BALL AT DUBLIN

Exhibit of Irish Industries Opens at London-Duchess of Marlborough is Among the Patronesses.

LONDON, March 17 .- St. Patrick's day was celebrated in Ireland and observed in England much as usual. The Irish flas was in evidence generally, while Irishmen and Englishmen in London fraternized and sported bunches of shamrocks. In Ireland celebrations were general. In Dublin and other cities everybody wore the green and tonight social functions in the capital were even, more notable than usual, especially brilliant being the state ball at the castle, which was attended by leading Irish families from all over the island. Queen Alexandra recognized the day by presenting sprigs of shamrocks to the entire Irish Guards staffoned at Chelsea bar

The Irish Industries exhibition in London was opened this afternoon by Princess Christian of Schleswig-Holstein, who was accompanied by the duchess of Marlborough and other notable personages. This exhibition is an annual affair for the sale of Irish manufactures of lace and linen, and is always a fashionable event. It remains open two days, the stall helders including large numbers of Irish peeresses.

John E. Redmond, Irish parliamentarian leader, received a cable dispatch from Cardinal Moran of Sydney, Australia, proposing a home rule fund of $100,000 annually and guaranteeing Australia's share, The weather was miserable in England and generally fine in Ireland.

TURNERS WILL USE ENGLISH St. Louis Society Decides to Abandon the Use of German as the Official Language.

ST. LOUIS, March 17 .- The members of the St. Louis Turnverein, the oldest and one of the strongest Turner societies in the city, has taken action agreeing to conduct debates hereafter in the English language. For nearly ten years St. Louis turners have been endeavoring to secure consent of the national body, the Nord Americanisher Turnerbund, to conduct debates in English, but the national body has steadfastly maintained that all debates and other proceedings shall be conducted in the German language. The action of the St. Louis Turnverein was brought about by the election of Julius Seidel to the presidency of the body.

Mr. Seidel insisted upon a declaration by the society upon whether or not English shall hereafter be the official language of the organization. He declined to accept the presidency unless English was adopted. After a lengthy debate, in which adherents of both sides argued the point to a finality. the vote resulted in victory for the English

Mr. Seidel was then elected president and accepted.

This action is considered certain to bring the question before the Nord Americanisher Turnerbund, as it is declared to be in exact opposition to the edict of the national order on that point. A national tournament will be held in Indianapolis in June, and it is predicted the question will come up there for argument by the different societies of the country.

There are fifteen Turner societies in St. Louis and approximately 10,000 members and St. Louis is considered the stronghold of the national organization.

RISE ON STOCK FOOD CHECKED Change in Classification Postponed

by Railonds After Objection by Manufacturers. The threatened increased rate by the railroads on stock food has been postponed and there is every reason to believe that it will be reduced rather than raised at the July meeting of the classification committee of the railroads. This postponement has been accomplished by a convention of representatives of the various stock food companies which met in Chicago recently, at the same time with the meeting of the classification committee.

The clasification committee had eliminated classification on stock food in pails and raised that in cartons from the third to second class. The food companies saw that prices would be raised by reason of the raise in rates, thereby lessening competition and localizing trade. Concerns which now do business in many states would be compelled to reduce their territory to one or two states. So a meeting was called of representatives of the companies. Georga H. Lee, F. E. Sanborn, M. O. Maberg, Ned Pettit and E. J. McVann were present in the interests of the Omaha companies.

They succeeded in postponing the new classification until July 1, and a strong effort will then be made to reduce the rate instead of allowing it to be increased. Stock food in patis was put back under the old classification.

Putile Attempt is Made to Break Missouri Deadlook at Night Session.

No Man Able to Command Full Republican Strength-Cockrell Will Probably Be Re-elecetd

Today.

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., March 17 .- After taking five joint ballots and once defeating motion to dissolve, the Missouri legislature tonight passed the question of select ing a United States senator over until noon tomorrow, the day upon which both branches have agreed to adjourn sine die at 3 o'clock in the afternoon. Despite all statements to the contrary the democrats remained firm for former Senator Cockrell all through the eight bal lots taken today and tonight, while the republicans contented themselves with trying to force the election of one of the candidates who have been voted on last week. All the members of the joint assembly but ten were present, and these were paired. Kerens Gets No Votes.

Kerens, so far as his name was concerned, was not a factor in tonight's balloting, but his supporters remained united upon their selections, which unfortunately were not in accord with the views of the other factions.

The Niedringhaus men wandered from one candidate to another, never presenting a united front for any one man and their efforts to effect a compromise by means of senatorial timber which had been thoroughly threshed over for the past week or ten days were not regarded by the Kerens men, who claim that sufficient republicans remained loyal to Niedringhaus to prevent an election, even though all others voted for the harmony candidate.

Looks Like Cockrell.

Many opinions were expressed after the dissolution of the joint session to the effect that if a senator is elected tomorrow it will be former Senator Cockrell, as many believe that the republicans demonstrated tonight that they cannot get together on a candidate of their own political faith, and that the only solution is to return Cock-

It is reported that several columns of Japanese infantry, with cavalry, are moving north a considerable distance west of the railway with the intention of cutting the Russians from their base. It seems evident that the advance movement of the Japanese has continued for a long time and perhaps uninterruptedly. ## Fear Trouble in Warsaw.

WARSAW, March 17 .- Much uneasiness is felt here and at Lodz in view of the forthcoming mobilization of reserves. The government has requisitioned all the horses in this district. The workmen in the big factories here threaten to strike tomorrow and some of the men in the smaller factories walked out today. Japan May Borrow in Germany.

NEW YORK, March 17 .- Negotiations are now under way in Berlin looking to the placing of a Japanese government loan by German bankers. Advices to this effect were received by New York bankers today. The negotiations, it is understood, have been under way for some days and a definite announcement on the subject is expected shortly.

BERLIN, March 17 .- Inquiries made of bankers here failed to confirm the report that Japan has actually begun negotiations for a loan in Berlin. A similar report appears to have arisen simultaneously in Lon don, Paris, Berlin and New York. Although no negotiations have yet been made Japan is probably testing the feelings of Germany towards a loan. The German governmen does not seem opposed to the project, because Chancellor von Buelow today, replying to criticisms of Germany taking up the last Russians loans, said it was plainly private matter and that in the same way Japan was privileged to obtain a loan. NEW YORK, March 17 .- If satisfactory terms are agreed upon, New York bankers will participate with German financiers in whereabouts of Vice Admiral Rojestven sky's squadron has reached London. or nothing is expected from the appointment of General Linevitch, whose task is admitted to be almost superhuman.

All the St. Petersburg correspondents of London newspapers are most pessimistic. tral fact of the situation is that since the blessing of the Neva, January 19, the emperor has been a prisoner at Tsarskoe-Selo and never once has ventured to the capital. at He says:

In the moment of the greatest national emergency, needing the greatest sympathy between the government and the people, the ruler remains secluded behind triple bars and bayonets, as remote and absolutely aloof from the people as if he were in an-other planet.

Men Chop off Fingers. The Post's and other correspondents make gloomy predictions that internal troubles will prevent the continuance of the war. The Telegraph's correspondent says: the command to mobilize is obeyed war will be prosecuted indefinitely, the war will be prosecuted indefinitely, despite the failure to float foreign loans; but all things point unmistakably to the spirit of resistence growing among the people. Men are unfitting themselves for military service by chopping off fingers in such wholesale manner that Grand Duke such wholesale manner that Grand Duke Vladimir has turned his attention to that matter. In a word, I am positively convinced that an insurmountable obstacle to the continuance of the war will be found in the dogged decision of the people to prefer the risks of open disobedience at home to death in Manchuria or Siberia. This consummation will mark the simultaneous victory of the Japanese abroad and liberalism in Russia.
