

Be it known that in the name of Justice

The unwarrantable attack of some editor upon the good name of a medicine which has been recommended by mothers and women in all stations of life, claiming that it contains 17% alcohol and other injurious ingredients, will be answered, for Dr. R. V. Pierce, the widely known physician and founder of the Invalide Hotel and Surgical Institute, at Buffalo, N. Y., has brought suit against the publication making this unfounded attack, claiming $30,000 damages. The sworn complaint shows that the statements concerning our remedy made by this publication are wholly and absolutely false in every particular, and that the medicine contains no deleterious ingredients whatever, and none of the ingredients stated in the article so published. If you question the purity of Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription, send a bottle to the health department of your city for analysis. Dr. R. V. Pierce is a specialist in the diseases of women, and employed this Prescription in a large practice, and finding that it cured the diseases and weaknesses of women in almost every case, he put it up in a form that could be easily procured at any drug store. It has enjoyed the confidence of the public for the past thirty-eight years, and during that time has had a larger sale than any other woman's tonic for almost every woman who has tried it recommends it to her friends. Dr. R. V. Pierce is willing to offer $1,000 reward to any one proving that Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription does or ever did contain any alcohol or harmful drug. This Prescription is nature's cure, because it is a pure compound of medicinal plants and roots, scientifically extracted and combined, intended for the one single purpose of curing female weakness and the pains and drains incident to that distressing complaint. One of the largest wholesale drug houses in this country, writing from Philadelphia, stated, that after their attention was called to the article in the publication mentioned, they asked the most prominent chemist in Philadelphia, Dr. Lefmann, to analyze a bottle of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and report concerning the analysis. They say: "We received the following report: "In response to a request from you we have tested a sample of the article sold as Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, and have not been able to find either alcohol or opium in the same."

$1,000 REWARD is offered as a guarantee that DR. PIERCE'S FAVORITE PRESCRIPTION contains no alcohol, opium, or any harmful drug. Any one publishing false statements concerning its ingredients will be prosecuted. It has enjoyed the confidence of the public for over a third of a century.

BABY GETS BEER FROM UNCLE

Mother Tells Pitiful Story of a Man's Brutality in Police Court.

ARTHUR LANDMESSER GETS OFF EASILY

Arrested on Charge of Abusing Family, His Sister-in-Law Declines to Prosecute Him Through Fear for Herself.

If the story told of Arthur Landmesser by his sister-in-law, Madge Landmesser, be true, which the police are inclined to believe, the police may thank his stars that he got off in police court with a fine of $1 and costs on a charge of being drunk, to which he pleaded guilty. Landmesser was arrested Wednesday evening by Officer Cunningham on the charge of being drunk and abusing his family, which, in fact, is the family of his brother, Roy Landmesser. The most suspicious part of the man's offense was that of getting his 2-year-old nephew, Harold Landmesser, drunk on money he had received from his sister-in-law and then abusing the woman when she returned from work at the Eagle restaurant. The woman was inclined to prosecute, for fear of implicating herself in a more serious matter, the result of a misplaced confidence she had reposed in him, so it is stated.

Bought Beer for Boy. Several witnesses who live at 302 1/2 South Eleventh street, where the Landmessers have been living, say the man came home Wednesday evening with both himself and the little boy in a state of maudlin drunkenness. The boy was taken sick later in the evening and received medical attention all night. A saloon keeper at one of the saloons on South Tenth street told Officer Cunningham that during the afternoon Landmesser sent the boy in with 5 cents to buy some beer. The saloon man heard a tiny voice in front of the bar asking for beer. He leaned over the bar and saw the little outstretched hand with the coin.

"Get water," said little Harold Landmesser. The barkeeper came out from behind the bar, patted the boy on the head and told him he ought to buy candy with his nickel. Landmesser was located near by and reprimanded for his conduct.

Woman's Pitiful Story. Mrs. Landmesser says she was induced to come to Omaha with her boy by her brother-in-law, who promises to make a home for her and do better for her than his brother had done. The woman says her husband deserted her at Atlantic, Ia., two months ago, went to Denver and wrote he would not return. Since the alleged desertion the woman states she lived with her father-in-law, who tired of her, but wanted to keep the boy. Then it was, she maintains, Arthur Landmesser intervened, and being herself alone in the world, she consented in the end to be married to him. Her only brother is a soldier. Arriving at Omaha two weeks ago, she secured work at the Eagle restaurant and claims to have supported the man since that time.

The mother says she is going to stick to her boy, for whom she feels able to make an honest living.

COMMERCIAL CLUB SMOKER

Plans Are Laid for a Busy Social Time at Club Rooms This Evening.

The Commercial club is going to have a good time Friday night. The entertainment committee has been hustling up a program and feels that it has a good one. Carl Reiter will be one of the bright particular stars and Frank H. Dunlop will be another of the well known local entertainers to have a part. Mr. Reiter has loaned the services of E. J. Flanagan to do a few stunts and Dr. Z. D. Clark will bring his banjo. R. E. Harris of Armura's will lend a hand and E. G. Magoff of Allison, who is connected with the Nebraska Telephone company, is also down for an event. Mr. Edison Phonograph will also be present and give a number of his impersonations and musical specialties. The party will be as informal as possible and anyone who has the poor judgment to get sleepy at 10 o'clock can drop out without breaking any of the rules. It is to be a smoker and entertainment.

AFFAIRS AT SOUTH OMAHA

Fire Limit Law Revived by Authorities for Spring Airing.

FRAME SHACKS TO BE CONDEMNED

Many Wooden Tenements to the Safety of Surrounding Property Are to Be Disposed of by Removal.

Some time ago the city council directed the building inspector to confer with the city attorney in regard to a number of buildings that should be condemned. In talking about this matter yesterday W. C. Lambert, the city attorney, said that while he had been busy in court for some time he was willing to see the matter of condemning buildings at any time the building inspector would make a report to him. So far Inspector Winegard has not made any report, although he has been looking into the matter of late.

A number of old frame shacks remain standing inside the fire limits, but the city officials seem to be indifferent about tackling the proposition. The city authorities say that the back taxes amount to so much that it would not be worth the cost to go ahead and tear down the shacks. It is the same with other old shanties in the city.

One of the city officials said last night that what is needed was a fire limit ordinance that will be observed. Many instances have come up recently where small frame buildings have been erected within the fire limit ordinance because the owner of the property is a man of some influence. Another city official declares that all the old shanties in the business portion of the city should be razed this spring. With this idea in view the council will call upon the building inspector to immediately take steps to present a report to the city attorney so that some action may be taken.

Police Should Act. Complaints made on a number of occasions that the police do not enforce the city ordinance regarding the dumping of street sweepings into the gutters. Every effort is being made by the street department to clear the paved streets from snow and ice, but the headlong dumping of street sweepings from stores are dumped daily into the gutters. The suggestion has been made that the chief of police direct the men under him to call the attention of merchants to the ordinance and request them to desist. The city council meets and passes ordinances that no one thinks of twice, for the reason that the police do not make any attempt to enforce any of the ordinances. It is stated that with little effort of the officers on downtown beats the dumping of street broken glass and other refuse into the gutters could be prevented.

Hard on Horses. The thaw is hard on horses hauling heavy wagons. These big teams are sharp shod and in traveling along the street car tracks the sharp points in the shoes catch between the paving blocks and pull the shoes off. Yesterday one of Cudahy's heavy teams lost two shoes in traveling four blocks on S street. Another team belonging to a transfer man had to stop frequently on a trip to Omaha to have shoes put on. The roads are in such condition that the drivers take to the car tracks, and it is there that the horses lose their shoes.

Want Another Fire Hall. In connection with the construction of fire department headquarters at Twenty-fifth and L streets members of the city council say that another fire hall should be established in the vicinity of Twenty-fourth and F streets. "A great deal of property is at stake in the northern part of the city," said Councilman Atkins, "and there really should be a fire hall located somewhere in the neighborhood of D, E or F streets. With a fire company in that locality the property owners who have fire residences would be protected to a great extent and the comparative safety would prevail." The suggestion has been made that bonds be voted for the construction of a new fire department headquarters and also for the purchase of a site and the erection of a new building for fire department use in the northern portion of the city.

Need More Vault Room. There is a need of more vault room for the storage of papers in the city treasurer's and the city clerk's offices. As it is now the vaults are filled with old records, and there is no suitable place to store them. In the city clerk's office old records are piled high and cannot be obtained without half a day's search. It has been suggested to the buildings and grounds committee that steps be taken to sort out and bring the old records and provide a place for these. In the city engineer's office many valuable records are kept on shelves which should be placed in fire-proof vaults. Additional vaults should be built for the storage of these arrangements made for storing records in some safe place easy of access.

Still Car Shortage. On account of the recent good sized runs of live stock the packers have about filled their cooling rooms. There is a shortage of refrigerator cars and consequently only small shipments of packing house products have been sent out from this market since the commencement of the recent severe storm. With the way transportation lines are working it is expected that by the time the coming week there will be plenty of cars in sight, so that packing house products may be moved without a great deal of delay. In the delivery of freight in the yards here the railroads are way blocked owing to a congestion caused by the storm. This trouble will be done away with in a few days and with the present warm weather the yards will take on their usual appearance.

Certificates Filled Yesterday. Certificates of nomination for the school board were filed with City Clerk Gillan yesterday. A. H. Murdock, chairman, and Charles Offerman signed the certificates. The nominees are: Dana Morrill, J. W. Lavery and Dr. W. L. Curtis. The expense account of these nominees should be filed with the city clerk before 5 p. m. today.

Hannigan Comes Today. James Hannigan, chairman of the democratic city central committee, has sent word that he will be in South Omaha today and will meet with the committee tonight. At this meeting the call for primaries and a convention will be signed. It was thought by some of the democrats that Hannigan would not return to South Omaha at this time and arrangements were made to obtain another man for the chairmanship. The primaries will be held on March 10 at P. J. Barrett's place. Twenty-fourth and N streets, and the convention will be held one day later. An informal meeting of democrats was held last night for the purpose of selecting a ticket, but no suitable suggestions were made.

Stouffer Seriously Ill. B. R. Stouffer, who lives at Twenty-second and H streets, and is one of the resident officials of the Farmers' Insurance company, was taken seriously ill yesterday. Mr. Stouffer had been complaining for some time. Yesterday there was a consultation of physicians and the diagnosis was that the patient was suffering from appendicitis. Brewer's ambulance was called and the patient removed to the South Omaha hospital, where an operation will most likely be performed.

Magie City Gossip. Emmett, son of Mrs. Wm. and Mrs. F. Russell, was given a surprise party by his young friends last night. Games were played and refreshments served.

John Zadina, thirty-eight and Jackson streets, reports the birth of a daughter. Mrs. K. Fowler, who has been quite sick, was reported greatly improved yesterday.

Belmont castle of the Royal Highlanders met at Eagles' hall last night and initiated a class of ten.

Dr. W. E. White is reported to be one of the candidates selected for the school board by the democrats.

Order of the Eastern Star will initiate candidates at Masonic hall on Saturday night.

The business club will meet in business session and then go to Council Bluffs as guests of the acre there.

There was a good attendance at the missionary meeting held yesterday afternoon at the residence of Mrs. M. Carl Smith.

Y. M. C. A. will hold a general assembly at the high school building for the purpose of arranging plans for an entertainment to be given shortly.

YEISER IS NOT A GOVERNOR

Doesn't Like to Have Ralph Breckenridge Call Him High Sounding Names in Court.

Ralph W. Breckenridge and John O. Yeiser are the attorneys representing the defendant and plaintiff, respectively, in the personal injury suit of Greedy Baker against Swift and Company. The two gentlemen were engaged in selecting a jury and Mr. Breckenridge was designating his brother counsel as Governor Yeiser. The term either recalled memories of unpleasant aspects of the case or John O. Yeiser in an offensive humor, for he took decided exception to use of the title Mr. Breckenridge was so freely tacking onto his name. Yeiser protested with vehemence and invoked the protection of the court against what in the highest class myself, and etiquette on the part of counsel. Counsel for defendant disclaimed any intentional disrespect, but Yeiser would not be appeased and Judge Redick, who had been anxiously watching the gathering storm, diverted the threatening electric by admonishing the gentlemen to be careful to avoid personalities.

Afterward the court, referring to his apparent anxiety, said with just a hint of humor, "Being in the highest class myself, and on Wednesday being spilled out of his rig and kicked by his horse, he was hardly in condition to control two such vigorous specimens of manhood as Breckenridge and Yeiser. Just ten years ago Eugene Yasey played a Roman senator, he is a Roman senator, a Roman senator, is really quite ill because of the asthenic character of his recent work in recent cases, and of course was not seeking to mix up in anything resembling a foot ball tackle. Being in the highest class myself, and with a man to whom peace is a pearl of great price," said the judge, "I was naturally quite anxious to throw into the scales the ounce of prevention that avoids so much cure."

The case is now proceeding peacefully but carefully, both legal gentlemen indulging in the customary sparring for position on the record with the usual good humor. In the afternoon plaintiff gave his testimony as to how a colored boy in the park the sharp points in the shoes catch between the paving blocks and pull the shoes off. Yesterday one of Cudahy's heavy teams lost two shoes in traveling four blocks on S street. Another team belonging to a transfer man had to stop frequently on a trip to Omaha to have shoes put on. The roads are in such condition that the drivers take to the car tracks, and it is there that the horses lose their shoes.

Announcements of the Theaters. Starting tonight "Uncle Si Haskins" will be the attraction at the Krug theater for the remainder of the week, with the usual matinee Saturday. There is said to be more fun in "Uncle Si Haskins" than has ever been put together in one single play. The story is a clever plot, ending with a genuine old-fashioned husking bee.

"The Sho-Gun," which comes to the Boyd theater for three performances next week is one of the cleverest of the present concertists. He has here an opportunity to do the freest exercise and broadest scope of his rich humor and has taken full advantage of the chance. Gustave Luders furnishes the melody for the Ade fun, and the combination has been most successful. Henry W. Savage, under whose direction the piece is being presented, has given it a lavish setting, the scene, Corea, affording a fine chance for the costumer and scenic artist. George Marion has staged the play with the most perfect of its movement. John Henzsh: heads the list of funmakers, and is accompanied by a fine array of talent. The dates for Omaha are Tuesday and Wednesday evening and a Wednesday matinee.

The bill on the Orpheum this week continues to draw and enthrall large audiences. Just three more performances remain, tonight Saturday matinee and night. Next week, commencing Sunday matinee, Orpheum shows, under the direction of Martin Beck, will be the special attraction. The advance sale is the largest of the season and indicates that the house will be sold out at every performance.

MUSIC AND MUSICIANS.

Twenty-One Young Men Receive Diplomas on Completion of the Course.

Every worshiper at the shrine of music who went to the Auditorium last night must have gone home with the conviction that he had spent two hours in the presence of a master, a consummate genius.

The great Kreutzer Sonata, which opened the program, was played magnificently, the adagio being particularly beautiful. M. De Befe gave almost an orchestral effect in the piano part.

The "Brus Concerto (No. 2, in D minor) is tremendous; more of a bravura composition, but with chances for exquisite sentiment which Yasey made the most of.

Of the group the Wagner-Wilhelm Parsifal paraphrase struck a responsive chord. So many people have been getting acquainted with the Parsifal music lately, it was in fact a revelation.

Yasey has made the Rondo Caprice of Guiraud peculiarly his own. He aroused such enthusiasm that the audience called him out again and again until he was obliged to respond.

His last number was the Vieuxtemps Ballade and Polonaise. He fairly lifted the house with his electric playing. It is a brilliant and great composition, the melody being most exquisite in the first movement and leading up to a regular Polish dance rhythm at the end.

Altogether the evening was one long to be remembered in the musical annals of the city. M. De Befe played three numbers and was well received. His accompaniments were particularly good.

The Auditorium was pretty large for such a concert. It is to be hoped that Yasey will come again very soon and that we may hear him in a smaller place, and if possible, with an orchestra. The concert promoters have scored another success and should feel proud of their effort.

PHARMACY SCHOOL GRADUATES

Twenty-One Young Men Receive Diplomas on Completion of the Course.

Last evening at the Omaha College of Pharmacy twenty-one young men received the degree of graduate in pharmacy.

Rev. T. V. Moore made the invocation and delivered the address of the evening, taking as his subject, "Self, Its Retaining and Development." Throughout his entire address he maintained that one's whole capital in beginning life consisted of self, and that the development of self be systematic and that it should not be developed along one line at the sacrifice of another. He said that in order to develop self it would require time, resolution and sacrifice and could not be done without a model and that the model must be an ideal man. As there was but one ideal man, Christ must serve as the model upon whom they may rely to develop their self.

Prof. Edmund Thoburn presented the diplomas and conferred the degrees. At the close of the exercises there was a banquet at the Calumet, attended by the faculty, alumni and the graduating class.

Following is a list of the graduating class: T. V. Eyrson, L. A. Adams, B. W. Watson, R. L. Gustine, B. S. Andrews, A. L. Pope, C. Anderson, D. G. Worthing, Z. Lilleahl, R. L. Beck, B. K. Bullis, F.
