SHIPP'S CIRCUS DOING WELL Children from Orphanage and Institute for Deaf Enjoy the Mat-

ince Performance.

Shipp's circus played to a good-sized audience at the Auditorium yesterday afternoon and evening, and the show continues to give the greatest satisfaction both to adults and children. At the afternoon performance the children from St. James' orphanage at Benson and the pupils from the Institute for the Deaf were the specially invited guests, and the way they enjoyed the splendid show was a sight to behold. The little tots from the orphanage were overjoyed with the sights they saw and the funny antics and remarks of the clowns, while the deaf mutes were beside themselves with delight and Arthur Adair, the musical clown, was one of the particular favorites with the children, and the trained horses and the educated bull, King Bill, fascinated the entire audience with their marvelous performances. Spring Suits

New Spring Suits and Overcoats Overcoats for Men and Boys-Now Ready

Today we announce the first grand display of New Spring Clothing for men and boys. The above announcement was practically forced upon us, for two reasons: First, there never was a time in the history of this store when we were so completely sold out of winter goods. Second, the demands for the past ten days by our customers for new spring garments have been so numerous that we insisted on immediate shipments from our tailors. While other stores are making frantic efforts to reduce their winter stocks, our customers can come here and make their spring selections. The newest spring styles that will be worn by men this season are here in great variety. The assortments are broader and larger than we have ever displayed before. Styles for men have changed materially since last season.

Coats are cut longer and in straight front effects. Altogether there has been an improvement in graceful lines and in tone.

All of the style changes are now authoritatively represented here.

Cures Unnecessary Pains

No. 1655 Eliot St., DENVER, Colo., June 20, 1904. No. 1655 Eliot St., DENVER, COLO., June 20, 1904.

I had been suffering from female troubles for the past nine years, and if it had not been for Wine of Cardui I would be suffering yet. My husband had to break up his business East to come with me to Colorade, as a change of climate was recommended to me by friends. Coming to Denver I felt some change in my appetite, but my general health was as bad as ever. I did not care to bother my husband to go back East as it would have broken up our home and business, so I had my family physician attend me, but all his skill came to naught. I asked him whether there was some known cure for my trouble and he told me there was a patent medicine but he would not recommend it. I noticed that his object was to keep me for his patient so I went to the drug store and asked for a patent medicine and I was told that Wine of Cardui was tried by some people with success. He would not guarantee whether it would fit my case. I have tried it and I can say that Wine of Cardui with plenty of fresh air will do more than all the doctors combined. I recommend Wine of Cardui to all female sufferers where no surgical of the commend of Cardui to all female sufferers where no surgical of the commend of Cardui to all female sufferers where no surgical cardial to the commend of Cardui to all female sufferers where no surgical cardial to the commend of Cardui to all female sufferers where no surgical cardial to the commend of Cardui to all female sufferers where no surgical cardial transfer and the contract of the commend of Cardui to all female sufferers where no surgical cardial transfer and the contract of the commend of Cardui to all female sufferers where no surgical cardial transfer and the contract of the commend of Cardui to all female sufferers where no surgical cardial transfer and the contract of the commend of the commend of the commend of the commend of the cardial transfer and the contract of the commend of th

WINE OF CARDUI

Every woman should know that there is relief from pain in every bottle of Wine of Cardui. That expensive treatment by specialists or change of air by traveling thousands of miles from home is not only unnecessary but unavailing, is proven beyond doubt by Mrs. Davidson's experience with Wine of Cardui.

You can make the same test of Wine of Cardui's merits that she made. You can be cured the same as she was cured. Wine of Cardui relieves woman's unnecessary pain. It regulates disordered periods. It invigorates the womanly organs, driving out bearing down pains, ovarian pains, nervousness and all female weaknesses. Ask your druggist for Wine of Cardui. One of his latest in "A Race for Life," which Sullivan, Harris & Woods have sent out with their customary care as to scenic detail. It admits of a great deal of this sort of treatment and introduces a very realistic horse race scene, the central moment of the play's action. It has a most villainous villain, and the trouble starts lmost as soon as the curtain goes up. But why particularize? Two rather small audiences were thrilled to the limit by the progress of the events unfolded in this admittedly lurid production yesterday at the Krug. The engagement was
