This will be the first wedding in the family, the prospective bride being next to the youngest daughter. The groom-elect lives in Seattle, Wash.

The blissful disregard of an Omaha bride and groom for all the rest of the world has resulted in a rather embarrassing predicament to the young man's mother. They were married early in January, and as the bride is an out-of-town girl, the groom's mother had planned a reception to introduce her upon their return. The young people have been touring the Florida coast and were expected home early this week. Accordingly, invitations were engraved for the 15th, but when they were about to be issued word was received that the young people had decided to visit Cuba.
