NELSON STIRS UP COUNCIL

Proposed Charter Amendments that Have Aroused Opposition.
REMOVAL FROM OFFICE IS MADE EASY
Provision for Suspension of Any Officer of the City on Trivial Complaints is Objected to as Being Revolutionary.
Members of the city council have just discovered that in the draft for a revised charter prepared by Attorney W. T. Nelson of the revision committee there are several sections that the objectionable sections if argument can do it. The city fathers didn't suspect the charter revision committee of such awful things and they are extremely sorry now that they voted Mr. Nelson $300 for doing the work. They are threatening to rescind the resolution without delay, thus rendering void the protest of former Police Judge Gordon and other taxpayers.
How to Get Rid of Officials.
The chief of the proposed amendments provides that the mayor and council shall have concurrent jurisdiction to remove any officer of the city, except the mayor and council, upon the conviction of felony, for corruption or bribery, drunkenness or neglect of duty or any malfeasance in office, as provided by the laws applicable. It seeks to arrange so that the district court may remove from office and suspend during trial any officer of the city, including mayor and councilmen, upon the complaint of three or more electors or two or more disinterested persons. No more than ten days is given to the accused to appear before the court, and then he must show cause why he should not be impeached and removed from office. Cases of this kind are

AFFAIRS AT SOUTH OMAHA

Plans for Beautifying Residence Districts Are Being Discussed.
PARKING STREETS ONE OF THE LEADERS
Many Citizens Have Already Begun the Work in Anticipation of an Ordinance that Will Make It Legal.
Within a short time the mayor and city council will take up the matter of parking a number of streets. So far Twenty-third street, from F to J streets, has been parked, but the intention of properly opening up is to park the street from A to J streets. There is at the present time an ordinance in force regarding the parking of streets. This ordinance was passed on July 16, 1888, and was signed by W. G. Sloane as mayor and Thomas Hoctor as clerk. This ordinance provides that in parking streets a fifty-foot street may be parked ten feet; sixty-foot streets, twelve feet; sixty-six-foot streets may be parked thirteen feet; eighty-foot streets, sixteen feet and streets 100 feet in width may be parked twenty feet. On their own account a number of property owners have parked their streets with the expectation that an ordinance will soon be passed making this permissible.
Some of the streets in the residence portion are considered too wide and the object of parking is to permit the planting of trees and the location of flower beds between the sidewalk and the curb lines. If this is done as the property owners propose many of the residence streets will be parked during the coming summer. There is also some talk of trying to establish a boulevard in South Omaha, and if this is done the parked streets will be in their share of the benefits to be derived from the boulevard fund.
Funeral of Ralph Sage.
Ralph Sage, one of the best known men in South Omaha, as buried yesterday by the members of Bee Hive lodge. Services were held at the First Presbyterian church, Rev. R. L. Wheeler officiating. The church was crowded with friends and relatives of the deceased and floral offerings were something out of the ordinary. The pall bearers were W. B. Wymann, B. E. Wilcox, J. W. Hastings, Charles McAdam, J. F. Schultz and A. B. Farrer. At the grave in Laurel Hill cemetery the Mason held the final service over the dead. This ceremony was in charge of C. C. Howe, master of the lodge.
Will Let Snow Remain.
Mayor Koutsky said yesterday that he had been asked a number of times why he did not put men and teams at work removing snow from the streets. In reply to this question the mayor said to a Bee reporter last night that to move the snow would cost about $1,500. There still remains in the street repair fund about $1,500 and this must last until August 1. "I will not permit an overlap in this or any other fund," said the mayor. The snow will have to melt and run off into the sewers, for I do not propose employing men and teams to remove the snow from the streets or sidewalks." It was suggested to him that he might give work to quite a number of unemployed men in the removal of snow, but this the chief executive refused to do as he said that the money in the street

CLEANING UP CRIMINAL LIST

One Saturday Morning in Judge Day's Court Serves as Example.
DISPOSING OF THE MINOR PRESENTMENTS
Methods of Procedure by Which County Attorney and Court Dispatch the Business on an Arraignment Day.
A specimen "clearing up" Saturday morning in Judge Day's court, as noted down while this important wheel of the mills of justice is grinding at ordinary speed, offers an interesting study.
The county attorney calls several men for arraignment and as each man is called a deputy sheriff presents him at the bar. The county attorney reads the information and then the court states to the prisoner the penalty the law imposes for the crime charged.
"Albert McDonald, what do you plead to the charge of larceny from the person—guilty or not guilty?"
"Not guilty."
The prisoner being asked if he has a lawyer or any money to employ one, and answering no, the court names an attorney, who will be paid by the state. Some of the best men at the bar are thus assigned by the court and give to their impromptu clients good and faithful service.
Following McDonald's morning, Arnold Solomon, a 15-year-old boy, accused of incorrigibility and sent to the district court for commitment to the reform school.
Judge Day—I will appoint Mr. Hodder to look into the case and protect the rights of his boy. Mr. Bailiff, telephone for Mr. Hodder.
The attorney was soon on hand and had a long talk with the boy and his father, J. J. Solomon, while other cases were being disposed of. At the conclusion of these the lad was again presented to the court and Judge Slaughter said it was his desire to avoid having the boy in jail and to keep him from getting into more serious trouble.
Boy Saved for the Time.
Attorney Hodder also reported what he had learned, which was that the Solomon boy was impatient of restraint, disobedient and inclined to keep bad company. The father confirmed the statement, but agreed with Mr. Hodder and a suggestion of court that if given another chance he might improve. In that case they would be only too glad to have him at home.
Judge Day—This is a case where a juvenile court would be most useful. Mr. Solomon, I will take your bond for the production of this boy in court if we conclude he should be sent to the reform school, and that is where he must go until he is 21 if he does not behave himself.
The court said to the lad standing out before the bench, and not reaching half way up: "You must go to school, stay home at night and quit smoking cigarettes. All proper and regular in its way, but all going to show that the criminal court is a busy place. And the carpet on the floor within the bar so dirty, ragged and filthy that it would distract the attention of a

SNOW PLOW STRIKES TRAIN

Conductor Loudy Caught in Caboose and Crushed to Death.
A snow plow sent out on Thursday night by the Chicago & St. Paul, Minneapolis & Omaha road to open the snow drifts plunged into a freight train with fatal effect. The freight was local No. 16 and was battling with the growing drifts between Sioux City and Omaha. Near Dakota City there is a sharp curve in the road. The snow plow had been sent out to clear the road and was making good time. A cloud of swirling snow helped to obscure the vision and the engineer could not see the lights. Between 11 and 12 o'clock he approached the train, which was slowing up. Before the engineer realized his danger he plunged into the caboose of the freight. Conductor J. S. Loudy was in the caboose alone and before he realized his danger the snow plow was plunging into the car. The conductor was thrown to the side of the caboose and crushed to death. The remains were removed to Sioux City, where Conductor Loudy's family lives. He is survived by his widow and two children. Two members of the crew were injured, but not seriously, by being thrown from the train. The snow plow was in charge of Engineer Wiesberg. It is claimed that owing to the snow and the bend in the road he could not see the danger signals in front.

Two Made Happy

Rosecoe J. Stanley and Mrs. Harriet Curtis were married Saturday morning by Judge Vinson. The groom gave his wife an 47 and the bride confessed to 25. Few happier young couples have left the precinct of the court house this winter, although they confessed a mutual love was the main asset at present. The groom insisted on presenting Cupid's under-swing, License Clerk Morrill, with a large orange and the bride gave Judge Vinson a smile that expressed decided approval of the officiating minister. The bride and groom were accompanied by Hans Clausen and Mrs. Hansina Marie Hansen, both of Omaha, on Saturday secured a license to wed.

"77" Cures Colds and GRIP Back-ache.

Back-ache is the most distressing symptom of Grip. It may be between the shoulder blades, extending clear through to the chest, or down in the kidney region; it may take the form of Lumbago (crick-in-the-back), and lame you so that you cannot walk or stand; it will be impossible to move, groan. The Backache of Grip destroys your disposition and makes you a bugbear to your family and friends. Why not try Dr. Humphreys' "Seventy-seven"? It works wonders—cures Grip, breaks up the Cold and prevents Pneumonia.
