ANOTHER SIGN OF GROWTH
Faith of the Citizens as Exemplified in Brick and Mortar.

MONEY IN NEW PUBLIC BUILDINGS
City and School District Invest Large Sums in Permanent Improvements During Last Three Years.

If men show their faith in the city in which they happen to live by investing their money in brick and mortar, the citizens as a whole show their faith in their city by their investments of public money in permanent public improvements.

Judged by this standard Omaha has plenty of confidence in its own future. Taking only the last three years, the city and school district alone have spent nearly $150,000 on new public buildings, and have additional structures to be erected out of public funds on the boards that within a year will add another $150,000 to the investment of public funds in public buildings. For one new fire engine house at Twenty-fourth and Cumby streets to cost about $35,000, contract is now being awarded, and active steps are under way for the preliminaries of a new school building on the Vinton street site to cost from $50,000 to $70,000.

New School Buildings.
In the three-year period named the school district built one new school house and started another not yet completed. The finished building is the Moonmouth Park school and it cost complete $45,845. It is an eight-room brick building of plain exterior. The plans were drawn by Thomas H. Kimball and Thomas Herd secured the general contract for $22,000. The heating

Cure for Fits on Trial

Here is the fastest ever made to the sufferer with epilepsy or fits. Deposit $1.50 with your druggist and get a bottle of Elzix Kosiene. If it does not help you and show that it continued use will effect a complete and lasting cure, your money will be returned at once.

Elzix Kosiene is the discovery of a well known Washington scientist, and this offer will be faithfully carried out. The remedy will positively cure epileptic fits and all similar nervous twitchings and spasmodic affections, no matter what the cause. If it does not do all that is claimed for it your money will be refunded to you and your medicine will cost you absolutely nothing. Elzix Kosiene is a scientific discovery, can be used by both sexes and of all ages with perfect safety and absolute certainty of cure. It is the only known cure for fits, the only remedy for this disease that costs you nothing unless it cures. Price, $1.50. Mail orders filled. Elzix Kosiene Co., Washington, D. C., or Beaton Drug Co., Cor. 14th and Farnam.

will not force the market gardeners to congregate near it and do business only in the vicinity. Competition of retail grocers, commission men and interested property owners has ruined the new market which was opened with flying colors and every prospect of success in 1903. This, also, is a brick building and Mr. Mincer drew the plans.

Isolation Hospital.
The isolation hospital was built by the city by day labor and costs, as it stands, including $2,500 worth of land, $41,117.48. It is not strictly an architect, but it is a fine isolation hospital and affords better facilities for caring for those afflicted with contagious diseases than do Omaha's neighboring cities. The building proper cost $10,127, and the water and sewer plants, including windmill, about $1,000.

A temporary frame fire engine station at Twenty-fifth and Cumby, built last fall, cost $2,098. It had to be constructed because the old brick house on Twenty-fourth, near Cumby street, began to cave in one day and had to be abandoned. Plans have been drawn for a $2,200 house on the old site by W. T. Mincer and bids have been asked and the contract will be let next week. The building is to be completed and ready for service by September 1. N. J. Hilding will be the builder.

Two other engine houses, one near the high school and the other in the vicinity of the Kirkman court-martial at Fort Niobrara will not have the slightest effect upon the court-martial. The rule of procedure in court-martial provides for a minimum of five officers of superior or equal rank to the accused on trial before the court as competent to undertake the trial. In the Kirkman case thirteen officers were detailed for the court, and the withdrawal of any number of members down to the minimum will not invalidate the trial, hence the withdrawal of Colonel Scott from the case will not interfere with the proceedings.

In the meanwhile Captain Kirkman is acting as his own attorney in the case, and from the fact that he has been frequently detailed hitherto as an instructor in military law at military posts at which he has served, is an indication that he is able to look after his own interests.

The findings in the case will not be made public until after the proceedings have been reviewed by the War department.

BOOKS BY NEBRASKA WOMEN

Honors Awarded the Collections Shown at Various Expositions.

MRS. BRIGGS HAS VALUABLE COLLECTION
Many Fine Works Are Now Credited to the Pens of Women Who Have Lightened Home by Writing.

Nebraska women have made quite a splash in the pool of literature, according to the records that are kept by Mrs. Mary E. Blatohley Briggs of Omaha. Mrs. Briggs has made a specialty of collecting the published works of Nebraska women, and now has a gathering of books, essays and other evidences of mental activity on part of the women of the state that is not only creditable, but is really valuable. It has been her pleasure to exhibit this collection at the various expositions of the country, beginning with that of New Orleans, when the showing was a rather meager one, and culminating with the handsome display made at St. Louis last summer, when a bronze medal was awarded. A similar honor was won at the Columbian exposition, Chicago, and real distinction has been achieved each time the display has been made.

Mrs. Briggs whose husband, John S. Briggs, was at one time connected with the old Herald, lives in Omaha at 2809 Bristol street. She has the keenest interest in everything which promotes the intellectual life of the Nebraska women. At an early day she became interested in the tentative literary ventures of women in Nebraska. She began to note the publication of such efforts and to collect them. Mrs. Briggs herself was one of the first among the immigrants to the raw prairie state to rise above the thought of homemaking in the wilderness and to express her sentiment of patriotism for the new home in verse.

Start of the Collection.
"The thing which I think of most now," said Mrs. Briggs in speaking of her collection, "was the very little we had to start with. It consisted of a few pamphlets, an exhibit I turned over when in the state to find what the women had done in the way of literature and it was very little indeed. That was in 1885, at the time of the Cotton Semi-centennial exhibition at New Orleans. The exhibit consisted of one little book of my own and a few pamphlets and papers. But we are growing. At the time I was made a honorary member of the World's Congress auxiliary of the Columbian exposition I felt the keen necessity of Nebraska women doing something in the literary line. I had imagined her to be being able to add much to the list from the Cotton state exhibition that would pass the criticism of the expert jury and be accepted into the library of the women's building. My husband was a printer of the old school and publisher, and he and I were omnivorous readers of newspapers. This coupled with a continuous residence in Nebraska since 1868 kept me in touch with what was being done in the state and aided me in obtaining the desired results.

"We found a number of women engaged in press work, as reporters, literateurs and serial writers, and many amateurs who promised well. We saw light ahead from this on and felt Nebraska might be very proud of its possibilities, with a sufficient cause for pride from the viewpoint of small beginnings. Our abiding faith and confidence in Nebraska has been justified. We have worked so hard in this land for its achievement along womanly lines when the fact seemed so barren and the work futile, but the fact we have won two medals for literary work shows advancement."

medal, which will be forwarded in a short time.

Among the books by Nebraska women exhibited at St. Louis is "Anecdotes of Omaha," by M. B. Newton. The author was principal of the Castell street school and the book was dedicated to the Seventh A class and was intended as a text book on local history. Another book is "Christmas Stories From the French and Spanish," by Antoinette Ogden. She was a teacher of French in the Omaha High school and is now traveling in Europe.

Sake, by Mary H. Maule, is the story of a boy's ambition and is dedicated to crippled children. Mary A. Rippley comes into the list with "Household Service." Ella W. Peattie is the bright particular star of the Nebraska women writers. Unfortunately she left the state long ago, so that much of her mature work is not included in the exhibit. "With Scrip and Staff," however, is one of the Nebraska books, and "The Story of America" is another. This latter is rather an ambitious work, dealing with romantic incidents in American history from the discovery to the date of publication, 1882.

Mrs. Briggs' Contribution.
Mrs. Briggs herself contributes some autographs and book of articles and poems written since 1867 in Nebraska, among them the poem, "Every Year," which was criticized by Henry W. Longfellow just prior to his death. The book contains a portion of a letter written by his daughter, Mrs. Charles A. Dana, and signed by Longfellow. Mrs. Briggs, who took an active part in the women's work for the Chicago World's fair, was one of those who compiled "Fame's Tribute to Children." This book contains autograph matter of a very large number of great people, and the first volume sold for over $2,000.

The Lewis and Clark exposition in Portland will be another opportunity for the women of Nebraska to win recognition for their literary work and it may be that an exhibit will be made. Mrs. Briggs has been an exhibitor at many places, but she has not yet made up her mind to make a showing for the Nebraska women in the west.

ROOM FOR JUVENILE COURT

County Commissioners Averse to Payment of Entire Expense of Institutions.

At the meeting of the Board of County Commissioners Saturday morning Mr. and Mrs. John Davis of the State Board of Charities and Correction appeared to make a plea that the board provide some place for the detention of juvenile offenders when it is necessary to confine them.

Commissioner Bruning raised the point that the county ought not to be called on to stand all the expense. He thought the city should be willing to bear a proportionate share. The matter was referred to the committee on court house and jail, of which Mr. Bruning is chairman, and the committee will report at a meeting to be held next Friday.

The clerk was directed to advertise for bids for 6,000 yards of grading to be done in Millard precinct. Bids will be opened next Friday.

County Engineer Edquist was authorized to employ an inspector of county work at $3 per day.

The board was notified that the new Snyder steel bridge will be ready for opening next Saturday, April 1. This is a 200-foot steel structure and it is proposed by the citizens of that vicinity to have something of a celebration in honor of the event. The county board members have accepted an invitation to attend the opening and will go out on the Missouri Pacific next Saturday afternoon.

Haveron Goes to Prison.
MILWAUKEE, March 25.—Former Alderman Charles S. Haveron, well known base ball circles throughout the country, being owner and president of the Milwaukee American association base ball club, was today denied a new trial and sentenced to two years' imprisonment in the Milwaukee house of correction for bribery. Mr. Haveron was convicted on a charge of accepting a bribe of $100 for furthering a special privilege.

DARKEST DAYS

Are Days of Suffering. They are becoming brighter for some Omaha people.

Many "dark days" from kidney ills. Backache, headache, nervous, tired. Urinary troubles—make you gloomy. Doan's Kidney Pills bring relief. Bring cure to every kidney sufferer. They are endorsed by Omaha.

Mrs. Catherine Henston of 1318 Izard street says: "I was not well for four or five years. My back ached across the small part and sharp twinges caught me in the kidneys when stooping or rising. The kidney secretions were irregular and contained brick dust deposit. When I read about Doan's Kidney Pills I got a box at Kuhn & Co's drug store, corner 15th and Douglas streets. They helped me right off and in my case proved a splendid remedy. I recommended them to anyone who has symptoms of kidney trouble."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States. Remember the name Doan's and take no substitute.
