A word as to what these schools actually did during the past two years. Over 1,500 different teachers and students enrolled in the five schools. A new world was opened to hundreds of teachers and prospective teachers in these western countles. Many county superintendents have testified to the better work accomplished in their schools as a result of the training received at these jumior normal schools. The hearty support given to these schools by the teachers, the liberal patronage and generous donattons from every city where a junior normal was located, the excellent service rendered the state by the principals and instructors, make a record full of credit and honor. The state never received so much good from any appropriation of $12,000 it has ever appropriated as that appropriated for these schools.

There is still an imperative need for these schools. They mean better teachers for these western counties. Better teachers mean better schools. Therefore, in behalf of the people of these western counties I appeal to you to make the appropriation for these schools at least $15,000, as it passed the house.

PREPARING FOR "PARSIFAL" Stage at Auditorium is Nearly Ready to Receive the Scenery for the Opera.

The Auditorium seems to be coming into its own. At least it is now faintly approximating the internal appearance which its builders saw in fancy when they started the work. The artists were busy yesterday draping green hangings with golden fringes over the front of the balcony. Shields and other devices will be added. The electric lights over the boxes are being equipped with red shades and the boxes themselves are being covered with green burlap. The stage opening no longer looks like the crea tion during the third day, but resembles very much a regulation stage. The heavy gold-trimmed red curtains sent on from the Metropolitan opera house in New York have een put up. The wall of the stage separating the wings from the house has been covered in with brown cloth, which will be backed with heavier material.

The stage itself consists mostly of rope. rope capable of handling sixty pieces of scenery. The ordinary equipment of a wellpleces. The panoramas work over two barrels, which will arrive the morning of the production. Thirteen dressing rooms have been arranged at the back of the stage and in the basement room below are the robing places for the chorus people, the supers and the lesser principals. Manager Gillan is making a particular attempt to satisfy the people in the matter of fire protection. There is being placed a hydrant in the basement under the stage and two stand pipes will be connected on, one coming up at each side of the stage. To each of these will be attached a fire hose and nozel, with agent would apply only to the ports of a fireman holding it ready for the fire to Take Laxative Bromo Quinine Tablets. All munication to the senate today:

Permit me to say a few words relative to the appropriation that should be made by the present session of the legislature for the maintenance of the junior normal schools. The last session of the legislature appropriated $12,000. During the past blennium this department has expended all that amount and in addition thereto $6,177.67, which was contributed by the patriotic people of Alliance, Holdrege, McCook, North Platte, and Valentine, and the counties in the territory of these junior normal schools. In addition to these donations these towns placed at the disposal of the state their school buildings and grounds, books, and apparatus, which in the aggregate represent over $100,000 in school property. I maintain that it is unjust to ask any more of the people of these towns than the free use of their school buildings, books, etc. The donation by them of over $6,000 is too great a burden and is more than comes back to them in dollars and cents.

Meetings in Finland Oppose Conscription-Peasants and Laborers at Many Points Rendy to Revolt.

ST. PETERSBURG, March 28.-2:30 a. m -The internal situation is causing great anxiety, though it is said that the "intellectuals" and the educated classes generally, disapprove of the revolutionary spirit which is permeating the peasantry and laborers in Poland. The Crimea is burning with dissent and the strong hand of the military force has been invoked to crush the incipient revolution at Yalta near the emperor's summer residence. The spirit of disorder has spread to Sevastopol Moderate liberals in St. Petersburg are becoming alarmed at the situation, reports having been received showing that an actual revolutionary propaganda is being pushed with vigor in many sections of th empire. The authorities of the government are closing the schools on account of the peasant disturbances.

Baron Von Nolken Will Recover. WARSAW, Russian Poland, March 27.-(1:58 p. m.)-Baron von Nolken, chief of police of Warsaw, who was injured by the explosion of a bomb yesterday, owes who threw the bomb behind instead of underneath the carriage. The body of Von Nolken is full of innumerable splinters of the bomb. His assailant has not yet been arrested. The man who previously threw a bomb into the police station at Praga, a suburb of Warsaw, injuring six policemen, is believed to be dying. He was injured by a fragment of the bomb, as well as by bullets fired at him by the police. He refuses to reveal his identity, but declares himself to be a socialist. The greatest excitement prevails through out the city. The man who threw the bomb into the police station in the Prague suburb was later identified as a man named Stephen Okrjeja, 18 years old and a resident of the Novominsk district. Baron von Nolken is believed to be out of danger, but he is suffering intensely. Further investigation shows the care with which the plans of the conspirators were laid. A number of persons of the poorer class proceeding on different streets in the direction of the palace just before the bomb was thrown were warned by persons evidently posted for that purpose to go in some other direction.
