AT BRANDEIS'

The new designs in Spring Millinery, as shown at Brandeis', reveal many charming novelties in style and trimming. Fashion's favorites are not strictly limited to one or two types, but there is the widest variety in style to suit varied tastes, each different class embracing absolutely new style features.

Brandeis' Millinery is, as usual, the foremost exponent of correct style. Omaha ladies have the advantage of the advice and talents of Miss Margaret Daverne, one of New York's leading designers. Miss Daverne brings absolutely new ideas from New York. Her designs are entirely original and exclusi ve.

The weather man evidently did not know it was Ash Wednesday, the beginning of a period of sackcloth and ashes. The day is not that kind, but rather a sample Easter morning. The people of the churches evidently knew, however, for they were out in number in the places of worship. In Trinity cathedral Dean Beecher closed be morning prayer and litany as follows: 'If we set out in this holy season with no purpose but the accomplishment of some triffing matter of personal discipline we shall accomplish no very great thing. In a laerge measure the observance of Lent is formal and unspiritual. Above all things, it is a spiritual reality-a season of prayer, of sincerity and of personal devotion. If you go through the forty days without looking prayerfully at your own method of living, if you allow too many things to come in between yourselves and od-if you go through the lenten period real thing. The world looks at the church observes? How are they to learn unless we show them by our own personal devotion, our consecration and our sincerity. You know what is necessary for you to do. No being on earth can advise you what to do to bring you more in touch with the spirit of Jesus. That is the end of life —to think of Jesus, to strive daily to bring us nearer to Jesus; to help to build up our religious characters so we will not become small and warped in our religious life. If we strive thus we can come to Easter day, bringing something real in life. Everywhere Christ will be seen working in and through our actions."

The day began with early services in the Catholic and Episcopal churches. Women predominated largely among the worshippers, especially in the protestant churches. In Trinity cathedral there was an early celebration of the holy communion, beother Episcopal churches will have meet-churches by the blessing of the ashes This long and solemn ceremonial began about 8:30 o'clock in the churches, especially those having parochias schools. In others the mass began at 9 o'clock. The inquiries from all over the surrounding faithful knelt before the altars and received the mark of the ashes in token of heir sinful condition.

GIRL'S SECRET.

"Aunt Cassie came to visit us and she saw I was nervons, had the fidgets all the time, and she asked me many questions, and finally said, 'Why, you dear, sweet girl, it's not your temper that's bad, it's your constitution that's out of kilter. You sit right down now and write a letter to Dr. Pierce, at Buffalo, N. Y., tell him all your symptoms'—and so I did. It wasn't long before I had a long reply, carefully going over my case and telling me just what to do. I date my present happiness and little Cupid's return to the very day I sat down to write that letter to Dr. Pierce, for his advice was so good and his 'Favorite Prescription' worked such a complete change in me that now my former cheerfulness and good looks—are restored to me. Man Held for Perjury is Allowed to Go on His Own Recognizance.

Alva Snyder, the self-confessed perjurer n the Ennis and Luikhart perjury cases, was brought before United States Commissioner Anderson Wednesday afternoon and released from custody on his own recognizance in the sum of $2,000. Charles W. Pearsall was summoned as a witness in the case as the court reporter who took the testimony in chief, and the subsequent perjured testimony upon which Snyder was ordered arrested by Judge Munger. Another witness was a newspaper reporter who was present in the court room during the time that Snyder's testimony and subsequent perjury confessions were made. Snyder was originally bound over immediately following his arrest in $2,000, and in default of bail was sent to the Douglas county jail where he has since been confined. It was pretty conclusively shown on a subsequent investigation that Snyder had been coerced into changing his testihus, there will be no profit. Defense Begins to Broaden in Its Scope and General Direction.

EXPERT TESTIMONY IS NOW COMING IN

Hypothetical Question of Forty Minutes is Submitted to First Doctor After Much Debate and Consultation.

That famous participant in important legal struggles, Mr. Hypothetical Question stalked into Judge Day's court room Wednesday morning and at once got into the Von Haller trial in a way to let everyone know he had come loaded. He was introduced to the court and the jury by Attorney Shoemaker, for the defense, with most gracious bow. He, or it, or they, at once got into the game with a query of such fearful and wonderful composition that it required forty minutes to discharge it at the witness, who happened to be in the line of fire at the time, Dr. H. Douglas

The new arrival was not allowed to get away with his dissertation complete and uninterrupted. When he had assumed, asserted, laid down and elucidated up to about thirty minutes of wisdom, supposition and psychical pronunciamento, County Attorney Slabaugh very rudely butted in and spoiled the harmony of the flow of language.

Slabaugh Starts Something. "Hold on, there, I 'bject," shouted Mr. Slabaugh. "You are not playing fair. Jefferis Calms the Storm. But Mr. Jefferis spoke soothingly to his colleague. Mr. Hypo, like Brer Rabbit, he lay low, but the county attorney's assistant, Mr. Murdoch, kept his eye on him closely. Counsel and court retired and argued as to the etiquette of Mr. Hypo's method of proceeding. He was found to be partially right, but also he had sidestepped some obstacles he should have kept in view, and he started over again without stumbling-that is, not very much, though Judge Slabaugh was not backward about putting straws in his way. Mr. Jefferis acted as a sort of referee or peacemaker between his nervous colleague, the court and the county attorney, and he acceeded in carrying Mr. Hypo along the point where he was quite through. Dr. Singer answered that under the circumstances he considered Von Haller an Slabaugh Has an Inning. When Dr. Singer was handed over for cross-examination the county attorney proceeded to hand out to him a collection of hypothetical questions which he had been a little more involved than Mr. Shoemaker's triumphs of the English language, as he cannot be understood.

Mr. Shoemaker, with cherubic cheerfulness, went manfully to the rescue of his witness, to protect him from the suggestive assaults of Judge Slabaugh. Even Judge Day had to take a hand, with wrinkled brow and eyes full of that troubled look, in straightening out and getting into plain view just what the county attorney meant but not from the witness, who really was puzzled as to how he could answer without offending the seemingly fearful rules of evidence that prevail in courts of law.

Altogether, Mr. Hypo had a field day and is still good for many more encounters. All the attorneys are his friends, if he behaves in proper and sensible manner. He sometimes, of course, does not work in just the way one would think he ought to Then there is momentary confusion. The dragging length of the trial is be

RELIEF FOR EVERY WOMAN.

3536 Flora Ave., KANSAS CITY, Mo., May 2, 1904. When I was about nineteen years old I had a serious fall and was injured internally. I noticed soon after that I was troubled with leucorrhoes, which kept increasing from month to month and causing great irritation and general weakness all through my system. I doctored for it for over four months and spent over fifty dollars without getting any benefit. I then tried douches and different injections without getting permanent relief, when Wine of Cardui was recommended to me. Before the fourth bottle was used I noticed a general improvement in my health and the discharge became less and within three months it had stopped altogether. My general health improved also. I have been enjoying perfect health for over a year now, thanks to your blessed medicine.

Miss Clark knew what was making her suffer and she had heard that Wine of Cardui had cured hundreds of other women with the same pains. What was more natural for her to do than to take Wine of Cardui? If you are suffering with disordered menstruation, bearing down pains, leucorrhoea or nervousness, what better can you do than to take this great woman's tonic, Wine of Cardui?

This pure Wine does the same thing every time. There is no opinion or doubt or danger. Wine of Cardui acts as a powerful tonic on the female organism. When Wine of Cardui is taken all weakness must go. Menstrual disorders are weaknesses. So are bearing down pains, leucorrhoea and nervousness. Wine of Cardui annihilates these troubles absolutely by strengthening and invigorating the organs of womanhood. Will you secure a bottle of Wine of Cardui today and take it in your home?
