Throws Self Under Train. Angelo Balzarini, a passenger on Milwaukee passenger train No. 3, which reached here from Chicago last evening at himself under the train just as it was slowly pulling into the transfer depot yards. Death was instantaneous, his head being severed clean from the body. Circumstances indicate that the man became suddenly insane.

Balzarini, who was, according to the lcket and papers found on him, enroute from Clinton or Milford, Mass., to Cascade Locks, Ore., where a relative, Luigi Balzarini, lives. He was occupying a seat the smoking car when the train reached Council Bluffs and there was nothing in his manner to indicate that there was anything wrong with him. Shortly after the train left the local depot on Sixteenth avenue Balzarini arose from his seat and went out onto the rear platform of the car. He was seen to jump from the car by one of the brakemen and then throw himself under the train, which as it happened just came to a stop at that moment for a crossing.

Search was made and the man was found jammed in between the trucks and apparently but little injured. He was pulled from beneath the car and as one of his legs appeared to be injured he was carried by the train crew into the baggage car, where he was placed in a chair and the train proceeded on its way to the transfer depot.

Second Effort Successful. Just as the train was slowly putting into the yards the man asked the baggageman for a drink of water, and as the latter hastened to comply with the request Balzarini jumped from the chair and through the open door of the car. As the train was but crawling at the time he landed all right on his feet, and the next moment plunged headforemost under the wheels. The wheels went over the man's neck, severing the head from the body, which lay outside the rails. The train was stopped and the man's remains picked up and taken to the transfer depot and later removed to Cutler's undertaking rooms, where the inquest will be held this morning. Conductor C. R. Cornellus, who was in charge of the train from Marion, Ia., was unable to throw any light on the man's act, beyond that he supposed he became suddenly insane. He said: "I noticed the man sitting in the amoking car, but there was nothing about him or his manner to attract particular attention. After we picked him up when he first threw himself mder the train I asked him what he did it for, but as the fellow answered in Italian I could not understand what he was trying to tell. I thought his leg was so badly injured when we placed him in the baggage car that he could not jump out again. Council May Reseind Action. The city council, when it meets in adjourned session this afternoon, is expected to reseind its action of Monday night in refunding the taxes on Union Driving park. Protests against the action of the city ouncil have been pouring into the city hall and the aldermen, it was stated yesterday, have realized they acted without giving the matter due and careful consideration. DOMINICAN PROTOCOL SIGNED Island Government Agrees to Document Which Will Be Submit.

ted to Senate.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8 .- Minister Dawson has cabled the State department from San Domingo that the new protocol providing for the administration of San Domings finances by the United States was signed yesterday. The document is expected here early next week and will be submitted immediately to the senate.

It is drawn on the lines of the original protocol as far as concerns the administration of the customs by officials designated by the United States and the segregation of a portion of the customs receipts to defray the foreign indebtedness of the country. No date is set in the document for the beginning of this administration and that will be left for the senate to insert.

An important feature of the protocol is the omission of the provision in the original nemorandum of January 21, gharanteeing the integrity of San Domingo. The new document simply binds the United States to respect the integrity of Dominican territory. The Monroe doctrine is regarded as sufficient to convey the broadest guaranty It is also provided that the new protoco must, before coming effective, be approved not only by the United States senate, but by the Dominican congress, and this proviso makes it impossible to define the precise date upon which the agreement wil the state, has resigned and accepted a begin to operate. As the protocol is reposition in Chicago as the manager for the garded as executive business the State department does not feel at liberty to make public the text pending its disposal by the senate. The first section is but the position that the passage of the oralnance was regular and that the passage of the oralterritorial integrity of Santo Domingo. The convention or protocol specifically affirms the Monroe doctrine. The customs officials are to be subject to the civil and penal jurisdiction of the Dominican republic without being considered subjects of that government.
