The last seven days have been surprisbeen on the social calendar, but then soclety does not have to have things marked off for it in order to fill in the time. The fact is that there has been so much of formality this senson that the smart people are enjoying a little rest and the privilege. rather than conventionality. It has been a bright week, a week of enjoyable rather than pretentions things, and after all, those are the things that count.

As for this week-well, unless society does prove itself equal to entertaining at short notice it will have a quiet time, for aside from a few luncheons and club meetings and a duncing party or so, there is nothing

June 7 and 8 have been announced as the lates for the biennial council of presidents of the General Federation of Woman's Clubs which will be held at Atlantic City. The growth of the work of the federation and the broadening of its scope has made necessary this council of presidents and committee members alternating with the mennial convention of the general organization. The following outline of the program has been announced:

Morning session, 10 o'clock, address of welcome by Mrs. A. J. Newbury, president of the New Jersey Federation; response by Mrs. Sarah Piatt Decker; reports of committees on credentials, rules and regulations and revision of the by-laws. The afterfacen session at 2 o'clock will be in the hands of the barant of February 10.

Mrs. C. S. Richardson and Mrs. Edgar Pritchard Smith will entertain the members of the Entre Nous Card club and their husbands. Friday evening at 2218 Cass street.

Mrs. Abbie A. Adams of Superior, Neb. has been announced as a candidate for the presidency of the National Woman's Relief corps. The national convention will be held at Denver September 1. Mrs. Adams, who is the wife of Captain Claire Adams, is widely known in the organization, having filled several national offices, among them that of national inspector in 1883. She has also been department presiport of the states of the middle west and also, it is said, of Massachusetts which having the largest voting delegation, is always considered a valuable support for any candidate for the first office.

> The announcement of Governor Mickey that a woman is to be appointed to succeed Horace Clark as superintendent of the Geneva Industrial School for Girls will be gratifying, indeed, to the women of Nebrasks, who have so long advocated the installation of women at the head of institutions where women are confined. After careful consideration, Governor Mickey says he is convinced that a woman can better administer the affairs of the institution than a man, but requires that she must be a person of "determination, executive ability, firmness and kindness." There is no doubt that Nebraska affords plenty of women who are entirely qualified to fill such positions and it is to be hoped that it will not be long before all institutions for women and girls in the state will be under the supervision of women.

Miss Lavinia Egan, former secretary of the Board of Lady Managers of the Louisiana Purchase exposition, is writing a book and the other "lady managers" are greatly agitated in consequence, as it is suspected that they and their proceedings during their term of office are to contribute the material and interesting portion of the theme. It will be remembered that Miss Egan was voted out of office before the expiration of her term under circumstances that were never made altogether satisfac tory to her friends nor clear to the public and was succeeded by a woman from Missourt. Miss Egan is a New Orleans newspaper woman and a writer of more than ordinary ability, and if she does make the Board of Lady Managers the subject of her book it will undoubtedly afford interesting

The Pilgrim for February contains a symposium of the work of eight women who have become prominent in as many fields of work that the world has ut different times proclaimed "closed to women." The records they have established seem to prove that success is quite as possible to women as to men in whatever line of work they may choose to engage.

The art department will have charge of the program at Monday afternoon's meeting of the Woman's club, and Mrs. W. W. NERVOUS DYSPEPSIA.

A CURE FOR ALL.

Not a Patent Cure-all, Nor a Modern Miracle, But Simply a Rational Cure for Dyspepsia.

In these days of humbuggery and deception, the manufacturers of patent medicines, as a rule, seem to think their medicines will not sell unless they claim that it will cure every disease under the sun. And they never think of leaving out dyspepsia and stomach troubles. They are sufe to claim that their nestrum is absolutely certain to cure every dyspeptic and he need look no further.

In the face of these absurd claims it is refreshing to note that the proprietors of refrained from making any undue claims or false representations regarding the merits of this most excellent remedy for The English literature department of the dyspesia and stomach troubles.
