1905. [1904.] 1905. [1902.] 1901. [1900.] [1990 HOGS—Receipts of hogs were rather light at all points this morning and as a result the market showed considerable improvement. At the opening of the market here prices were a nig nickel higher, but it soon became evident that the demand was of liberal proportions and as a result the market gained in strength and activity and soon became office higher. The close of the market was good and strong. Owing to the activity most everything was disposed of by the middle of the forenoon. The lighter weights went largely from $4.57\fo down, butchers and mixed $4.00 to $4.52\fo and beavles from $4.56 to $6.05.

Today's advance carries the market to the high point of the year to date and, in fact to the high point since November 10, 1904. Representative sales:

SHEEP-There was SHEEP-There was a fairly liberal run of sheep and lambs reported this morning, but about sixteen cars were billed through, so that the actual number on sale was rather small. Buyers took hold fairly well, so that most everything offered was disposed of in fairly good season. Anything at all desirable could safely be quoted just about steady with yesterday. The quality of the sheep on sale was not particularly good. Some fair ewes sold for $5.20 and some wethers and yearlings mixed at $5.30.

In the case of lambs, there was scarcely enough offered to make a test of the market, but prices could be quoted just about steady with yesterday. There were some part fat lambs on sale that went to a feeder huyer at $5.50.
