COTTAGE GROVE, Ore., March 10 .- In the mail of the city marshal of this place yesterday was a letter, purporting to be written by John Fletcher, stating that the writer was tired of life and had decided e commit suicide and telling the marshal where to find the body. Fletcher was found as indicated with a builet wound in his head, but alive.

Developments tend to show that he was shot by John Branton, who, it is said, wrote the letter, the crime being for the purpose, it is alleged, of getting life insurance of $3,000, payable to Branton at Fletcher's death. Branton, while walking along the road, it is claimed, borrowed Fletcher's revolver on the pretext of wanting to kill a wild animal. He then, according to Fletcher's sworn statement, turned the weapon on the latter. After rest of the family to do the same. TOLSTOI ON COVERNMENT

Russian Sage Says that All Forms of it Should Be Abolished.

ADVOCATES PERFECTION OF INDIVIDUAL

He Condemns the war in the Far East as the Great Crime Against People of Russin.

LONDON, March 10.-Count Tolstol, in a letter to the Times of London, which will be published temorrow morning, says that said was due him because of a contract he regards not only the Russian government but all governments as 'intricate institutions sanctified by tradition and cusmany years ago to collect money due the tom for the purpose of committing by vio-state from the national government for lence and impunity the most dreadful sothe sale of public lands. The supreme court held of themselves "from the governments that the money Kennard collected was whose futility in these times is becoming more and more obvious." This object could only be attained by the unique means of religiously and morally perfecting separate individuals. The idea is prevalent that the evil accomplished by the "present particularly coarse, cruel, stupid and deceitful Russian government" is due to the fact that the Russian government is not organized on the model of other existing governments, "which are similar institutions for the committal of all kinds of crimes against their peoples." For the purpose of correcting this, the people had used all the means at their disposal, "imagining that an alteration of the external forms might alter the essence." Such activity, Count Tolstol says, is in expedient and unreasonable in that the people assert rights which they do not district can secure a part of the state school apportionment.

S. F. 127, by Enperson, a bill compelling.

Concerning the representation demands, Count Tolstol says:

The people in great mass still believe in autocracy, both by reason of inertia and because they think that only through autocracy and through the car can they attain this communalization of land. The present activity is pernicious because it distracts the people from the moral perfecting of separate individuals, whereby only can be obtained the objects toward which those who are fighting the government are striving.

One cannot participate in political action, which draws the people into intrigue, sub-tieffuge, strife and spite extending to murder. Political action not only fails to contribute to the liberation of men from the violence of governments, but on the contrary renders the people more incapable of the object of the present activity is pernicious because they think that only through autocracy, both by reason of inertia and because they think that only through autocracy and through the corar toward which these opposite in the corar toward through the object as the people in t War is the Greatest Crime.

The was which already moral individuals. The was which already has destroyed hundreds of thousands of FOLK GETS AFTER BOODLERS Russians imposes an enormous tax upon the labor of future generations. That which took place in St. Petersburg on January 22 is nothing in comparison to what is taking place in Manchuria.

In conclusion, Count Tolstoi says that in America, France, Germany, Japan and England the pernicious character of the governments, while not so marked, those longing to those nations point to events in Russia and naively imagine what is convene here on next Tuesday for the purdone in Russia is done only in Russia, while they enjoy complete freedom and in connection with the breeders' law reneed no improvement of their positions. "But," he adds, "they are in the most hopeless state of slavery-the slavery of charges. slaves who do not understand they are slaves and pride themselves on their position as slaves. The fact is that every coercive government is in the essence great and unnecessary evil. Therefore the aim of the Russian and of all the men should not be to replace one form of government by another, but to free themselves from every government and abolish it."
