeping.

ANOTHER PHASE OF HUMAN DELINQUENCY

Importance of Observing Compacts Made With the Almighty Urged on a Large Congregation Last Night.

The second week of the union evangelical services was begun last evening in the central district by Rev. Robert Yost, pastor of the St. Mary's Avenue Congregational church, at the First Presbyterian church. Rev. Mr. Yost talked to his hearers of broken vows and resolutions in the Christian life, and spoke with an earnestness that carried a force of conviction. He likened the condition of the children of Israel to a day of drouth, with every vestige of vegetation parching under a blighting sun, the brooks going dry, the cattle panting for the cooling waters and the earth cracking. Then a morning cloud, figuratively speaking, would pass over Israel and the hot sun would come out again and the drouth would again be felt.

"God had been watching with a sad heart these conditions of Israel and then drew Himself away, believing His children would come back to Him, and they did come back," said the speaker.

Makes a New Covenant.

"God said to the children of Israel, 'You have broken all my resolutions. I will send my son, the hope of glory. I will make a new covenant with my people. I will make a better, a holier covenant.' God sent His son that we may look a wicked world in the face without a blush.

"Do you remember the time when you said, 'God, spare me another day and I will take the whole world to my heart.' Do you remember the time when your affairs became so complicated that you called out to God in your despair for help to solve the problem, promising in return life-long allegiance to the Almighty? Do you recall the time when some loved one was spared to life and you promised to be a better man or woman? And did you keep these vows? Friends, we trifle mightily with the heavenly Father when we scorn to keep the vows we made.

Experience of the Patriarch.

"Jacob promised if God would give him food and raiment until he reached his uncle's land he would give to the Lord one tenth of his earnings and build a house of worship. But when Jacob reached his uncle's land, by the grace of God, he forgot the promise made. He waxed rich and many, many years passed by, until Jacob experienced an awful night. God sent a shame on his head, and then Jacob said, 'I will build that house of worship, Lord; I will keep my vows.' If you forsake your vows to God you are trifling with the greatest love the world ever knew. In spite of every difficulty and every opposing force, the Father is willing to lay bare His arm that we may not fall and thus fall short of our vows."

Rev. Mr. Yost concluded with a fervent appeal for all to become as children again and forsake not the early vows and fail not to bring sinners to God.

Rev. Robert Yost will continue the services at the same church until Friday evening.

DEATH RECORD

Nicholas Rumel, Sr.

In the death and burial of Nicholas Rumel, sr., Omaha has lost one more of the pioneers who helped in the upbuilding of the city, with right good will in his own sphere. Mr. Rumel died of old age as much as anything else, passing peacefully away as if going to sleep. He was born in Philadelphia in 1823 and was something over 81 years of age. He came to Omaha in 1868 and had made his home here ever since. Up to the time when he was no longer able to work actively at his trade he was engaged in the building line.

Mr. Rumel leaves, besides a widow, seven living children. They are: Mrs. Isaac Sylvester, Mrs. Edward Rannie, Mrs. Thomas Miller, Nicholas, jr., and Samuel J. of Omaha, William, living at Clearwater, Neb., and Mrs. Andrew Martin of Park City, Utah. Mr. and Mrs. Rumel celebrated their golden wedding eight years ago, having lived together in happiness and true companionship for fifty-eight years.

The funeral was held Sunday from the residence, 2230 Clark street, to the Latter Day Saints' chapel, where services were held. Interment was made at Forest Lawn cemetery.

William Nickel, sr.

William Nickel, sr., an old resident of the south side, was found dead in bed yesterday morning by his wife. It is believed old age caused death. Mr. Nickel was 86 years of age and was a pioneer citizen of Hartman's addition. The funeral arrangements have not yet been decided on. Owing to the fact that he died without medical attendance some of the members of the family have asked Coroner Brailey to hold an inquest. The coroner is undecided whether an inquest is necessary. William Nickel, jr., a son of the deceased, is foreman of The Bee press room.

John Stoddard.

Dr. John Stoddard of Silver Creek died suddenly at 5 a. m. Monday. He had not complained of being very ill and his death came as a surprise to all his friends. Deceased was a son of H. H. Stoddard of Omaha. The funeral announcement will be made later.

HYMENEAL.

Smith-Flint.

CALIFORNIA JUNCTION, Ia., Jan. 30.—(Special.)—Yesterday noon at the home of the bride's parents in California Junction occurred the marriage of Joseph Smith to Jennie Flint, both of this place.

HE FOUND IT

Just as Recommended.

"I bought a fifty cent package of Pyramid Pile Cure from my druggist, and have used two dollar packages since I find them just as you recommended them to be. I have not felt the least sign of piles since using your remedy three months ago. If you want to use my name you may do so, as I feel like a new man. I now have no trouble with the dreadful, aggravated disease.

"I meant to write you sooner, but thought I would wait until I was cured. I thank you for your wonderful Pile Cure. I was a great sufferer from piles." Fred Deerr, R. F. D. 4, New Brunswick, N. J.

Seldom if ever is there any doubt about the effect produced by the use of Pyramid Pile Cure, as is shown by the experience given above. The proprietors of this remedy have thousands of similar letters on file, and surely no better proof of the merit of the preparation could be asked; when it is borne in mind that these letters are wholly unsolicited, there is certainly cause for pride in the remedy.

Pyramid Pile Cure is sold by druggists for fifty cents a package, and if your's hasn't it he will get it for you if asked to do so. Accept no substitutes, and remember there is no other remedy "just as good." Everyone is urged to write Pyramid Drug Co., Marshall, Mich., for their little book describing the causes and cure of piles as it affords much useful information and is sent free for the asking.

WOMAN IN CLUB AND CHARITY

Superintendent W. M. Davidson of the city schools addressed the social science department of the Woman's club at yesterday afternoon's meeting, his subject being "Parental Schools, Detention and Truant Schools in Connection with the Public Schools." He said there is considerable misapprehension regarding these terms and made a distinction between them. Truancy, he said, has five causes usually. First, mental or physical defects which make the child unable to cope with his fellows, such as defective eyesight and defective hearing. Second, poor teaching and bad management in the schools, such as the inability of teachers to deal with the abnormal or exceptional child. Third, poor home influence, such as lack of discipline or lack of unity in the home. Fourth, the cigarette habit with poor home control. He advocates the enforcement of the anti-cigarette law. Fifth, the desire of boys, especially, to engage in some productive occupation. To counteract this Mr. Davidson advocates the manual training school, compulsory in the grades and elective in the high school. This, he said, has reduced truancy as an issue in the schools. Some other preventives he suggested were: Good supervision, that is, teachers with the heart in their work that enables them to reach out and deal sympathetically with the defective or delinquent child; good principals and grade teachers, as no community can rise above its educators; ample play grounds that will admit of organizing the "ganging" spirit of the boys and convert that energy to higher ideals through games that would interest and hold them. Omaha is deficient in its play grounds, he said. The truant school, which he does not approve of calling a truant school, but rather an ungraded school, he said should be instituted for such children as, being defective, abnormal or over-mischievous, are a disturbing element in the ordinary school and cannot be subdued or controlled by the ordinary methods.

The parental or detention school he advocated for boys of criminal tendencies or wayward boys; a school conducted on the merit credit system, where such boys might be detained until they have earned the right to return to their homes and the regular school, and so be tided over a dangerous period and saved from becoming criminals. Such an institution should operate in connection with the juvenile court and is not the same as a reform school. Mr. Davidson also contends for closer relations between the home and the school. He thinks the public schools admit of broader possibilities than merely the education of the children; that school buildings should be constructed with an auditorium where the patrons may meet for educational lectures and the study of social and like problems.

The Iowa Women's Press club, an organization of some of the cleverest newspaper women in Iowa, were guests of their president, Mrs. W. L. Brown, at a luncheon at the Chamberlain hotel at Des Moines last Monday noon. The affair was informal in the extreme literal sense of that word and unique to the same degree. Dignity was suppressed under penalty. The guests were received in the parlor and when all had assembled, cake walked to the banquet room. Each woman contributed some original stunt from the line of her own particular specialty. A special orchestra was provided from the ranks of the club that, according to a Des Moines paper, "gave evidence of careful rehearsals either by 'phone or mail, singing with utter abandon and a serene and touching disregard for harmony." The verses, composed by one of the members, pertained to the profession and were sung to popular airs. The luncheon was an event that will go down in the annals of the club as one of its star occasions and as conclusive proof that it is possible for women to have a thoroughly good time without a "man in it."

The Dorchester club of Massachusetts has come back into the fold and there is much rejoicing in the state federation. The Dorchester club, numbering about 500 members, withdrew from the state organization several years ago. It is considered one of the strongest clubs in the country and its return to the state federation speaks much for the helpfulness of that organization even to strong and influential clubs.

The postponed private recital by the Oratory department of the Woman's club will be given at 10 o'clock Wednesday morning in the club rooms.

Mrs. Sarah Platt Decker has called a meeting of all presidents of clubs and federations, chairmen of standing committees and directors and officers of the General Federation of Women's clubs to be held at Atlantic City June 7 and 8. The object of the meeting is for council and the discussion of the work of the standing committees and general work that the women may keep in touch with the various interests between biennials.

The Idaho federation will be the first state organization affected under the direction of Mrs. Decker, January 30 and 31 have been announced for the formal organization. Mrs. Decker has conducted the direction by correspondence.

One thousand members is the ambition of the Lincoln Woman's club. The organization has now over 700 women enrolled, and some of them at least are confident of acquiring the desired number within the year.

The Lincoln Association of College Alumnae at a recent meeting made "Dean of Women" the subject of their consideration. A number of interesting reports from the deans of various colleges and universities were read and the need of a dean of women in the University of Nebraska and the desirability of a dean for the high school were discussed.

COMMERCIAL CLUB CONVENTION

Meeting for Fremont Next Week Gets Strong Endorsement Through the State.

Twenty-five commercial clubs and other organizations have endorsed the coming meeting in Fremont on February 7 and 8. The interest would appear to be general. The date is unfortunate so far as Omaha is concerned, for the Nebraska hardware dealers will be meeting here at that time and several men who would otherwise go must remain in Omaha. The meeting will begin at 10 o'clock Tuesday. Copies of all the legislative bills introduced will be on file for examination. In the evening at the convention hall, beginning at 6:30 o'clock, will be a big dinner given by the Fremont Commercial club. Wednesday will be considered the formation of a state association, and if this is formed officers will be elected and organization provided.

The program will include the consideration of subjects calculated to promote local commercial club organization and one of more efficient substantial and permanent basis than is sometimes the case. Present problems are to be considered and factors of statewide business interest and cooperation. The formation of a state organization will be the greatest matter of importance. The clubs which will take part in the meetings are Omaha, Chadron, Fremont, Beatrice, St. Edward, Lexington, Falls City, Auburn, Plattsmouth, St. Paul, Grand Island, West Point, Omaha Real Estate exchange, Johnstown, Geneva, Nebraska City, York, Ord, Fairfield, O'Neill, Pierce, Central City, Norfolk and Wahoo.

AFFAIRS AT SOUTH OMAHA

Public Library Proves Immensely Popular Among All Classes.

NEARLY AS MANY PATRONS AS BOOKS

Librarian Abbott Tells of the Rush and Also of the Plan She Has for Training Assistants in the Work.

More books; more help.

That is the gathering word at the new public library. "I never expected so many patrons in so short a time," said Miss Jane Abbott, the librarian, to a representative of The Bee yesterday, "for, indeed, we had no reason whatever to expect half so much interest in the new library as is already being shown."

Miss Abbott says the rooms are filled from morning until night, and that far greater demand for books of all kinds is being made than was ever anticipated by the library authorities. "It seems almost ridiculous that we have nearly as many patrons as we have books," continued Miss Abbott. "Yet that is true, for while there are now over 900 patrons, there are less than 1,600 volumes in the library altogether. More books are needed at once, and we hope to have some at an early date."

Miss Abbott has a plan to get help cheaply, and perhaps plentifully. She announces that a number of bright young people, or old people for that matter, with the proper knowledge of books are wanted to serve an apprenticeship in the library. The terms of service are grails, five hours per day for three months. Miss Abbott asserts that this is a splendid opportunity for one to learn books of all kinds, and she hopes that a number of persons will avail themselves of the privilege. Young high school graduates are preferred, if they have an inclination to literature.

The Library board will meet Wednesday afternoon, and it is said to be the board's intention at that time to purchase another installment of books of fiction. There seems to be a special demand for good fiction, a tendency very gratifying to the members of the Library board. Historical works are also in good demand. There is every reason to believe from the interest thus far manifested that Mr. Carnegie struck a popular chord here after all when he gave funds for the new library.

Off to Lincoln Wednesday.

Wednesday is the day set for the visit of the South Omaha delegation to the state capitol in the interest of and against certain legislation affecting South Omaha. The chief aim of the delegation, which comprises a score of leading business and professional men, is to convince the legislators of the popular uprising of local sentiment against the bill designed to give the city council authority to issue bonds in the sum of $250,000 for sewer purposes, without first having the matter submitted to a popular vote. The contention of those who oppose this feature of the bill is that such authority should not be given over to four councilmen when a proposition of such import is involved, and that the people must by all means have a vote on it anyway. They further assert that it is unfair to expect such an expenditure of money for a sewer the purpose of which is principally to drain the stock yards and packing district. They declare that the corporations should pay at least a half of the cost of the sewer, which is to solve the Mud creek problem. The delegation will also exhibit a petition signed by city officials and business men against the proposed twelve-hour shift of firemen. It is said that the delegation will also oppose the bill introduced to make the fire and police commissioners elective instead of appointive officials.

Wednesday a Bargain Day.

Local merchants have a plan on foot by which they agree to set apart Wednesday of every week for what is to be known as "bargain day." On every Wednesday, both throughout the day and evening, special bargains are to be on hand, and special effort will be made to supply all customers with whatsoever they may want. John Flynn, the well known clothier, is said to be the leading spirit in the movement. He had a petition signed by all the leading business firms last evening, to bring about the idea as above outlined. The plan is believed to be a good one, and many believe it will appeal to patrons and build up home patronage.

Special Board Meeting.

A special meeting of the Board of Education was held last evening for the purpose of hearing the complaints of the patrons of the West Side school over the removal of Miss Salome Brandt, whom Superintendent McLean a few days ago summarily removed to another building, placing in her stead Miss McDowell. The superintendent's action resulted in the walking out of about thirty pupils, and less than half a dozen faces have graced the Eighth grade room of the West Side school ever since. The board felt that something must be done in the matter, and accordingly the special meeting was called, resulting in giving the matter wholly into the hands of the teacher's committee for settlement. The committee is to meet today and choose a successor to Miss Brandt in that grade, the board thinking it unwise to establish a precedent by reinstating the teacher transferred by the superintendent. During the session superintendent McLean was asked to confer with the teacher's committee, which he flatly refused to do. Then President Morrill waxed warm, and he told the superintendent emphatically that the board would undertake the gigantic responsibility of disposing of the entire case without assistance from the superintendent.

AFFIRMS BEEF CASES

brothers said today that no further effort will be made to delay the execution of the sentence of the district supreme court.

Denver Election Case Filed.

The so-called Denver election fraud cases found their way into the supreme court of the United States today in the shape of a petition for a writ of habeas corpus, which was presented by United States Senator Patterson. The cases covered by the petition are those of Peter Miller and Thomas Shepperson.

These cases arose out of the proceedings of the supreme court of Colorado under which the two men who were judges of election were sent to jail on the charge of contempt of court. The grounds for the writ were that the Colorado supreme court, without authority of law, undertook the regulation of the late election by injunction; that the imprisonment of the petitioners for alleged violation of the injunction was wholly without authority of law, and that the petitioners were deprived of their liberty without due process.

Packers Will Not Talk.

CHICAGO, Jan. 30.—Officials of Swift and Company declined to discuss the court decision. J. Ogden Armour, president of Armour & Co., was equally reticent.

Judge Peter S. Grosscup of the United States circuit court, speaking of the decision, said:

The substance of the case presented to the circuit court was whether the purchase of cattle from sellers living in different states to manufacture into dressed meats and the sale of such meats to purchasers in different states constituted interstate commerce or not.

The decision establishes the right of the government to prevent combinations among the manufacturers of meats. It forfeits the Sherman act. It is a long step in the direction of effectual government supervision. But, to my mind, the real significance of the decision is much deeper and far-reaching than even this. It effectively clears the decks for what I believe will be the next really great national movement—as the restriction, and finally the abolition, of slavery was the last great fundamental movement—the organization and supervision by the nation itself of the great corporations of the future—a movement whose chief object will be not so much to control prices or merely to curb power as to bring corporate ownership within the reach and reasonable confidence of the people at large, and thus to repeoplize and republicanize again the industrial ownership of the country.

John S. Miller has acted as special counsel for the packers in the proceedings, and said:

The order, as I understand it, simply makes permanent the injunction restraining the packers from doing business in restraint of trade and in violation of the Sherman anti-trust law. They have assured me that they have done nothing in violation of these; hence the permanent restraining order does not in any manner inconvenience them. It does not charge them with or convict them of wrong doing. I cannot say what further action may be taken. The only thing that I see that could be done would be to request rehearing of the case.

C. W Armour Denies Complicity.

KANSAS CITY, Jan. 30.—The packers in this city say the decision of the United States supreme court will not affect them. When told that the court had upheld the lower court's decision that the packers were in a combine to control the price of meat C. W. Armour of the Armour Packing company said:

The business of the Armour Packing company is conducted entirely independent of that of the other packers. The price of cattle and of fresh meat is governed entirely by supply and demand, and there is no combine or understanding between the packers as to the price of cattle or fresh meats. We are in the market every day for cattle, and there is open competition among the packers for the offerings at the stock yards.

The price of meat is fixed as the price of other products bought and sold in the open market. There is no secret understanding or combine of any kind between the packers to control the price of meat or other packing house product. We shall conduct our business in the future just as we have in the past—absolutely independent of any of the other packers. The decision in the supreme court on that question will not affect our manner of doing business in the least because we are not a party to any trust or combine.

Arrested for Purse Snatching.

George Solony of Louisville, Colo., was arrested last night and booked as a suspicious character. About 9 o'clock last evening Georgia Gye, 230 North Fifteenth street, met Solony at the corner of Fifteenth and Chicago and Solony grabbed her purse, but failed to get it, as Georgia held on. After one jerk he let go and started away, but changed his mind and came back toward her, when Georgia let out a few screams that attracted the attention of Officer Dillon, who was near by and who came to her assistance and placed the would-be purse snatcher under arrest.

TROLLEY CARS IN COLLISION

Slippery Rails Let Dodge Motor Hit Walnut Hill Car on Crossing Down Town.

An eastbound Dodge street car collided with a northbound Walnut Hill car at Thirteenth and Dodge streets, at 6:20 last evening. Both cars were comfortably filled with passengers, but none of them were seriously hurt. The cars had slowed down for the crossing. Miss Olsen, 308 Pratt street, was shaken up considerably and bruised about the body. J. J. Kane, 615 North Twentieth street, was scratched about the face and his leg was bruised. Simon Tessa of Benson was bruised about the body. Motorman Morgerson of the Dodge street car had his face and hands cut by falling glass. All of the passengers were transferred to the following cars, and traffic was delayed but a few minutes. The wrecked cars were pushed to one side of the street, clearing the track.

The exact reason is not known for the accident, but it is supposed that owing to the slippery condition of the rails it was impossible for the Dodge car to stop in time to avoid the wreck. The front end of the Dodge street car struck the Walnut Hill car just as the forward trucks crossed the Dodge tracks. The force of the collision tore a hole about two feet square in the side of the Walnut Hill car and broke a number of windows. The front end of the Dodge street car was completely wrecked and almost every window in the car broken. The Dodge car was in charge of Motorman Morgerson and Conductor Berry; the Walnut Hill car in charge of Motorman E. Benson and Conductor H. Whitney.

What! Another dizzy spell?

"Vertigo" the doctors call it. You naturally fear it is brain trouble, nervous prostration, heart disease.

But your doctor will tell you it is your liver. A sluggish liver means a poor circulation, a congested brain, a disordered stomach, constipated bowels.

Ayer's Pills are liver pills. They act directly on the liver. You will need only one each night for a few nights. Your indigestion and biliousness will quickly disappear.

Made by the J. C. Ayer Co., Lowell, Mass. Also manufacturers of AYER'S HAIR VIGOR—For the hair. AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL—For coughs.

AYER'S SARSAPARILLA—For the blood. AYER'S AGUE CURE—For malaria and ague.
