JURY IN DOYLE-BURNS CASE

Better Progress Made Than Anticipated on

the First Day. CASE INVOLVES ALMOST A MILLION

Great Array of Legal Talent Lined Up on the Two Sides of Famous Case Which Was Started Seven Years Ago.

Greater progress was made at the opening yesterday of the second trial of the suit of James Doyle against James F. Burns, former president of the Portland Gold Mining company of Colorado, in which nearly $1,000,000 is involved, than had been anticipated. A jury was impanelled by 3 o'clock in the afternoon and opening statements had been made by counsel for both sides before court adjourned for the day. The introduction of testimony for the plaintiff will be commenced this morning. A special venire had been drawn for this suit, but a jury was secured without exhausting the regular panel. These com-
