County Treasurer Fink Had Legal Right to Award it the Printing.

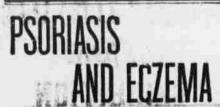

DECISION OF LOWER COURT AFFIRMED

Supreme Court Gives Legislature Some Pointers on How to Pass Laws Which Will Stand Tests of the Court.

(From a Staff Correspondent.) LINCOLN, Neb., March 5 .- (Special Telegram.)-The supreme court holds that County Treasurer Fink was within his rights when he awarded to The Omaha Hee the contract for printing the tax list under the seavenger law. Fink made this award,-which was the right of the county board up to a certain date fixed by lawafter that date had passed and the board taken no action. Then the World-Herald contested the case, applying for a writ of mandamus after The Omaha Bee had published the list, seeking to compel the county treasurer to award the contract to the World-Herald on the ground that it was the official paper of the county. The district court refused to grant such a writ and the case was appealed to the supreme court.

The opinion was written by Commissioner Ames, The court holds that after a petition for the foreclosure of tax liens under the law has been filed in the office of the clerk of the district court and the county treasurer has published the required notice in a suitable newspaper he will not compelled by mandamus to re-publish the same on the sole ground that such a newspaper was not designated for the pub lication by the proper official authority.

The court has given the legislature so advice relating to the passage of bills. I has declared invalid section 87 of chapter 19. session laws of 1961, relating to roads, because statutory amendment and repeal by implication are expressly forbidden by the constitution and not favored by the if sufficient water was discovered to sell The decision was given in the zourts. use of William D. The agonizing itching and burning of the skin; as in eczema; the frightful scaling, as in psoriasis; the loss of hair and crusting of the scalp, as in scalled head; the facial disfigurement, as in pimples and ringworm; the awful suffering of infants, and anxiety of worn-out parents, as in milk crust, tetter, and salt rheumall demand a remedy of almost superhuman virtues to successfully cope with them. That Cuticura Soap, Ointment, and Pills are such stands proven beyond all doubt. No state-ment is made regarding them that is not justified by the strongest evidence. The purity and sweetness, the power to afford immediate relief, the certainty of speedy and permanent cure, the absolute safety and great economy have made them the standard skin cures and humour remedies of the civilized world.

A board last named indictment, as soon as he was in the court house at Logan the affant was again arrested and held on a warrant issued under an indictment charging him with robbery, being detained against his will and forced to give bond for his ap-pearance. This arrest and detention the affiant believes wrong and unlawful and in violation of his rights under the laws and constitution of the United States. Dennison further swears "that after the commission of the crime of robbery charged by the indictment filed herein to have been committed by this affiant, and which was, in fact, committed by one Sherman W. accusing the affiant of the crime of receiving and aiding in the concealing of stolen property, this affiant came to the state of lowa and for more than three years between such time and the time the indictment herein was found, was for three years and more usually and publicly a resident within said state of Iowa, having within said state of Iowa a well known and fixed place of husiness, at which place of business he was usually, publicly and daily present, except Sundays."

Defendant Charges Fraud.

Besides holding that his arrest and de tention under the robbery indictment, after being extradicted on the other indictment, violation of his rights, affant contends that it is also fraudulent, inasmuch as at the time of the commission of the crime of robbery by Shercliff he was not in Iowa, but in Nebraska, and therefore the charge of robbery as made against him is not an extraditable offense, ad that to secure his presence in Iowa the indiciment accusing receiving and aiding in the oncealment of stolen property was found ag furnishing grounds for extradition prodings, and, furthermore, that these proceedings were had for this express purpose, the charge of robbery not being extraditable. In addition Dennison files an objection and protest to being called upon or in any manner plead to the indictment returned on the robbery charge, for the reasons stated in the affidavit and based, principally, upon his rights under the laws and constitution of the federal government. After it had been learned by the county
