COUNCIL BLUFFS:

E. E. Hart and J. P. Greenshields Security for His Appearance for Trial.

APPROVED BY CLERK AT COUNCIL BLUFFS

Case is Said to He About the Sole Tople of Conversation at Logan, County Seat of Harrison County.

Tom Dennison has furnished bonds for his appearance for trial in the Iowa courts two indictments now pending against him in Harrison county. Both bonds were signed by Ernest E. Hart, pres-Lient, and J. P. Greenshields, vice president, of the First National bank of this city, and were approved by Clerk Baird of the district court of Pottawattamle county.

It is said that almost the sole topic of conversation in Logan, the county seat of Harrison county, is Dennison and the indictments, and that fact. It is believed. will be made ground for a motion for a change of venue by Dennison's attorneys. The fact of his having the bonds approved Oakland avenue. here leads to the supposition that when the case comes up for trial it will be in the district court of this county.

Bursting Main Floods Cellars.

H. E. Knudsen, who runs a grocery and bakeshop at $06 South Main street, had an exciting time yesterday afternoon fighting flood of water which filled his cellar, along with those of several other merchants. in the neighborhood. One of the big water mains in the middle of the street broke and in a short time Knudsen's cellar was full. He had 600 hushels of potatoes stored away. and these he fears will be an entire loss, as the cold weather of the night froze them. Besides the potatoes, there was a lot of turning, beets, cabbage and other vegetables. The flood also penetrated into the adjoining building, where Knudsen's bakery is located, and covered his oven and all the other paraphernalia. A force of men was put at work pumping the water out, but in spite of their efforts damage to the amount of $500 was sustained.

Julius Katelman of the Council Bluffs Junk House also had his cellar full, but as it contained mostly old rags, bottles and junk of various sorts his damage was slight.

Peter Larsen, who has a shoe shop at 733 South Main street, was another victim, and the cellar was filled at No. 1 engine house at the corner of Main street and Eighth avenue.

In the last ten days there have been three other serious breakages of water mains and the officials of the water company are at a loss to account for them. The mains are buried five or six feet below the surface of the ground and are supposed to be below the influence of the cold. The shutting off of the water while repairs were being made has been the cause of no little inconvenience to the patrons of the company.
