Federal Grand Jury in Oregon Returns or nine feet thick. More Indictments.

CONSPIRACY TO DEFEAT ENDS OF JUSTICE

Men Charged with Other Crimes Must Answer for Attacking Reputation of District Attorney

Heney.

PORTLAND, Ore., Feb. 13.-Indictments were returned by the federal grand jury this afternoon against former United States District Attorney John B. Hatt Private De tentive H. P. Ford, former Major H. i. Rees, Deputy Sheriff John Cordano, A. P. Caylor, a local grain broker, and Saloonkeeper Fred Simpson.

The charge against Hall, Rees, Ford, Cordane and Caylor is that they conspired to defeat the ends of justice by attacking the reputation of District Attorney Hency. Rees was formerly connected with the paymaster general's office in this city and was cashiered for embezziement. The grand jury immediately after the indictments were returned was dismissed from further attendance upon the court until such time hereafter as it may be summoned. It is expected that this will be some time in March, after United States District Attorney Hency returns from Washington, where he will go tomorrow to argue before the United States supreme court a motion for a writ of habous corpus in the Hyde-Dimond case.

The indictment charges the defendants with having entered into a conspiracy to blacken the character of Umted States District Attorney F. J. Hency by circulating reports which connected Mr. Heney's name with that of Marie L. Ware, one of the defendants in one of the first land fraud cases, and in seeking to induce the district attorney of Multonomah county. Oregon, to begin an action against Mr Heney on the strength of this trumped-up scandal. The purpose of this inquiry, according to the indictment, was to bring Mr Hency Into disfavor with the Department of Justice at Washington and ultimately cause his removal from office.

Mitchell Charged with Conspiracy. The United States grand jury late today returned an indictment charging United States Senator Mitchell, Congressman John Williamson and Binger Hermann and others with having conspired to have created the Blue mountain forest reserve in eastern Oregon, with the intent of defrauding the government of public lands and of also conspiring to obtain possession of more than 200,000 acres of public and school lands located in several states of the value of over $3,000,000. Williamson's High Ideals

WASHINGTON, Feb. 13.-Representative John N. Williamson of Oregon, who on inturday last was indicted by the federal grand jury at Portland, Ore., for alleged conspiracy to defraud the United States of public lands, said today that he would not attend the sessions of the house of representatives pending his trial for the offense with which he is charged. Mr. Williamson said he had high ideals of what the house should be and believed it would be an affront to his fellow members to appear on the floor while the cloud caused by the charges against him is hanging over him. He declined to make any statement regarding his indictment. Representative Binger Hermann, Mr. Williamson's colleague from Oregon, who also has been indicted by the grand jury in connection with the land fraud cases, has ing districts by proclamation, said districts that the steamers Deutschland and Hambeen attending sessions of the house since the indictment.

PRESIDENT ON PUBLIC LANDS Chief Executive's Meanage to Congress Advocates Revision of Present Laws.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 13 .- A second partial report of the public lands commission was sent to congress today by President Roosevelt, who in his letter of transmittal, says the report, seems "to require a radical revision of most of the laws affecting the public domain if we are to secure the best possible use of the remaining public lands by actual home makers."

The president's letter follows: submit herewith the second partial report of the Public Lands commission, appointed by me October 22, 1903, to report upon the condition, operation and effect of the present land laws and to recommens such changes as are needed to effect the largest practical disposition of the public iargest practical disposition of the public lands to actual settlers who will build homes upon them and to secure in permanence the fullert and most effective use of the resources of the public lands. The subject is one of such magnitude and importance that I have concluded to submit this second partial report bearing on some of the larger features which require immediate attention without waiting for the final statement of the commission, which, from the very nature of the case, it has not been possible to complete at this time. I am in full sympathy with the general conclusions of the commission substance and in essence, and I commend its recommendations to your earnest and in substance and in essence, and tooling its recommendations to your earnest and favorable consideration. The existing conditions as set forth in this report seem to require a radical revision of most of the laws affecting the public domain, if we are to secure the best possible use of the remaining public lands by setual home makers.

The report is signed by W. A. Richards, and commissioner; F. H. Newell of the geological survey and Gifford Pinchot, chief of the bureau of forestry. In a summary of its recommendations the report says the conclusions are based on a broad general view of the public land situation, not on specific cases. Among other things the commission says:

The present laws are not suited to The present laws are not suited to meet the conditions of the growing public domain. The agricultural possibilities are unknown, Provision should be made to ascertain them, and pending such ascertainment, to hold, under government control and in trust for such use, the lands likely to be developed by actual settlers. The right to exchange lands in forest reserves for lands outside should be withdrawe.

Provision should be made for the purchase of needed private lands inside forest reserves, or for the exchange of such lands for specified tracts of like area under value outside the reserves.

The report renews its recommendation for the repeal of the timber and stone acts, and asks that the sale of timber for unreserved public lands should be authorized. The commutation clause of the homestead act is found on examination to work badly. Three years' actual residence should be required before commutation. The desert land law is found to lead to land monopoly in many cases. The area of a desert entry should be reduced to not exceeding 160 acres.
