Omaha is to have for its guest President Stuyyesant Fish of the Illinois Central railway when he comes here with a party of prominent railroad men to formally open the East Omaha bridge on Saturday, March 18. The Commercial club, will entertain the distinguished visitors at a dinner in its rooms, and the club in return will be given a special train to the scene of the ceremonies.

The engineers, who have been working for some years in rebuilding the bridge, finished their work some time ago, and the Illinois Central and the Wabash trains have been running over the splendid double-track structure; but there has been no formal opening as yet. Now the time is set for the 18th of this month and a party of prominent railway men will attend to show their respect for the new double draw and the plece of timber in which it is located. President Fish of the Illinois Central will bring with him Vice President J. T. The completion of the permanent double draw bridge is an important matter in the commercial life of the city of Omaha. While the bridge continued in its first form, in which a portion of the structure was of a temporary nature, there might be some fear of its abandonment. But now that the roads have put so great a sum of money into its heavy steel girders and

The Lininger Travel club on Friday afternoon made a brief but highly inter-esting visit to the quaint oil German city of Heidelberg. Miss Selma Chyne gave "A View of Heidelberg" (Mark Twain), while the club was refreahing itself on a low eminence on the cutskirts of the city. A brief sketch of the city of Heidelberg was given by Miss Katherine O'Leary. She ran-dered valuable information concerning the places of greatest interest. The club im-mediately upon entering the city betook liself to the world famous university. While there Miss Ethel Lewis told some-thing of the "Student Life at Heidelberg" (Mark Twain). Miss Maud Phalen eu-logized the college town in a recitation en-titled, "Heidelberg." After passing through many dark and grewsome corridors "The College Prison" (Mark Twain) was reached. Miss Anna Bethye told many interesting anecdotes of this place, pointing out, among other things, the caricatures upon the walls made by the students who languished in that dismal place. The next visit was ren-dered to "Heidelberg Bastile" and "The Great Tun" (Mark Twain), and interest-ingly Illuminated by Miss Odessa Dumcan. YEAR IN OFFICE WITHOUT RE-ELECTION

Proposed Abolition of Off-Year Elections Will Help a Long List of Present Occupants of Court House.

County Attorney Slabaugh and County Commissioner Kennard, among all the ocupants of the courthouse, have a right to feel like stepchildren, because they, alone, are left out of the wholesale gift distribution that would follow if the Perry-Warner biennial election bill becomes a law. This measure would eliminate the off year elections and have ballots cast for state, judicial and county officers only in the evennumbered years, and to bring this about would let all such officers whose terms expire with the close of an odd-numbered year hold over an extra twelve months. The officers in Douglas county who would penefit by the abolition of the off year election make a formidable list, as follows: Terms expire with 1905-Eheriff-John Power, democrat. County Judge-D. M. Vinsonhaler, repub-

Plan Not a New One.

Besides all these elective officers who would be given an extra lease of official life, all their appointees in the form of deputles, clerks, etc., which includes about everyone in the official life centering about the courthouse, would share in the handout to their chiefs. Of course all the inmates of the courthouse are interested in the project, which was first brought forth two years ago by the state association of county officers, who hired some lawyers to promote their interests in the scheme. The fact that at least one of these lawyers has resumed activity would indicate that either the association or individual members have raised another fund to help it along. The champions of the Perry-Warner bill justify themselves by asserting that the fficeholders will not be the only ones to be benefited. They assert that the operation of the law would save the state about $100,000 in election expenses every two years, and that of this amount Omaha and Douglas county would save from $12,000 to $15,000.
