 My dear Son
 I received your wireless from the steamer and your letter from New York. I am glad you are in such good hands and that you are having such a good time. Now that you are in America I want you to hunt up your uncle, my brother. His name is Mr. Smith and he lives in America. He is quite rich, I understand and might assist you. Tell him you are his nephew. Think happy and keep a good true conscience. Don't get discouraged for as you think so you will be your loving mother.
