Members of the county board, after read ing the article in The Bee of Wednesday vening relating to the peculiarities of the ecifications under which some of the tracts for supplies have been let, began oting some attention to the matter. In letting of the contracts little or no ention was paid to particular items. he general result in cost, based on preus experience as to amount used of any iven article, has been the governing facor in the letting of contracts for supplies. for a year. AFFAIRS AT SOUTH OMAHA

GREATEST IN HISTORY IS THE PROMISE

Indicate a Season of Wonderful Activity Among the Local Builders.

A building boom is on in South Omaha right now and unless there should be a sudden rise in the price of material dozens of new houses will be built this year. Otto Sisseman has changed his plans so that he will now erect a two-story brick building on Twenty-sixth street, just north of D street, instead of a one-story building. On the ground floor Sisseman will have three twenty-four-foot store buildings and the second floor will be divided into twentyfour sleeping rooms. The foundations for this building are now being laid. Jetter's building at Twenty-sixth and O streets will be two stories and be constructed of pressed brick. The cost when completed will be something over $6,000. Mrs. Lowry has taken out a permit for a $1,500 dwelling at Twentieth and Missouri avenue. Emil Gaul has under construction a two-story brick building at Twenty-fourth and A streets, to cost not less than $5,000. W. W. Fisher, a dry goods merchant here, is building a dwelling at Twentysecond and F streets, to cost not less than $2,500. J. W. Murphy, owner of the Murphy block on Twenty-fourth street, has taken out a permit for a $2,500 store building at Twenty-fourth and Q streets. R. C. Strehlow has under course of con struction three cottages on Twenty-sixth street between J and K streets. These cottages are to cost $1,800 each, H. Yost is R streets. Besides these mentioned permits have been issued this week for half a dozen or more small houses costing about $400 each. Permits for repairs are being issued daily. In addition to the improvements mentioned the Omaha Gas company has plans out for an extension of mains. The water company contemplates improvements and the electric light company expects to extend its lines to all parts of the city this year besides supplying Fort Crook with electric lights. Business men say that South Omaha is going to make a rapid growth this year. Sample Ballots Printed.

Sample ballots for the coming election have been sent by the printer to the city clerk. These ballots give the names of the candidates for the Board of Education, who are to be elected for a three-year term. City Attorney Lambert has given his approval of the form of ballot and the official ballots will soon be printed. The city clerk has ordered 7,500 sample ballots and the same number of official ballots.

The city hall and park bond sample ballots are also in evidence. The park bonds for $40,000 are to bear date of May 1, with interest at 4 per cent, and the city hall bonds are to carry 5 per cent interest for twenty years, if the proposition carries. Unless the city council decides to allow the public the opportunity of selecting a site for a city hall building there is very slim chance of there being a majority vote. Real estate dealers are working hard for the city hall bonds, but the people seem to want to know where the building is to be erected before they contract a $70,000 debt and the 5 per cent interest for twenty years. As for the park bonds the small property owners who have votes, do not think much of the scheme for the city to purchase Syndicate park with a promise that ground will be secured later for parks evening that the city is now being taxed $5,000 a year for the support of the public and that a tax for a similar library. amount will have to be levied for the maintenance of Syndicate park, therefore he was opposed to the proposition. Thinking taxpayers do not see where they will Plumbers Getting Careless. Thursday afternoon a report reached the ity plumbing inspector that the pavement on Twenty-sixth street, between M and O streets, had dropped a foot. Investigation showed that plumbers had opened the street to make water connections and that the money down can always buy to better ad- pavement had not been properly replaced. Notices are now being sent to all plumbers in the city to pay more attention to such matters. Mayor Koutsky said that unless the ordinances governing these matters are obeyed he would have to order the arrest of some careless plumbers. Just now the plumbers are busy taking up burst water pipes and a great deal of carelessness is shown in the matter of placing streets back where they were before excavations were made. Another thing plumbers are shy on is red lights at night. An inspector is now being sent around each night to discover such violations and unless the law is complied with arrests are sure to follow.

for city hall or park bonds at this time.

Sanitary Conditions Get Worse. On account of the clogged up sewer at the city hall building Chief Briggs has been forced to abandon the cage room of the jail entirely. Prisoners are now kept in the woman's department. A number of notices have been served on the agents for the building, but no attention has been paid to them. On account of the flushing of the streets sewage backed up into the city jail until the stench is worse than a packing house fertilizer room. Chief Briggs says that it is inhuman to keep men confined in such a place and petty offenders are being allowed to go on account of the temporary detention rooms being crowded. The city authorities agreed that repairs to the sewer should be made and the cost deducted from the monthly rental. It is expected that repairs will commence today.

High School Opening Tonight. This evening the formal opening of the new high school building will occur. The entire building will be lighted and visitors will have the opportunity of inspecting every room. Exercises will be held in the auditorium, where a musical program will be rendered and a few addresses made. Those who have gone through the building say that it is an ideal structure for a city

It certainly is a great "labor" play, although it takes more nerve than labor to offer it to the public. At that the upper part of the theater was packed last night, and the lower floor was fairly well filled by auditors who applauded the good brother and hissed the bad, and who went into ecstacles of delight over the doings of the insurance agent who is a little bit of a number of other things and guardian angel generally. Types of all sorts are put on as if in display, and the whole affair is made as realistic and sensational as the topmost of modern thrillers. It is a good show of the kind. WHAT SACRIFICE TRULY MEANS George F. Potter Expounds Lenten Duty to Large

At the second of a series of Lenten union services of the Episcopal churches of the city, Rev. George F. Potter addressed the congregation Thursday night at the church of St. Philip the Deacon. His subject was one especially adapted to Lent: "Self-sacrifice, Self-denial, Consecration and Dedica tion." Mr. Potter said, in part:

Congregation,

"When in reflective mood we think of the martyrs of old and compare their lives with ours, we sometimes realize for a period that no sacrifice is too great for us to make for our Master. But a moment later, God forgive us, the cares of the world rush in building a $1,000 cottage at Thirty-first and and occupy our thoughts, and sacrifice, denial, consecration and dedication are lost sight of. There is nothing but groping. blind groping, not after the bread of heaven but after the things of the world. The wonder of today is not that God calls on us to make a sacrifice it is that when He calls on us to sacrifice some little thing, we do it so meanly and grudgingly, and are no worse than the majority of selfstyled Christian people.

"The fact that we proceed so far along the line of a Christian course and then stop short accounts for lack of spirituality, lack of growth in the church, wonderful activity in the business and social life and wonderful inactivity in all which makes for righteousness and holiness. "We must not stop short of the best there is in us. We must deny ourselves and make sacrifices, we must dedicate and consecrate ourselves wholly to Him. What the church must have is the support of its every man, woman and child, with these principles in the heart, self-sacrifice, self-denial, consecration and dedication."

The next of this series of meetings will be held next Thursday night at the Church of the Good Shepherd, Twentieth and Ohio

Free Lecture on Vitosophy. Vitosophy will be the subject of a lecture to be given Sunday night at Washington hall by Prof. William Windsor, LL. B., Ph. D., the eminent phrenologist. He claims that poverty is a disease and can be cured But the fact that it is not regarded as a disease and no attention is paid to its proper remedy, has filled the world with financial wrecks. Vitosophy sets everything right by surveying the mental capacity of each individual and putting him in his proper place and vocation, besides indicating the limit of his financial responsibilities This work is accomplished by the use of a machine called the phrenometer, a late invention of Prof. Windsor's for examining the head, and he will each evening at his lecture make public examinations of prominent citizens selected by the audience. His lectures are also illustrated by the use of the illuminator, a stereopticon machine by means of which portraits and other effects are produced without darkening the room. As these lectures are free, no doubt the professor will have a large audience to greet him.

Carnival at Skating Rink.

Cavalier and peasant, princess and beggar maid, merrily jostled each other last night at a masquerade skating carnival at the Auditorium. Soldiers, sailors, Spanish dons and dancing girls were there also. Not a single conventional dweller of Omaha appeared, for disguise was absolutely necessary for admission to the floor. Prizes were given by the management to those who most distinguished themselves.

For beauty in costume the honors went to Miss Leona Miller, F. E. Goodwin, Miss Margaret Langdon, Harry Lefholz. Robert Ogden as "Mother Goose" and Harry Brown as "Happy Hooligan" took the prizes for comic dress. For impersonation, Bita Ross as "Topsy" and George Snow as the "Father of His Country" were judged the best. Honors for best skating in couples were taken by Harry Maelstrom and Miss Edna Chapin, F.
