BURNS CONTINUES STORY

Direct Examination Probably Will Require Another Day.

CROSS EXAMINATION SEVERAL MORE

Denies that He Promised to Give Doyle More Stock When Litigation Over the Portland Was Concluded.

The direct examination of James F Burns, the defendant in the Doyle-Burns suit, occupied the entire day yesterday and was not completed when court adjourned for the day. It is expected, however, that Congressman Smith will be through with the direct examination of the witness at noon today and he will then be turned over to Charles J. Hughes, jr., counsel for the plaintiff, for cross-examination, which it is anticipated will last two or three days. Mr. Hughes arrived yesterday morning from Denver for the special purpose of cross-examining Mr. Burns.

Mr. Burns, as on the previous day proved himself a good witness. While naturally of a somewhat nervous disposition his answers, however, are quick and decisive and at no time evasive. His testimony vesterday covered a wide range of matters bearing on his associations with the plaintiff and the history of the mining claims involved in the suit. In substance his testimony yesterday was as follows:

Burns Continues Testimony. E. M. Stevenson, who went to Cripple Creek with O'Driscoll and I, left us November 24, 1891. O'Driscoll, O'Haire and I relocated the Devil's Own on January 22, 1892. Doyle, O'Driscoll and I built a cabin near Wilson's creek, which we occupied up to the time of the fight with O'Driscoll and O'Haire. After that time we never went back to the cabin. Shortly after February 2 Doyle and I located some claims in Fremont county. Doyle and I went to work went back to the cabin. Shortly after February 2 Doyle and I located some claims in Fremont county. Doyle and I went to work sinking the discovery shaft on the Portland February 17, 1892. I helped Doyle sink that shaft at that time and he in turn helped me with the discovery shaft on the Prof. Gribbs. My sisters, Jennie and Kate, were the ones that supplied me with money duying the year 1892. During the summer and early fail of 1892 I tried to secure a settlement and partition of the claims with O'Haire and O'Driscoil. Frank G. Peck acted as the gobetween and on October 10 of that year O'Haire and O'Driscoil deeded their interests in the Bob Tail 2 and the Devil's Own to me and I conveyed the other four claims to them. Harnan uncovered the vein in the Portland at almost the identical time that I struck the same vein on the Bob Tail 2. In the early fail of 1892 Harnan offered to discover a vein on the Portland for a quarter interest in the same. I wrote to Doyle about the matter and he authorized me to make that arrangement. After Harnan found the vein on the Portland. about December. 1892, we went down to Colorado Springs, where Dovle had been since the middle of August, and executed a deed to a third interest in the Portland to Harnan. I had given Harnan the quarter interest in the Doyle and doing work upon it. At Christmas time in 1892 I sold Peck a quarter interest in the Bob Tail 2 for $500, and used this money in procuring, the patent on Bob Tail 2 and Portland. Doyle knew of this, Doyle never did any work on the Devil's Own at any time. Feck, Harnan and myself sold the Bob Tail 2 to Devereux and we received $1,000. Harnan had made a separate contract with Finn for his interest in the Portland. Condon. Stratton, Valle and Some others organized the Portland Gold Mining company. About the 20th of March. 1894, the purchasers said they could not pay out and offered to turn the Portland. nt county. Doyle and I went to work some others organized the Portland Gold Mining company. About the 20th of March, 1834, the purchasers said they could not pay out and offered to turn the Portland Gold Mining company over to us. There was a great deal of discussion about the ownership when all were present. It was was a great deal of discussion about the ownership when all were present. It was finally arranged that we were to receive 600,000 shares of stock for the Portland. Doyle received his full share of the stock less 45,000 shares that were issued on account of the Portland bonded lease, and 300,000 shares were issued for the Bob Tail 2. Twenty-one thousand shares of this went to Condon, Devereux and Crosby because of the cash they had paid, and the balance, 279,000 shares, was issued one-half to me, one-fourth to Peck and one-fourth to Harnan. Doyle knew of all these things at the time.

Litigation Over Portland.

Iftigation Over Portland.

In the suit of O'Driscoll against Doyle the Portland Gold Mining company was enjoined from paying any dividends to Doyle or transferring his stock. His stock, however, had most of it been transferred to Kate Burns as trustee. She received the dividend checks from time to time and endorsed them over to Doyle.

Witness they have the details of the deal Litigation Over Portland.

Witness then gave the details of the deal when the Black Diamond and the Devil's Own were acquired by the Portland company and said that at that time the cash commission of $25,000 was paid to V. Z. Reed. "At that time Doyle paid his proportion on 25,000 shares of stock, about $500, and I paid on the total amount of stock I received about $6,100. Stratton also paid his proportion. Doyle did not offer to pay any more. At that time Doyle made no claim of any interest in the Devil's Own or Tidal Wave. I never told Doyle that when the litigation affecting the Portland property was ended that I would recognize and concede his claim to any interest in the Devil's Own and Tidal Wave." Wednesday night the attorneys for Doyle secured a subpoena requiring James Munday, the witness for the defense who testified Tuesday, requiring him to remain here for further cross-examination. They desired to make inquiry into the correctness of some of the witness' statements, but yesterday decided they would not pay any further attention to him because they considered his testimony not of much importance. Munday had his grip packed and was preparing to start for Kansas City to visit relatives before returning to Colorado Springs when the subpoena was served upon him.

TWO HOUSEBREAKERS RUN DOWN Deputy Sheriff Groneweg Makes a Good Catch.

Deputy Sheriff W. A. Groneweg made a good catch yesterday afternoon when, after a long chase, he ran down and captured two strangers who had broken into the residence of former City Electrician James G. Bradley on Harrison street. The men gave the names of Ed Burns and Charles Moore, and from their own statements and articles found on them are believed by the police to be members of an organized gang of Burglars. After dinner yesterday afternoon Mrs Bradley drove her husband to the city hall and returned without delay to her home. On putting the latch key in the front door she discovered the door was unlocked, but that she could not open it owing to something having been placed against it on the inside. She started to go to the back door and on looking in the dining room window saw two men in the room. She gave the alarm but before assistance arrived the men, seeing they were discovered, rushed from the house and across lots to First street. Crossing the yard of Gus Helsler, Mr. Heisler made an attempt to stop them. when they each drew a revolver on him and warned him to keep off.

Deputy Sheriff Groneweg was driving on Washington avenue when the hue and cry was begun and he at once started to head the men off. At Scott street he saw the men making their way over Oakland avenue and he called to them to halt. They only ran the faster, and Deputy Groneweg. abandening his horse and buggy, started American railroad from Orin Junction after them on foot, at the same time tak- Lander.

MINNESOTA SEIZES COMPANY Affairs of Northwestern National Life Insurance Company in CHICAGO, March 30,-State Insurance Commissioner O'Brien has taken charge of the affairs of the Northwestern National Life Insurance company of Minneapolis. The action followed an investigation of the company's financial affairs, which were found to be in a serious condition, according to Mr. O'Brien's report to Governor Johnson, Commissioner O'Brien says, however, that with competent management the company can avoid bankruptcy.

At the direction of Commissioner O'Brien President W. F. Bechtel, First Vice President A. F. Timmel and Secretary-Treasurer Fred J. Sackett have resigned, and a committee of Minneapolis citizens, composed of Mayor Jones, former Governor Lind, B. F. Nelson and A. E. Earl, have been appointed to select their successors. The Northwestern Mutual Life Insurance company recently built the Minneapolis Auditorium building on the promise from a number of citizens to secure $2,000,000 worth of business for the company.

W. F. Bechtel, president of the Northwestern National Life Insurance company, began his insurance career in Omaha in 1887, when the Pythian Life association was organized, with Bechtel as president. On September 8, 1892, the Pythian Life amended its articles of incorporation and changed its name to the Omaha Life assoclation, with W. F. Bechtel as president of the concern. Later, it is reported, the Pythians repudiated the company. In May, 1895, the Omaha Life association was removed to Minneapolis and the name to answer the questions. The insurance changed to the Omaha Life association of Minneapolis, with Bechtel still president. During 1895 and 1897 this company absorbed four smaller concerns. On January 21, 1895, the National Mutual Life association was organized, which company later absorbed the Omaha Life association of Minneapolis and five other insurance companies. On January 31, 1901, the Northwester National Life Insurance company consolidated with the National Mutual Life and at the same time swallowed several other companies, all the while W. F. Bechtel remaining president of the parent company The Northwestern National company was examined by the Minnesota authorities last fall, which examination, it is said, did not satisfy the examiners as to the stability of the company. Local insurance men say the seizure of the company is no surprise to them at this time.

With Morgan Smith and Wife She is Charged with Conspiracy to Murder.

NEW YORK, March 30 .- The grand jury in this city today handed down indictments against J. Morgan Smith, Julia Smith, his wife, and Nan Patterson, charging them jointly with conspiracy. The indictments are based on a letter alleged to have been written by Julia Smith to Caesar Young in which, it is alleged, was a threat and a demand for money for the Patterson girl. This action by the grand jury followed a hearing at the criminal courts building at which several witnesses, including the widow of Caesar Young and Mrs. Young's brother-in-law, William Luce, were ex amined by Assistant District Attorney Rand, who conducted the recent trial of Nan Patterson, charged with Caesar Young's murder, which resulted in a disagreement by the jury.

WORK FOR THE FEDERAL COURT AFFAIRS AT SOUTH OMAHA IOWA District Attorney's Office is Preparing Many Cases for the Coming Term.

Assistar : United States District Attorney A. W. Lane will enter on the preliminary stages of his new duties Friday morning and will be formally inducted into his new office, succeeding Mr. Rush. Saturday morning. Mr. Lane is called to Omaha thus early by District Attorney Baxter, as there are a number of matters to be looked after pertaining to the ap-proaching session of the federal courts that need immediate attention. The district court docket has not yet been made up, nor will it be completed until about a week before the assembling of the May term of court. In the meanwhile the district attorney's office is busy formulating matters that will have to be called to the attention of the grand jury. There are at the present time a number of cases from the Indian reservation of minor bootlegging character that have already been referred to the grand jury by the United States commissioner. In addition to these the grand jury will be called upon to investigate the Maurice Bass case and two or three postoffice cases. Special interest will, however, be centered about the investigations into the land fencing cases, and from present indications there will be a number of these cases brought before the jury.

There yet remains to be tried by the approaching session of the district court, as holdovers from the last term, the murder case against Slias Woods, an Omaha Indien; another saloon conspiracy case against Ennis and Luikhart; a saloon conspiracy case against Harry Rasdell of Homer, the perjury case against Alva Snyder, and the land fencing indictment carried over from the grand jury indictments of 1903. These last cases will be among the very first to be tried at the May term of court.

Many Improvements Being Made in Southwest Part of City.

BURLINGTON ASKED TO LOCATE DEPOT

Extension of Street Car Line This Year is Another Thing Residents of that Portion of the City Will Work For.

Taxpayers and people living in the souths western portion of the city are expecting all kinds of improvements this year. The first will be the paving of Q street from Thirty-third west to the city limits. When this paving is completed a request is to be made to the city council to use its best endeavors to have the Burlington road construct a depot at the Q street grade crossing just west of the city limits. A bridge across the tracks would be preferred to a depot, but the city officials are in no position to ask the railroad to build a viaduct, as the crossing is not within the confines of the city. Another improvement to be asked for is the extension of the street car line to the end of the paving. After this extension has been made the property owners in Corrigan addition and those living south near the county line will ask for a street car stub to accommodate those going to and from work.

Already this spring the western portion of the city is building up quite rapidly. A number of new houses are going up in the Fifth ward and contractors say they have been asked for figures on a large number of small dwellings. The present price of building material and the general prosperity of the city is causing owners of lots to improve their property, not only west of the tracks, but all over the city.
